

WAR MOTHERS TO BE HOSTESSES AT WAR CONFERENCE

Plans Made for Patriotic Rally—Officers Chosen by Women.

War mothers of Wayne county will be hostesses at the War Council celebration in Richmond, February 4.

Some of the women will wear the Food conservation costume and others will wear the Red Cross outfit. A number of them will act as ushers at the Woman's sessions at the High School auditorium in the morning from 10 until 12 o'clock.

Officers as follows were elected. Suptor, Mrs. R. P. Whistler; Historian, Mrs. Harry Mather; Chairman of Finance Committee, Mrs. J. M. Coate. The appointment of township chairmen will be made later by Mrs. A. W. Roach, Wayne county's official War Mother. Meetings will be held the first Monday in each month. Each war mother was urged to organize knitting clubs and other organizations for war relief work in her ward. There will be no February meeting because of the war conference.

The following war mothers registered: Mrs. A. W. Roach, Mrs. John M. Coate, Mrs. Harry Mather, Mrs. Walter Dalbey, Mrs. Frank Glass, Mrs. J. E. King, Mrs. Edgar Miller, Mrs. Minnie Urban, Mrs. Lester Parker, Mrs. W. W. Anderson, Mrs. Ella Engelbert, Mrs. G. W. Neff, Mrs. Anna Walls, Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Pauline Jones, Mrs. Howard J. Miller, Mrs. Willard Werfel, Mrs. Edward Rodefeld, Mrs. E. G. McMahon, Mrs. Hannah Schlenker, Mrs. Jerry Miller, Mrs. William Plummer, Mrs. Frank Alkin, Mrs. Minnie B. Hood, Mrs. Maud Baldwin and Mrs. R. P. Whistler.

GREENSFORK, IND.

Mr. and Mrs. William Horney and sons, Kenneth, John and Raymond spent Sunday in Centerville, the guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Beck and family. While there the oldest boy, Raymond, was taken by Dr. Fouts. School was not held Saturday on account of the vaccination for smallpox. Rev. O'Connor of Centerville filled the pulpit at the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday. No other church held any services. William Feasel made a business trip to Richmond Friday. Dr. Fouts of Richmond was in Greensfork Saturday vaccinating for smallpox.

BETHEL, IND.

The Ladies' Aid society of this place served dinner at Mr. Beard's sale on Thursday. Owing to the snow drifts and cold weather, the crowd was small. Late Anderson, who died last Friday morning, and whose funeral services were held on Sunday, was buried Tuesday afternoon. Thurman Constable who is working in Richmond visited his mother here last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. George Baker of Palestine, Ohio, and Ray Knoll and Everett White were Sunday guests of Henry Knoll. Fred VanNuy of Seattle, Wash., who has been spending a few weeks with his mother, Mrs. Isaac VanNuy and his sister, Mrs. Robert Boren of Fountain City, left last Friday for his home. Mrs. VanNuy has gone to live with her daughter, Mrs. and Mr. Robert Boren, at Fountain City for the rest of the winter. Misses Opal Hodgins and Florence Boren spent from Tuesday evening until Thursday evening with their teachers, Miss Lillian Rice and Miss Belvia Newson, at Mr. James Robinson's at Whitewater. Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Miesell of near Fountain City, spent Thursday with Mr. Eli Hyde and family. Mr. Hyde is very poorly. John Tharp of near Nashville, was the guest of his parents, Mr. W. R. Tharp and family, Tuesday. Miss Letha Wolfsp spent Sunday with Miss Elsie Vanuergin.

Before you indulge yourself in any luxuries stop and think if you have bought your quota of War-Savings Stamps.

THOUGHTS TO THINK ABOUT

If poverty be a virtue, must it be a virtue of necessity?

You have pleasure when you please another; profits are shared by you together.

Be wise and always aim to be true; forget yourself in all that you do.

A genius makes his mark because he hits the mark; he applies himself to one thing until he makes that thing the best by a master stroke.

BRITAIN SETTLES OLD SCORE WITH GOEBEN AND BRESLAU

LONDON, Jan. 29.—England is still jubilant over the feat of the navy in accounting for its two old enemies of the German navy, the Goeben and the Breslau.

In an engagement in the Dardanelles recently the Breslau was sunk and the Goeben was beached to be a prey to the naval aircraft which finished disabling it.

The Breslau and Goeben, since they became a part of the Turkish sea force, have been known as the Midilli and the Sultan Yawuz Selim, respectively.

The German cruisers Breslau and Goeben were in the Mediterranean sea at the outbreak of the war and sailed into the Dardanelles, seeking safety from the British and French warships that sought their destruction.

Since then their activities in the Dardanelles at the Black sea entrance to the Bosphorus and in the Black sea along the Turkish Asiatic, have brought them fame for intrepidity second not even to the German sea wolves, like the Dresden, Seeadler and the Karlsruhe.

