

Heart Home problems

by MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am an orphan girl and have always had a hard time of it. In school the teachers always nagged at me. I could not get my lessons. The school children all made fun of me until it threw me into a nervous breakdown, and have been nervous ever since. I have been sick for the last twelve years until I am just miserable. My sister treated me mean. We always fought, but she was well thought of and the people all blamed me, but of course I came out all right and she sees her mistake, but it has turned me against her.

I have got into the habit of thinking about my past life until it makes my face have a mean expression. Please tell me some way I can forget my troubles or I will go wild.

Love and smiles will soon blot out the disagreeable expression.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I used to go with a fellow who was certainly fine to me in every respect. He was also very much admired by everyone. He used to take me auto riding almost every evening last summer and then all of a sudden he stopped coming and started to go with another girl. I don't know what I did to offend him. It has been two months since I have heard from him at all. Shall I write or call him up and ask what is the matter?

Do not write or phone him. It is evident that he became more interested in the other girl or he would not have given you up so completely.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a young lady whom I admire very much. One night I had an engagement with her which I wanted to break and lied out of it. This lie has always hurt my conscience. Shall I tell her about it now?

It will hardly be necessary to explain now. It is too late for the truth to help in this case. But never lie to her again.

Household Hints

by MRS. MORTON

LUNCHEON SANDWICHES
Combination—Equal parts of dates, raisins, and figs chopped very fine. Powdered sugar moistened with extract of vanilla.

Beef—Rare beef with Worcestershire sauce.

Lettuce—White bread or rye; mix cheese with mustard and olive oil and finely minced almonds, blanched. Dip leaves of lettuce in oil, putting cheese on loaf.

Sponge Cake—Slice of sponge cake with grated chocolate with powdered sugar.

Capers—Two tablespoons capers, three hard-boiled eggs mixed with salad dressing. Graham bread.

Prunes—One cup mashed stewed prunes mixed with peanut butter and a teaspoon lemon juice. White bread or pound cake sliced thin.

Oyster—Finger rolls, split, filled with oyster sauce. Oyster sauce: par-boil one pint oysters, drain and use oyster liquor in mixing one-half pint of drawn butter sauce; season with celery salt; cayenne pepper; add the oysters, chopped fine, cook two minutes. Serve warm or cold.

Raisin—White bread, buttered, put layer of seeded raisins and add one-half peanut oil on each raisin, or layer of peanut butter.

Onion—Minced Spanish onion mixed with minced ham, with mustard sauce. Rye bread.

Cheese Butter—Beat one-half cup butter, six tablespoons dry sharp flavored cheese, one teaspoon mustard, one teaspoon anchovy paste or sauce, two teaspoons Worcestershire; spread between slices of buttered bread.

TO THE PEOPLE OF WAYNE COUNTY

The undersigned United War Work Campaign committee solemnly addresses this communication to every man, woman and child in Wayne county on a question which affects the honor of us all. Our reputation as a community for fifty years to come is involved.

The following townships have raised their quotas of the present War Fund Campaign: City of Richmond, Boston township, Clay township, Perry township and Washington township.

The following townships have not raised their quotas of the fund: Abington, Center, Dalton, Franklin, Green, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, New Garden, Webster, Wayne.

Are the people of these townships going to turn their backs on their plain duty? We do not believe so. We believe that the people of these townships are just as loyal to our country and as faithful to our brave soldier boys as the citizens who have already done their just share, and have only failed to raise their quotas because the justice of the cause and the gravity of the situation has not been properly presented.

Citizens, the honor of your township is involved, and your good names for years to come are concerned, and very deeply concerned. These brave soldier boys, just in the flush of manhood laid aside opportunity, surrendered the joys and comforts of home and friends, tore themselves from the loving embraces of friends and crossed the seas to fight in foreign lands for human liberty. Sublime courage was never manifested nor more heroic suffering ever endured in all the annals of the world.

Out of No Man's Land, where death rode on every wind that blew, they fought for the deliverance of the world, and won. While we were safe at home they were enduring all of the miseries of a soldier's life in the trenches.

While we at home were getting fine prices for our products, they were fighting and bleeding and dying for us, and drawing the pitiful sum of $1 a day for their services.

Citizens of Wayne county, a very solemn duty is here laid on your consciences. For the sacrifices our brave heroes have made for us, you are asked to contribute enough to provide them at least some of the comforts of home. How can we ever publicly welcome these boys back home if we fail them? Even the thought of such a thing is unbearable. No township in this county must have this stain upon its name.

We MUST, we WILL raise every dollar of this fund. Hundreds of citizens have visited the Committee Rooms and implored us to continue our efforts. They have begged us "to name the slackers out."

First, we are going to await the result of this appeal, but backed by the overwhelming sentiment of the people of Wayne county, we are going to see that every single man does his full duty or name him out and hold him up to the scorn of his neighbors and his country. We are going to stay on this job till every dollar of this money is raised.

At the end of this campaign a list

BELGIAN RULER ENTERS BRUSSELS

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 22—King Albert and the Belgian government left Brussels Thursday and were expected to make official entry into Brussels at two o'clock this afternoon, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Brussels.

Belgian troops and gendarmes reached the capital yesterday and restored quiet. The newspapers resumed publication and flags are flying everywhere in celebration of the return of the king.

