There are so many flabby minded people in the world whose perceptions are no deeper than the surface culture acquired by the bland utterances common to social intercourse and whose standards of the eternal fitness of things are based entirely on the social activities in which "We and I" are the principal limelights.

That the Red Cross and other organizations are doing a sacred and necessary work is conceded and has always received the financial support and encouragement of all those who could not for various good reasons otherwise participate in them—but their other avenues quite as honorable and work just as necessary done by those whose patriotism is of the sort that gives due honor to any and all generally recognized means that aids in this war. There are only two kinds of people in America now—loyalist and pro-German—and the loyalist does not censure and denounce the general methods of defense and protection used by the whole country.

"Really patriotic people" destroy the seed of sedition—they don't wait until it develops into a two-listed man-size proposition.

"May be loyalists" who pick at Americans have no status in war atmosphere tense with the high pressure produced by a realization of facts.

"Real preparedness" don't mouth platitudes while the other fellow is lighting a time fuse behind his back. Sentiment in war without the energy to back it up don't stop the German war-machine from its regular occupation of blowing up manufacturing plants, poisoning meat, instigating strikes, firing ship yards and perfecting a scheme for our complete demoralization right here in America.

When Satan instigated a rebellion against God and seduced the angels with his nefarious scheme, God was "high minded" enough to throw the

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of mess.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

whole pile of them out headforemost into a hell which He had prepared for them. This is the sort of "high mindedness" that saved heaven for peace and made it a safe place for the good to live in. I rather think He "arrayed" wonderfully decisive and energetic measure against traitors.

One of the best loved songs of the civil war was, "John Brown's body lies a-moldering in the grave" and the verse which echoed with triumphant patriotism from thousands of civil war soldiers was, "We'll hang Jeff Davis on a sour apple tree as we go marching on."

That verse typifies today as it did in the days of the Civil war the determination of Americans to deal with the arch-traitor of the world and those in sympathy with him in the good old-fashion effective way.

A language that fosters German ideas and inculcates in our children any respect for German promotion is one of the most insidious means of presenting German ideas of superiority that can well be imagined. German literature is not essential to education, culture or refinement, and I can produce its equal in any line and surpass it in most, whether of art, sculpture, music, science or any sort of classical production. I do not seem to hear Mrs. Foulke nor Mr. T. B. Jenkins making any moan over the sacking of Louvain, Belgium, by the Germans or calling Richmond's attention to the insensate rage of the Germans when they destroyed the priceless library of that city. And this outrage was not perpetrated for the sake of preserving traditional loyalty of the German peoples to their country but was an exhibition of wanton vandalism characteristic of their attitude toward all who oppose them, and yet—because we here in America dare to repudiate the German Kultur among us, we are called "silly" and "prejudiced" by a man who has the effrontery to announce himself as a "pure strain" American, and a woman who imagines herself immune while promoting the Kaiser's interests.

How do you appear before the masses who are the blood and sinews in this conflict and before Uncle Sam's soldiers who have offered their lives that you may continue to knit sweaters in security while mourning the destruction of the German language among us and voicing your indignation at the hanging of the Kaiser even in effigy?

Whatever else may be said, those who participated in that joyous event were Americans all, with a "righteousness that exceeded the righteousness of the Pharisee."

Why are Germans and German lit-

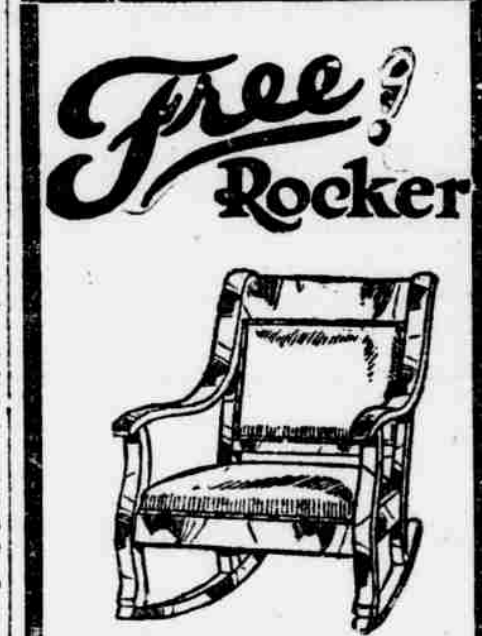

THE TRUTH ABOUT ECZEMA AND PILES

ature defended by you when the rest of America is doing her utmost to awaken American sentiment and to solidify American opinions and principles that are as vitally necessary to our success in this war as bandages, sweaters, guns and ammunition? Nay, if all these come not in unity and force all other preparations lose half its power.

Public utterances which denounce the object lessons that impress every American child and adult, with the supreme necessity for unanimity of thought, purpose and preparation places you in an equivocal light and shows a puerile Americanism which every patriot has the right to repudiate. MRS. W. W. ZIMMERMAN.

At Home, Feb. 18, 1918.

Mr. Herbert Hoover.

Dear Sir—At a meeting of our club as usual, the latest development in food conservation was talked about. The methods of using wheat flour and its substitutes, and the difficulty of adapting strict rules so that our families would be properly nourished, was a topic of conversation.

The majority of the women of our nation are endeavoring to comply with the directions you give from time to time, as to the best manner of conserving food, and we wish to help to the best of our ability.

It is evident, however, that we can be of as much service to our country and to the interest of the Allies, if we could be granted more initiative, and be pardoned if we consider the taste and pleasure of our individual families, in the combination of the materials we are requested to use.

We cannot understand why it would not tend for efficiency, for you to state the amount of wheat flour per size of family, it would be right for a housewife to use, and permit her to combine it with other grains, or serve it pure, and use the substitutes you recommend, in any way her judgment dictates, instead of being obliged to adulterate the wheat loaf with corn meal or other ingredients.

Now, for example, my husband cheerfully adapts himself to the conservation program in mist cases, but he rebels when wheat and corn meal are mixed. He will eat corn bread in most any form, in an unadulterated state and call it good. And the same way with wheat.

We can use barley, rye, rice, etc., and eliminate wheat to the extent you consider necessary, but, O so much more comfortably and efficiently if we may use our own judgment as to time and manner of serving.

If the food prepared does not suit the palate, nor appeal to the reason of those for whom it is provided, and thereby is not used, what then? I suppose the women are wasteful.

Remember, please, that housewives from times long past, have aimed to set before their men food prepared to suit their taste, and do not handicap us more than the situation indicates.

Respectfully yours, to help win the war,

ALLIS M. I. SMITH.

R. R. B. Cambridge City.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of Limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.—Adv.
