The creek is pouring immense volumes of water into the Miami river just north of Hamilton.

AFTER INFLUENZA, GRIP

And Other Prostrating Diseases That Exhaust the Strength. There is always a depleted condition of the blood, that extreme tired feeling, nervousness and digestive weakness from which recovery is slow unless a good medicine is taken.

The lack of red corpuscles in the blood makes it to thin properly to nourish the body, and the general prostration, annoying humors, boils, loss of appetite and poor digestion prevent progress towards health. Hood's Sarsaparilla meets these conditions perfectly, as many people know. It has proved the greatest blood-purifying vitalizing medicine. Nothing else so good in spring.

It is made from a formula comprising ingredients often used by the best physicians for impure blood, scrofula, rheumatism, weakness. Truly it purifies the blood and makes the weak strong. For a fine family cathartic, take Hood's Pills. —Adv.

The Theater

WASHINGTON

The introduction of this most popular American novel into the world of motion pictures is causing a sensation in a field where the ability to produce the best, has long ago been raised to the nth power. The filmization has been directed by Harold Bell Wright, its author, personally.

As a novel and a play the work is known to countless millions and with the aid of the camera, Mr. Wright has visualized his great mind pictures as no mere words could ever do. All those who are familiar with the book, and who have seen the beloved characters on the stage can readily understand how these real flesh and blood people under the wizardry of the camera and the great imaginative genius of their author should make a picture drama of absorbing interest. Given the subject matter contained in the "Shepherd of the Hills," the direction of the author together with the unlimited possibilities of the motion picture camera and there is a combination which will make a production bound to create a furore in the amusement loving world.

"The Shepherd of the Hills" opens a three day engagement at the Washington theatre beginning with Thursday matinee, March 20. There will be two performances daily, matinee at 2:15 and night 8:15. Seats are reserved for the night performances.

Harold Lockwood was the drawing card at the Washington theatre yesterday in "The Great Romance," a Screen Classics, Inc., production of great merit and beauty.

RED BLOODED PEOPLE LIVE THE LONGEST

Red blooded people retain their youth and vigor until late in life because red blood ages slowly.

A child with impure blood seems old, while an old man with pure red ironized blood seems young.

Impure blood clogs the system with waste matters, rapidly ageing body, mind and spirit.

Pure blood is red blood, rich in iron and phosphates with power to rid itself of waste matter and able to carry life giving oxygen to every cell and nerve. It makes both young and old bright, happy, keen, and interested in life. This is the blood you need, every day of your life, the rich red blood made by pure food, fresh air, regular sleep and "Phosphated Iron from the red blood and nerve builder."

Phosphated Iron enriches your blood and nerves, putting them in shape for work. Improves your color, increases your appetite and gives you strength, vigor and power to enjoy both work and pleasure, makes you feel like doing things once more.

Phosphated Iron is prescribed by leading doctors for all who are worn out, run down, nervous, weak and thin blooded people in all walks of life, they have learned to depend on it for honest results.

Special Notice—To insure physicians and their patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron, we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets, insist on the genuine, in capsules only.

Conkey Drug Company, and leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

The noted star is seen in a role which gives him full scope for the virtue and compelling power with which his audiences are familiar. He plays the part of a young man brought up in America—with all the freedom of democracy instilled into him—who suddenly finds himself heir to the throne of a small and obscure but very beautiful European country. Having strong views on the government of the people for the people and by the people he disdains the idea of becoming a despotic ruler in his own country. Fate, however, takes the decision out of his hands by placing the girl he loves in a position in which he alone can rescue her.

MURRAY.

Mary MacLarin is always an attraction, and in "Creaking Stairs," at the Murray theater, she further impresses her stellar importance upon an overflowing house. Incidentally, she comes in this picture, under the direction of Rupert Julian, and his hand is distinctly discernable in a very cleverly conceived and superbly acted drama of suspense. In fact, suspense was the principal motif of the entire performance and it was entirely probable and thoroughly enjoyed suspense. A foolish, little wife, who insisted on keeping the presence of a former admirer from her husband, although she realizes that her husband is intensely jealous, would not have any more sense than to try to hide the appearance of a crime in her own attic. No audience is proof against the anxiety which Julian has cleverly engendered lest her husband find out the true facts in the case.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma Kept Her Locks Dark, Glossy, and Youthful with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Adv.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulisited coconut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.
