AMERICANS CAN FIGHT, GERMANS HAVE LEARNED

Hun Press Correspondents Are Beginning to Take Yanks Very Seriously.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 7.—The Americans are filling a continually growing amount of space in the battle narratives of the German war correspondents. The former semi-contemptuous references to their scanty number or fighting spirit are now rare. They are being taken very seriously.

Both Schuermann and Dr. Koester, who write for the Frankfurt Gazette and the Berlin Vorwaerts, respectively, report on the testimony of German soldiers themselves that the Americans are cool and daring in attack, although at times over rash, and despite losses, will come on again; so that the Baden, Wurttemberg and Alsace-Lorraine troops who opposed them in the recent Argonne fighting, reap extra praise for holding out as long as they did.

One Baden regiment is reported to have performed what is asserted to be the remarkable feat of "for a moment causing a whole American division to waver," and was only stopped by fresh American reserves and the advent of sixty battle planes.

The American attacks, whenever they occur, are represented as failures by these correspondents. Schuermann says that the latest he hears is that Metz—whose new governor, Lieutenant General Lequis, was appointed yesterday—is to be a Christmas present for President Wilson.

Describing the Argonne fighting, the feature of which was the employment of large numbers of light tanks, Schuermann says that the Americans thought tank war good sport. The Germans thought it equally good sport to pick them off with tank guns and mines and especially with hand grenades.

The American prisoners, Koester says, behave quietly and decently. The officers say, according to Koester, that America had no grudge against the German people and when asked whether America would have come in if there had been no U-boat war, they shrug their shoulders.

S. A. L. SMOKER IS CALLED OFF

The Saturday Afternoon League Smoker that was scheduled for this evening has been called off by Sam Vignar because of the order of Dr. Bulla closing all public meetings.

INVESTIGATE SHIPMENTS

The Dayton and Troy Electric railway is believed to be accepting freight from Dayton. The Commercial Club has been advised that there has been no change in the embargo placed upon this railway for shipment. Secretary Ullman of the Commercial Club will probably go to Dayton or if necessary to Springfield, to see W. S. Whitney concerning this matter.

GREAT LAKES TEAM AFTER CHAMPIONSHIP

GREAT LAKES, Oct. 7.—Great Lakes is ready to travel 2,000 miles to land the naval baseball championship of America. Holders of the Eastern title through successive decisions over the crack Atlantic Fleet and the Norfolk club, the Great Lakes Naval Training Station has issued a challenge to the Mare Island, Cal., champions for a post-season series.

According to the plans of Lieutenant (J. G.) John Lavan, manager of the Station club, the trip west will be a series of short jumps if enough games can be booked with army cantonment teams enroute.

For example, the Camp Pike team at Little Rock has accepted a two-game series. Guy Morton, of the Cleveland Americans is running the Pike team, and he recently engineered a successful set of games against Camp Funston. With Morton and Ray Schmidt, of Brooklyn, Muddy Ruel of the New York Americans and big Bill Fincher, of the Browns, they claim the strongest team in America.

They are more than eager to meet the Great Lakes with its array of big leaguers such as Faber, Lavan, Thomas, Dyer, Johnson and Clemons. Out on the coast at Mare Island, however, is the main objective of the navy-Duffy Lewis club which includes Earl Hamilton, Rowdy Elliott, Swede Risberg, Howard Elmke and Fred McMullin. A victory over Mare Island and the naval title goes undisputed to the big inland station of Lake Michigan.

ALL-STAR TEAM DEFEATS CHAMPS

The All-Stars of the S. A. L., and the Champion Simplexers fought out a benefit game Sunday afternoon, the All-Stars winning out to the tune of 4-1.

The All-Stars were mainly Natco players and the Simplexers had players from the other S. A. L. clubs. The Simplexers used four hurlers during the game, Sturm, Long, Minner and Dunham. Hawekotte did the hurling for the National Automatics or the All-Stars. Hawekotte allowed four hits while the four Simplex hurlers allowed seven men to cross the plate. Each hurler walked a man. The longest hit of the game was a two-bagger by Johnny Holmes in the seventh inning which knocked in a run and Holmes himself scored immediately afterwards.

In the sixth inning the Natcos scored the first game of the season when Hewitt singled and scored on a passed ball and an error.

Three more runs were scored by the National Automatic in the seventh when Cooney walked and Holmes drove him in with a two-bagger and John Logan singled scoring Holmes. Logan scored by way of the passed ball error route.

The Simplexers scored in the eighth when Craycraft reached first on an error and was pushed on to second when Clapp walked and crossed the plate on a passed ball.

The scores: R. H. E. Simplexers.....000 000 010—1 4 7 Natco.....000 001 30—4 7 5 Batteries—Sturm, Long, Minner, Dunham and Craycraft; Hawekotte and Fine.

"I am beginning to learn a little French but can not talk it or understand it all, yet.

Private Donald B. Hunt, of medical unit No. 20, has arrived overseas, according to word received by Mrs. E. P. Hunt, of Easthaven avenue.

"We have it as good over here as back at home excepting we sleep in our pup tents and I don't mind that at all," Private Henry Horn, a member of the 22nd Ambulance Company of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, wrote home to his parents.

The letter follows: Somewhere in France, Dear Folks—Will write you a few lines to let you know I have arrived safely in France.

We have it as good over here as we did over there excepting we sleep in our pup tents and I don't mind that at all.

The country over here is very odd.

but beautiful. I have not seen a frame house since I arrived; everything is built of stone. And wire fences are never seen, excepting around prisons as in the United States. They have dirt piled up around fields. The fields are about one-third as large as they are there but they are very nice at that. It makes the scenery very pretty as the fences are all green. I am writing on my meke-kit and in my pup tent. It is pretty cool at nights over here.

PRIVATE HENRY W. HORN.
