

BUSINESS MEN TO HELP "OWN A HOME" PLAN

Stock Company to Build Houses for Workingmen Discussed at Meeting.

Need of more homes in Richmond if the city is to bring new industrial plants here, was discussed by members of the Industrial Development company at their annual meeting in the Commercial club Monday night.

A stock company to promote the "Own a Home Movement" was proposed. It was suggested that the company be composed of business men and manufacturers, with a capital of $10,000 or $50,000 with which to build modern houses that could be sold to workingmen. Such a movement would aid both employer and employee, it was pointed out.

H. C. Hasemeyer and John F. McCarthy were elected trustees of the company.

Approve Stock Purchase

The board approved the purchase of $10,000 preferred stock in the Auburn Ignition and Manufacturing company which will come to Richmond in the early summer. Adam H. Bartel, president, said in his report that it would be necessary to call for an additional ten per cent from the subscribers of the Richmond Industrial company fund some time this year in order to take over the stock in the Auburn company, and in order to have a fund in the treasury that would be available for any new projects that would present themselves during the year.

Purchase of $10,000 stock in the Acme Furniture company was also approved.

George H. Eggemeyer, treasurer, reported that the balance on hand at the last report was $446.72, that $8,000 had been invested in Liberty bonds, that the collection on the last assessment of 15 per cent, which is not yet completed, amounted to $8,542.95. The amount in the treasury at present is $8,977.62. The total which includes the Liberty bonds is $17,289.67.

Some action will be taken for the collection of the payments due.

S. O. S. But We Did Our Best

Listen to me and I will tell
The story of how we went through hell;
'Twas the 50th artillery so to say
Was out to make Kaiser his just dues pay.

At first I must tell you who is who,
In this C. A. C. and their mighty crew;
In all 'twas composed of battery six,
Headquarters' supply companies were no sticks.

First battery A comes out into view,
You can tell by their ways no soldiers new;
Then battery B. I wish you could see,
That makes the first battalion of our C. A. C.

With battery C. and their chins held high,
And their chests thrown out would take your eye;
Follows battery B. takes them to be
The second battalion of our C. A. C.

Now old battery E is never behind,
They would hold their own on any front line;
And battery F. now you can see,
We have three battalions in our C. A. C.

So we left the state one October day
And there wasn't a man that wanted to stay;
But all after Huns with vengeous heart,
'Twas some cheerful bunch when word came to depart.

The trip cross the ocean was exceedingly grand,
Cheered up by the strains of our artillery band;
For fourteen days our convoy did fair
With not one sign of a submarine scare.

The last did come with sun shining bright,
Yells from the boys told us land was in sight;
We were taken ashore next day to Brest,
At which was a camp for tired soldiers to rest.

The rest tale was false for they told us to lead,
The way to the dock and do general fatigue;
We did so with cheer and not one did kick,
For we were sent there the Kaiser to lick.

Just one week at Brest when the order came
To prepare for a hike to an outgoing train;
We landed next day in a town called Montoir,
Twas there plain in view America's part in the war.

Soldiers by thousands were there to be had,
From America 'twas true all were khaki clad;
Busy as bees were these soldiers from home,
The 50th then knew they were not all alone.

The first thing announced did not bring cheers
For 'twas assigning us to the camp engineers;
Our biggest of which while in S. O. S. zone,
Was that all engineers had never left home.

We will never forget what a heavy load,
With out packs on our back marching down the long road;
But heavier still when the engineers packed,
Picks and shovels galore to carry far on our backs.

One month at Montoir with same old grind,
Put our packs on our back, but this hike was fine
With pleasant thoughts caused by the rumor around.
We were going to Brest, from there homeward bound.

Our landing at Brest was long in the night,
We shouldered our packs for another long hike;
Soon pulled into camp all wet perspire,
And it didn't take long for the boys to retire.

It will never be forgotten on awakening day,
For everyone knew it was Thanksgiving day;
We were thankful for many things we had seen.
But dinner! 'twas corn willie, served with baked beans.

Home preparedness was first to cause no delay.
When the real dope came out that we were to stay
Some six weeks or more, it was bad you can bet.
The boys took it hard, it was some kick in the neck.

Our next place to move was Camp Kerkouen.
For S. O. S. work went the third battalion;
A hospital there for the boys from the lines,
Who had done their bit with many a hard times.

The work there was hard and it lasted one month,
In all the mud holes, tons of gravel we dumped.
The rest of the gang did work around the dock,
Saw mills, building roads, down to breaking of rock.

Then again came the word and it didn't come too late.
They gave us some dope on our new sailing date.
The time is now soon for us to depart.
And there was never a bunch more happy at heart.

Most everyone thinks, but in here to tell,
That Sherman was right about war being hell;
We arrived too late to use our big guns.
Two months to date U. S. had the war won.

There is more than one hell in this army career.
And we had our share far back in the rear;
But will soon forget of the things we went through,
Three cheers for the States and the Red, White and Blue.

—JOE D. ALOIA, Richmond, Ind.
Battery F., 50th Artillery C. A. C.

ELKS GIVE AID TO DISABLED FIGHTERS

The Elks have provided a fund of $150,000 to aid disabled fighters during the vocational training period, according to an announcement of the federal board of vocational education.

Richmond Lodge No. 649 at the outset of the war contributed its quota toward the national fund set aside for war relief purposes. Part of the money that was not used for this purpose will be devoted to the extension of the work of vocational retraining disabled soldiers, sailors and marines. If necessary the Elks will give further financial assistance.

Fifty thousand dollars of the fund will be loaned to disabled men so that they may be placed in training immediately with proper maintenance while their compensation award is being determined by the government. As the loans will be repaid, the money can be turned over many times.

Another $50,000 will be placed at the disposal of the director of the board for use in training disabled men who do not come under the war risk insurance act or the federal vocational rehabilitation act and therefore cannot receive either compensation or training at government expense. The other $50,000 will be used in a publicity campaign to advise the men of the training they can receive if they desire.

He was one of the most noted theologians of the Lutheran church in America, professor of theology for more than 40 years, author of a Greek dictionary, authority on New Testament Greek, and editor of the Theological Magazine.

The funeral will be held at Columbus Thursday afternoon.

A daughter, Mrs. Oscar Tressel, wife of the Rev. Oscar Tressel of Trinity church, resides here.

Five of his former students reside in Richmond.

He was a prolific writer on theological topics and church questions.