Reaching Constantinople in the middle of 1917, the British government immediately protested against the German warships being accorded refuge and Turkey promised they would be interned and placed out of commission until the end of the war. Later, however, was announced Turkey had purchased the cruisers and given them the new names of Midilli and Sultan Yawuz Selim.

Then followed frequent reports of the activity of the war ships in the Black sea, bombarding enemy land positions or being engaged with ships of the Russian Black sea fleet. Although the Turkish and German war statements frequently announced victories for the re-christened Germans, the Russian admiralty on numerous occasions told of how Russian war ships had sent them scurrying from the Black sea into the Bosphorus, damaged, on fire and showing the marks the Russian shells had given them. Shortly afterward, however, the Midilli and her sister ship again would appear.

The latest account of the Sultan Yawuz Selim was in July of last year, when the British admiralty reported British airmen had dropped bombs on the vessel during an air attack on the Turkish fleet off Constantinople to the Golden Horn.

The last account of the Midilli was in June, 1917, when the Turkish war office reported that vessel in a successful engagement, together with other Turkish units, in the Black sea against Russian land positions and small war craft.

Cut Out Praise of Kaiser in School Books, Urges Johnson

The following communication by Robert Underwood Johnson, famous editor and author and former resident of Wayne county to the New York Times, urges extension of the oath of allegiance to all civilian government employees, and the rooting out of all suggestion of Prussianism in literature and schools:

The general recognition of the fact that, while military service is the supreme sacrifice that one can make for his country, a not less necessary service in time of war may be rendered by the civilian, leads me to suggest that the oath of allegiance to the United States should be exacted of every one who holds office under the Government or is employed by it in any department or class of work. No one who is not willing to take the oath should be intrusted with valuable information, or with the preparation or care of official records, or with the manufacture of ammunition, military equipment, or material for ships, or with any other official responsibility. A willful dereliction in such regard should be made treason in fact, as it is treason in intent. It is said that this would greatly reduce the number of foreign workmen now eligible for employment at navy yards and powder factories, the reply is that, with the knowledge of the penalty that it would imply, in the long run it would tend to prevent the destruction of such factories, now so frequent, besides increasing the dignity of the country in the eyes of working people, and their sense of its power and self-respect.

I believe that the time has come to "put none but Americans on guard."

No teacher should be considered worthy to form the minds of children who is not willing to proclaim allegiance to the country. It would be rampant chauvinism to oppose the teaching of foreign languages in America altogether, but this secondary education should be carried on later outside the public schools, which in large cities have been used to propagate un-American principles and ideas. The German language has become the medium of a fundamentally false philosophy. From being the vehicle of a noble literature it has been used as a system of propaganda for the new Germany.

Not the Germany, we knew—Lessing's heart and Goethe's mind, Schiller's vision, far and true. And the peace that Kant divined, But the land of lords and braves—Half of masters, half of slaves.

In dealing with this peril we have been fatuously weak and sentimental. America cannot be made safe for democracy so long as opinions and admirations antagonistic to democracy are insidiously inculcated at the formative period of life. If we believe that representative government, however it may have failed here and there for lack of popular vigilance, is still the hope of mankind, we should enlist vigorously in its support every available agency, as Prussianism has malevolently been doing in the support of the outgrown system of divine right. I can think of nothing of more immediate importance than the elimination from the New York schools of text-books that contain praise of the Kaiser and the policies of the Fatherland. This ought to be considered the "unfinished business" of the City Government and of every organization for civic reform, until such books are collected and cremated in the City Hall Park.

ROBERT UNDERWOOD JOHNSON.
New York, Jan. 24, 1918.

HAD THE GRIP THREE WEEKS

With January comes lagrippe. Lingering colds seem to settle in the system, causing one to ache all over, feel feverish and chilly, tired, heavy and drooping. Mrs. Lizzie Tyles, Henderson, Ky., writes: "My daughter had lagrippe for three weeks. I had the doctor and bought medicine and none of it did any good. I gave her Foley's Honey and Tar and now she is all right. I have told all my friends about it." Insist on the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar. For sale by A. G. Luken & Co.

EATON DRUG STORES CLOSE AT 6 O'CLOCK

EATON, O., Jan. 29.—In compliance with the amended federal order, groceries closed here Monday at noon, as did other houses handling foodstuffs. Drug stores are now closing at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Under modification of a city order, the picture shows are permitted to operate Monday and Saturday evenings. Billiard and pool rooms were open Monday, but closed Tuesday. The fuel situation is little improved.

FALL DOWN STAIRS RESULTS FATALY

Mrs. Jean Powers, 76 years old, died Monday afternoon at the home of her son, Fred Powers, 230 North Eighth street, after a three weeks illness. Mrs. Powers fell down stairs several weeks ago and has been in poor health since, later developing pneumonia.

Mrs. Powers is the widow of R. B. Powers and until several years ago has been a resident of this city. She had been living with her daughter, Mrs. Dan McCarthy in Cincinnati, O., for the last ten years and had come to Richmond to spend the winter. She is survived by her two children.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation.