Some of the administrative services of the government resumed their functions in Brussels Thursday evening. King Albert will re-open parliament today immediately after he reviews the troops.

The new Belgian ministry, the dispatch adds, will comprise six Catholics, three Liberals and three Socialists, including the Socialist leader, Edouard Anseele. Premier Cooreman will retire. Baron de Broqueville will be minister of the interior, and General Janssens, minister of war. M. Hymans will retain the portfolio of foreign affairs, and Emile Vandervelde will continue as minister of justice.

As war was anciently proclaimed in Britain by sending messengers in different directions through the land, each bearing a banded bow, so Louis Raemaekers with his remarkable war cartoons which appeared in the London and Paris papers became truly a messenger of strength to the allies.

With such weapons in his hand, what marvel that his pictures of tragedy and pathos, of comedy and satire, awoke the wrath of the German government.

Among the one hundred and twenty-five of Raemaekers' war cartoons now on exhibition at the art gallery, it is difficult to tell which pictures impress one the most. Certainly the most striking include those portraying the Hun's derision of the Christ, the "Handwriting on the Wall," the "End of Serbia," "Last Rider" with its Dante-like effect, the female figure in tion to our great country. The recognition that he has received during the entire period of the war is hardly likely to stimulate the young generations in the belief that republics are grateful. Send the Colonel to the conference, Mr. President. We need the best brains we can obtain to represent this country and there's room enough at the table for two big men. J. B. HORWITT.

RAEMAEKER CARTOONS.
No matter whether one has been dipped by Thetis into the river Styx, the arrow of satire or ridicule will always pierce the vulnerable heel.

Other arrows may glance aside, but the shaft that is tipped by "the bitter wit, the terrible strength of irony," finds all of us susceptible to its sting.

Therefore, the former German emperor and his adherents, must have felt keenly those arrows which sped from the quiver of Raemaekers. Even the ludicrous and bombastic Falstaff has been made to lend his aid to a shaft of wit by stepping down from the pages of King Henry IV and telling anew the story of how he fought against the men in buckram.

the "Spring-song," whose lines of shape and drapery are so harmoniously and exquisitely drawn that they seem to have rhythmic expression, and then as a final mention that wonderful picture which shows the face of Christ in the heavens gazing down on the figure of him whom the world hopes is the last of his dynasty. This drawing bears in French an inscription of sombre simplicity which rendered into English reads: "But when the voice of God called him he saw himself alone upon the earth in the midst of phantoms sad and without number."

Before The Advent Of Woman's Gladness

Women Who Know Take Precautions Against Suffering.

Before the arrival of the Stork, women for over half a century have learned the wisdom of giving nature a helping hand. Nausea, nervousness, bearing-down and stretching pains in the abdomen and muscles are entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, according to the testimony of thousands of mothers who have used this time-honored remedy.

Mother's Friend lubricates the fine network of nerves beneath the skin, and by regular use during the period the muscles are made and kept soft and elastic. They can then expand gently and easily when baby is born and pain and danger at the crisis is naturally avoided.

Mother's Friend is a preparation of penetrating oils and other medicinal agents prepared especially for expectant mothers. It is for external use, is absolutely safe and should be used regularly during the entire period before baby comes.

Write to the Bradford Regulator Company, Dept. A, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for an interesting Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist. You will find it a greatest kind of help.

Try Pineapple Jiffy-Jell

Pineapple is a flavor which must be sealed to keep. We seal it in a vial.

We use half a ripe pineapple to make the flavor for one Jiffy-Jell dessert. So you get a wealth of this delightful taste.

Jiffy-Jell comes ready sweetened. The bottle of flavor comes in the package. And it costs a trifle. One package makes instant dessert for six.

President Wilson has decided to go to Europe to attend the opening session of the Peace Conference and expects to sail for France soon. Various distinguished Americans have been singled to accompany him, among them Judge Bradie, Ex-president Taft, Elihu Root and others.

These names have been quoted by the press closely in touch with the administration. It seems strange that the name of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is not among them. And yet, what could be more fitting or logical than to send to the conference one of our most talented and most popular men.

Surely the president is broadminded enough to overcome the prejudices of the small fry of the Democratic party and by naming him dispel once for all the prevalent impression that the former president has been purposely kept in the background during the war.

The grave of Quentin Roosevelt is in France and the father may visit it while there. Colonel Roosevelt has by deed and word proven his devotion to his country.

Yesterday the employees, mind you, the workmen of the Miller-Kemper company, already generous givers, hearing of our extremity, phoned headquarters to double their subscriptions.

We appeal to every citizen to measure up to that splendid example of patriotism and devotion to a cause as holy as was ever laid on the hearts of men.

We appeal for a generous response, and should it not be forthcoming, the responsibility will be publicly placed where it belongs. We expect every township to raise its quota and every man to do his duty.

GREAT Garment Sale Event Continues

The weather this fall has been very mild so far and has left our Ready-to-Wear Department with a tremendous stock of Ladies Coats and Suits. Pursuant to our policy of not carrying stock over from one season to another, we started last week with an announcement of a great reduction on Suits. The ladies of Richmond, realizing the many months of cold weather ahead in which to get the service from these garments, and realizing the unusual savings offered by their reduction, have responded with enthusiasm. In order to further stimulate this event we have included our stock of Coats. Below we are quoting prices on Coats that should arouse the interest of anyone inclined to thrift. We are also including the Savings on Suits.
