

GERMANS SHOW EAGERNESS TO GET BACK HOME

Little Discipline in Retreat—Soldiers Want to Get Back to Civilian Life.

(By Associated Press)
AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Nov. 26.—Most of the Germans in the retreating army, the retreat of which the Americans are following, have shown keen eagerness to reach German soil to return to their homes immediately and engage again in their civilian occupations, according to reports.

A movement the other way by Alsatians and Lorrainers who have been in the German army is in progress. Many of them have been released by the Germans or given passes by Soldiers' and Sailors' committees and have reached the American lines.

Not a great deal of discipline among the German troops is reported. They are doing much as they please when the officers are not attempting to take severe measures because of the feeling of the men against them. Instances of looting in various regions are reported, but most of these are individual cases where a soldier or two steal a farmer's chickens.

German commanders continue to communicate with the Third Army by wireless, informing the Americans of the German progress each day. Sunday the wireless was interrupted and German command was unable to send a number of messages which it was eager to get into American hands. Two officers with a white flag crossed the bridge over the Moselle at Wasserbillig, carrying the messages. These were the last Germans to set foot in the line held by the Americans.

The officers remained only a few moments, they said they had a long way to travel to reach their regiments.

AID FOR RETURNING SOLDIERS PLANNED IS BY EDUCATORS

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—"America's boys fought and bled. So America shall not desert them."

This, in effect, is the motto of the Division of Rehabilitation of the Federal Board for Vocational Education which has just opened district headquarters here with a staff of trained experts who will look after the welfare of disabled soldiers.

Every disabled soldier in a reconstruction hospital in America will be visited by a representative of the Division, his case will be studied, he will be permitted to choose the business or profession he wishes to enter, and then will be sent to a training school, a university or a college. During the training or study period his expenses incident to the training will be paid and he will receive a stipulated sum for living expenses. When he is ready for business a position will be found him.

"It is a tremendous task, but the work is progressing satisfactorily," said an officer in the Chicago headquarters. "District headquarters have been opened, or shortly will be opened, in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Atlanta, New Orleans, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Denver, San Francisco, Seattle and Dallas.

"In a few days the great organization will be in full swing and there shall be no need of dependency on the part of the disabled soldier. How many men could this office handle in three months? That is difficult to answer. In the few days we have been open six hundred cases have come to hand. Every case, mind you, must be given careful thought and study."

Charles W. Sylvester, director of this district, which embraces Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, said that arrangements now are being made with educational institutions for handling the men.

F. C. Arnold, district case officer, said that additional employees are needed to handle the great number of cases expected when men begin arriving from overseas. The vocational division needs men with a wide knowledge of the principles of industrial, commercial and agricultural enterprises in America. Successful applicants, who will receive from $3,000 to $4,000 a year, must have had three years experience as administrative officers in one of the three branches.

The garden season never ends, although snow and freezing may stop outdoor work. Rhubarb and spinach may be wintered over in the basement if the home.

Hundred Property Owners Have Assessments Unpaid

About one hundred property holders in the city of Richmond have not paid their fall assessments, according to the reports of Deputy City Treasurer McMahan.

People who do not pay their fall assessments by February will have their property sold to pay for the assessments. Last year many of the people had their property confiscated but not many sales were held.

"The taxpayers of Richmond should not wait until the last day to pay their assessments as something might happen and then the property would be sold," McMahan said.

PLAN HISTORY OF COUNTY'S ACTIVITIES IN THE RECENT WAR

A history of Wayne county's part in the war will be compiled to honor the men of the county who have been in service.

The suggestion has been made by Will W. Reller, chairman of the county council of defense, who believes that the publication should contain a complete account of war happenings in the county since America entered the war in April, 1917. A book should be sold to every citizen at cost price, and every soldier should be given one, Mr. Reller said.

A board of seven editors will probably be selected by the county council of defense to have charge of the compiling and editing of the publication. Suggestions have been made that the book contain photographs of every Wayne county soldier in service.

MORE NEWSPAPERS ADVANCE RATES

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Newspapers in all parts of the country have been forced to increase the price of their subscription because of increased costs.

The Star-Telegram of Fort Worth, Tex., has advanced the weekly subscription rate from 10 to 15 cents. The Evening Star of Foughkeepsie, N. Y., announced an increase from 12 to 15 cents weekly. The Spokesman-Review of Spokane, Wash., has increased its weekly subscription rate by carrier to 15 cents.

Many newspapers have made a flat rate of 3 cents per copy bought from newsboys or delivered by carrier. Increases in the cost of white paper and other factors in newspaper production have forced the publishers to slightly increase the cost to readers.

ISSUES MANIFESTO TO ENGLISH VOTERS

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 26.—Premier Lloyd George and Chancellor Bonar Law have issued a joint manifesto to the electors of Great Britain and Ireland appealing for support and continued unity, outlining their policy and amplifying their speeches on Nov. 16. A resume of their platform follows:

"The conclusion of a just and lasting peace and so establishing the foundations of a new Europe in order that further wars may be forever averted; reducing the burden of our armaments and the promotion of a league of nations; state acquisition of land for soldiers and sailors either for cottages with garden allotments or small holdings on a wide and large scale; schemes for agricultural developments and extensive afforestation and reclamation schemes; comprehensive housing schemes; larger industrial opportunities, improved material conditions of employment.

