

COMMUNITY HOUSE FOR EMPLOYED GIRLS URGED BY RICHMOND WOMAN

The necessity of a community house or a Y. W. C. A. to take care of the girls in Richmond who have no homes and are working here was emphasized at a meeting of representative persons who assembled at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday noon in the interests of the Y. W. C. A. Carry On drive.

Mrs. A. W. Roach, chairman of the Sixth district, said that people had been generous in giving to women throughout the world, but something must be done for the several hundred girls in Richmond. The urgent need of this is emphasized, she pointed out, when girls are seen wandering about on the streets at night alone or in groups.

Mrs. Roach suggested that a house be rented and that subscriptions be taken by which persons might pay a small sum each month to pay for the upkeep of this proposed community house. This house would provide housing facilities and recreation each evening and on Sundays for girls.

Preceding a discussion on the matter talks were given by Miss Marguerite Merriman of Chicago, finance publicity secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in the Central Field including Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, and Mrs. W. C. Smith of Indianapolis, treasurer of the Indiana State Federation of Women's Clubs, and state speaker in the interest of the Carry On Campaign of the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Smith spoke of the work women have done during the war and the important part of the Y. W. C. A. has taken. The women in this organization were sought for work, she said. Hostess houses were established, women in munition plants were looked after, housing and recreation facilities were provided for the thousands of women in war work.

Mrs. Smith said: "We must see to it that the problems that have arisen during the war are met. We must not stop, we must demobilize."

The great work at present is Americanization. We must make this country one great America. Foreigners must be made Americans. The Y. W. C. A. has done great work along this line. The colored people are being reached and this must continue. The women of the south have not yet realized the work that they could do.

Civil Service

Auditing and accounting positions with good salaries to men and women who are qualified to perform them are still offered by the government in various departments at Washington. Although the war is over there is still great need for help in different units of various bureaus, and with the percentage of people leaving government positions with the termination of the war the demand for new and competent persons is rising.

The income tax unit of the bureau of internal revenue, treasury department, is in urgent need of 350 traveling auditors and resident auditors for the higher-grade positions, which pay entrance salaries from $3,000 to $4,500 a year.

The ordnance department of army needs at once 250 senior cost accountants at entrance salaries from $2,200 to $4,200 a year, and 250 junior cost accountants at $1,200 to $2,000 a year.

The interstate commerce commission wants 50 examiners of accounts. These are usually appointed at entrance salaries from $1,800 to $2,100 a year, the higher-salaried positions, paying from $2,200 to $3,000 a year or more, being filled as a rule by promotion.

All of these positions are open to both men and women, except positions of examiner of accounts in the interstate commerce commission, which are open to men only.

The United States civil service commission will receive applications for these positions at any time until further notice. Full information and application blanks may be obtained by calling upon the secretary of the local board of civil-service examiners at postoffice.

Applicants will not be assembled for a written examination but will be rated upon their sworn statements in their applications as to education, experience, etc., and upon corroborative evidence adduced by the Civil Service commission.

HOUSES IN DEMAND

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The growing demand for houses in London has caused some landlords to notify tenants to leave in order that the houses may be relet at higher rentals. In many cases small householders are faced with the prospect of soon being homeless. The situation in several districts of the city is said to be acute.

PLAN MODEL MARKET
HAVANA, Feb. 25.—A model market to cost $2,400,000 is to be constructed here to take the place of the old time market places and newer street markets scattered about the city, products of the war-time food scarcity and consequent manipulation of prices by merchants. It will be a beautiful marbled structure.

among the colored people. There is a possibility of every race and nationality being brought up to a proper standard of living. They must have a living chance.

"We must not lose the great vision that the war has given us. The war is lost if we lose the vision of what we can do. If we do the things that we are attempting to do with the same effort and vim with which the boys went to the front we will accomplish great things."

Miss Merriman discussed the business side of the drive. She said that through the war a great interest has been created in Y. W. C. A. work and that it must be kept up. The things for which the Carry On campaign is being carried on were pointed out.

Plan for the community work in the Carry On drive were outlined by Mrs. Wilfred Jessup, county chairman.

The amount for Wayne county is small and it is hoped that the sum will be obtained in a short time. This is the first drive made for money for women.

FRIENDS STATE ATTITUDE TOWARD WORLD LEAGUE

An editorial, "Our Next Step," by Walter D. Woodward, editor of The American Friend, will appear in that paper this week, setting forth the attitude of the Friends Society in regard to the League of Nations, and presenting what the Friends must consider now that the draft of the league is before the public for discussion and approval.

Dr. Woodward says:

"The League of Nations promises to become the Magna Charta of the World's liberties. In our estimate it presents a masterful solution—masterful because so simple and yet so adequate. After having become bewildered with the mystifying maze of perplexities presented, we are surprised at the apparent simplicity of the whole thing and wonder how it could have been otherwise."

"What is our next step as Friends? at the time President Wilson said for France we declared him to be 'peculiarly our standard bearer.' His work abroad, crystallized in this draft of a League of Nations, has fully justified our statement. The proposed league approaches more nearly the ideal than we had dared to hope.

"To be true, the element of force is to be found in the instrument. Frankly, we do not see how a league would be at all possible, as yet, that absolutely ignored all provision for police power. But that which is provided in this draft is very far from the proposals of the past which would have made the league little else than a precariously armed neutrality. In the proposal before us, armed force, instead of being the outstanding fact, is the incident.

"As Friends, we shall continue to uphold the ultimate ideal of a comity of nations based absolutely on goodwill. This ideal is surprisingly approached in the league as proposed.

To us it seems that not to support it would be to play into the hands of those who oppose the principles we hold dear.

"As we see it, the individual who withholds his support from such a proposed league, must impale himself upon one or the other horn of a very distressing dilemma; either upon that of a narrow and fervid nationalism which stands for the old order, or upon the levitarian super-state which would but substitute one vast world armament for many national ones. Position on either horn would appear to be as unsightly, as uncomfortable and particularly for a Friend.

"May as well be frank and open in our motives in the matter as we are considering. May we be free from cloaking partisanship in opposition to, or even lukewarmness toward, the league which is so closely identified with the president. President Wilson is not the issue in question, nor his administration. We have criticized him severely in the past and may do so again. Despite the great personal achievement involved, this momentous issue is infinitely greater than personalities or politics. Shall civilization end war or shall war end civilization? This is the paramount issue of the world."

ENTERTAIN WYOMING FIGHTERS

CAMP DIX, N. J., Feb. 25.—Four hundred Wyoming officers and men of the forty-first division will be entertained at a dinner and a theatre party here next week at the expense of the Wyoming legislature, it was announced here today by Dr. W. S. Bennett, of Cody, Wyoming, after a conference with General Scott, commanding Camp Dix. Dr. Bennett came east as the representative of his state, to arrange a welcome for the Wyoming men.

Dr. Woodward to Attend Service Committee Meeting

Dr. Walter D. Woodward will leave for Philadelphia tomorrow to attend an important meeting of the American Friends' service committee of which he is a member. A discussion of the future work of this organization is to be considered at the meeting this week. Whether or not the organization formed for emergency purposes shall become a permanent part of the Friends' work is to be considered in a definite way, and some important steps relative to the present situation in France are to be taken.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST TOBACCO

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—A campaign against the tobacco habit is being conducted by the medical students of the University of Pennsylvania. Leaders of the movement say the use of tobacco has greatly increased since the war with Germany began.
