

BOMBING RAIDS FAIL TO BOTHER WOUNDED YANKS

Refused to Leave Hospital
Bombed by Huns Until Compelled by Nurses.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Tuesday, Oct. 24.—American wounded soldiers who were in the American hospital near which German bombing planes dropped explosives in the neighborhood of Rarecourt last night were so little concerned by the raid that they refused to leave the building and enter dugouts until compelled to do so by the nurses.

Discussing this cheerful attitude on the part of the doughboys, Margery Sawyer, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mabel Butler, of New Haven, Conn., Red Cross nurses, said they found these men some of whom had come in from the front lines only a few hours previously, as calm as though the hospital had been damaged by bombs and the wards were filled with smoke.

The first thoughts of these nurses were regarding the wounded. Neither one had previous experience under enemy bombing operations and expected when they hurried to the wards to find the doughboys panic stricken.

"I had gone to bed early," Miss Sawyer said. "I was aroused by the alarm of an air raid, but some one suggested that the Germans were merely passing by. Then there was a terrific explosion, followed by an upheaval of my cot, and I was tossed across the room, glass falling all around me, and rocks and dirt, too. I have cared for many gas patients and have heard their stories. The room was filled with smoke and I thought of gas, and that scared me more than anything else."

Then Miss Butler came and we went to assist the patients."

Miss Butler said she was attending one of the soldiers when the first bomb struck within twenty-five feet of the building in which Miss Sawyer lay in bed. "We simply had to drive the doughboys into the dugouts," Miss Sawyer said. "One, whom I aroused, said bombs meant nothing to him and insisted on turning over and going to sleep."

England to See That Interned Aliens Do Not Remain After the War

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 24.—Replying to Mr. Kennedy Jones, in the house of commons, Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, stated today that a government committee had carefully considered the question of preventing enemy aliens interned in England from remaining here after the war. It was undesirable to discuss the matter at the present time, he said, but the government's proposals would be introduced in good time.

Replying, General Arthur Cave said that if the German government sanctioned further brutalities to British prisoners this would amount to a deliberate rejection of our recent demands and the government would be prepared to take immediate action.

Hans Force Russians to Work Behind Firing Line on Western Front

(By Associated Press)
BRUGES, Oct. 24.—A fresh and striking instance of the inhumanity of the German authorities has been discovered by Belgian soldiers in liberated territory. They found a large number of Russian soldiers, who were captured three years ago, at work with German labor companies. The Russians had been treated with the utmost brutality and forced to labor behind the firing line. They were utterly ignorant of the Russian revolution, the death of Emperor Nicholas, or of the Brest-Litovsk treaty of peace.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to flush kidneys and neutralize irritating acids—
Splendid for system.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—Adv.