Other plans are: Preferential tariff for the colonies; no fresh taxes on food and raw materials; development and control in the best interests of the state of economical production of power and light, also railway, roads, canals; improvements of consular service; removal of all existing legal inequalities between men and women and reform of the constitution and of the house of lords.

NO NEED TO FEAR BALDNESS

Tells How to Make Hair Grow Strong, Thick and Lustrous.

Thousands of men and women are growing bald every day and don't know the reason why. This is indeed a pity, because baldness usually comes from carelessness, and anyone who gives the hair just a little attention should always have an abundance of good, healthy hair. Dandruff and dirt cause baldness by clogging the pores in the scalp and giving the dandruff germs fertile ground for prolific breeding.

The treatment is very simple; remove the dirt by shampooing at least once in ten days and destroy the dandruff germs by frequently applying a little of the genuine Parisian sage, a most efficient antiseptic liquid that the best druggists everywhere are now recommending as one of the quickest and safest treatments to surely stop itching scalp and falling hair, remove all dandruff and to properly nourish and invigorate the hair roots.

Parisian Sage is in great demand by discriminating women because it is delicately perfumed, does not color or streak the hair and gives it a softness and luster that fascinates and compels admiration. A generous bottle costs but little from Quigley drug stores, who guarantee it to you.—Adv.

McAdoo Quit Offices Because He Was Against Government Ownership of All Rail Lines

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 26.—The Providence Journal says:

"The basic reason for the withdrawal of William C. McAdoo from the Cabinet is not, as stated for public consumption, the fact that the Secretary of the treasury found it impossible to live in Washington on his official salary, but that he found himself in total disagreement with what he considers the president's set purpose to impose government ownership or government control of all public utilities in this country. He was determined to remain no longer a member of a cabinet which was fast drifting into that policy.

"It is true that Mr. McAdoo could not live in Washington on his salary as Secretary of the Treasury, but it is equally true that he has never been able to do this since he first went to Washington. It has never been possible for him even to maintain his home there, outside of other expenses, on $12,000 per year.

"Mr. McAdoo has never been a public ownership man. He has always sincerely believed that the government should not bring into its own hands the operation or ownership of any public utilities that could be run as well, or better, under private control. His recent experience as director-general of the railroads not only strengthened him in this belief, but brought him into continuous and acrimonious discussion with Mr. Wilson and some of his fellow-cabinet members on the subject of the future of the railroads.

"He has insisted from the start that the roads be returned to their owners at the earliest possible moment after the close of the war, consistent with the public safety and on the stipulation of certain changes regarding cooperation of movement and reduction of unnecessary competition. His ideas have been bitterly opposed. With the signing of the armistice and the bringing up of the entire question of transportation readjustment, the situation became so acute that he was compelled to make his choice between resigning as a member of the president's official family, or remaining in office and helping to formulate a policy entirely distasteful to him.

"When the president gave his sanction to the taking over of the cables by Secretary Burleson, Mr. McAdoo vigorously opposed this move as one disastrous alike to the political fortunes of the administration and the interests of the United States. The Journal is in possession of the fact that he presented these ideas to Mr. Wilson without any mincing of words at the time he wrote his letter of resignation.

"At least two other members of the cabinet are in the same frame of mind as Mr. McAdoo, and men within administration circles are well aware that in this attitude the insurgents are supported by Colonel House, who reached the parting of the ways with Mr. Burleson several months ago.

"If Mr. McAdoo has ambitions in the direction of the presidential nomination in 1920, he will not only not be supported by friends of the present administration, but will be strenuously opposed by them. They are already beginning to suggest that the Secretary of the Treasury has seen fit to disassociate himself from Mr. Wilson because of these ambitions. Men who are closest with Mr. McAdoo, however, believe that he has no desire to run for the presidency, and that the only reason for his present step is his determination not to put himself in a false light among those who have been his associates for years in his commercial enterprises, who well know his attitude on government ownership and who would resent his further connection with an administration which has started along that path.

"Mr. McAdoo's future lies in the commercial world. His withdrawal from private life at this time is proof that he does not intend to sacrifice the confidence and respect of commercial and financial leaders who would naturally come into close contact with him in his future business career."

Cutting Case Will Come Up in Court on Friday

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

TELLS SAFE AND SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME.

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parment (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing, and mucous dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh, and which may often overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.—Adv.

LIFT BAN ON USE OF EXTRA HELP

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 26.—The ban on employment of extra help by merchants in Indiana during the Christmas shopping period has been lifted by the National Council of Defense. M. E. Foley, chairman of the State Council of Defense, received a telegram yesterday announcing the removal of the restriction.

"This does not affect the 'buy early' program previously outlined. In fact emphasis is being laid on the 'shop early' and 'buy it now' movement.

Lifting the ban in Indiana will permit the employment of many women and junior helpers released by munition manufacturers in the state since the signing of the armistice. Many plants have reduced their production of war materials and daily are releasing labor.

Debarcation Hospital Opened in New York

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The biggest hospital of its kind in the world and the only one of its type to be located in the business section of a great city, was formally opened here today. To the 500 wounded men who made up the first contingent of patients, there will be added 250 during the day and

The new hospital, base hospital number three, occupies the big building that formerly housed the Greenhut department store at Sixth avenue and Eighteenth street. The hospital has accommodations for 4,000 patients.

It will be used as a debarcation hospital to which the wounded men will be taken from the incoming hospital transports. They will stay only until they are medicated sufficiently to permit their transfer to other hospitals nearer their homes.

Major W. J. Monaghan is in charge of the hospital.
