

REDS, 5 POINTS BEHIND, OUT FOR GIANTS' DEFEAT

Fisher and Luque Blank Braves in Two Swift Games—Groh Stars.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—With the Brave series tucked away in the win side of the percentage column, Pat Moran will lead his pennant chargers against the Giants in the big series of the season, Friday afternoon.

At present the Reds are just five points behind McGraw's outfit, and Proteus Jawn has been unable to find a single thing to kick about in the entire series. During the past week, the Reds have lost only one game to the Braves while the best the Giants could do was to pull an even break with the Pirates, whom the Reds had just defeated six times straight.

The Giants are the only bunch in the league that the Reds have failed to defeat in the majority of contests, but with four games at home, starting Friday, the Reds have a hunch that they will have even the mighty McGrawmen on their list about next Monday.

Fisher Comes Back.
The return of Ray Fisher into the fold of winning pitchers in Thursday's contest gave the Reds another boost. Manager Moran had not been counting Fisher as one of his first string men, but after the exhibition put up by Ray in Thursday's contest, Pat will probably give him a chance to become a regular first string slaban. Luque also played a clever game in Thursday's, although his exhibition was not as clean as that of Fisher.

The Reds, incidentally, blanked the Braves in two straight contests, allowing only seven hits in the two games. In the first, Rick Rudolph held the Reds for but four innings, and then the fireworks started. Nine hits, including triples by Groh and Bressler, and a double by Rath, made up the Red's contribution and drove in five runs.

In the second, Luque had a little more difficulty in keeping Brave runners away from the plate, but brilliant field work and an ability to tighten in the pinches, pulled him through. A run in the second round was enough for Luque, but to clinch matters, the Reds came in with another in the fifth.

Groh's fielding around the hot corner was one of the shining features of the game. Heine stopped everything in sight, and accounted 15 chances without an error. The scores:

First game—R. H. E.
Boston ..... 000 000 000—0 3 0
Cincinnati ..... 000 215—5 9 1
Rudolph and Gowdy; Fisher and Wingo.
Second game—R. H. E.
Boston ..... 000 000 000—0 4 1
Cincinnati ..... 010 100 005—2 5 0
Keating, McQuillen and Wilson; Luque and Rariden.

Dayton Team Issues Challenge To Locals

Another challenge has been issued to Richmond Sunday semi-pro baseball teams. This time the call comes from the Gem City Reserves, of Dayton, who ask for a game here either in August or September. Letters should be addressed to Dan Yike, 509 Hickory street, Dayton, Ohio.

Chase and Daubert, Rival First Basemen Whose Work Features Big Series Which Means League Leadership for Giants or Reds

Jake Daubert

Hal Chase

Hal Chase, the Giant's first sacker, came from Redville, where he held down the initial corner for three years. Hal was well known and well liked in Cincinnati until last year, but he will find that his old admirers have forsaken him to a great extent in favor of Jake Daubert, who has been playing a clever game in the field, as well as poling them out with increasing regularity.

Salute To Be Demanded From Foreign Warships

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, August 1.—Revised orders governing the return of salutes to the flag by foreign warships entering American harbors have been issued by the war department with the warning to fort commanders that failure to return such salutes "is regarded as a lack of friendship justifying explanation."

The new orders require that designated saluting batteries shall be manned as soon as a foreign warship heads into a harbor between 8 a. m. and sunset, and a salute to the flag be returned immediately. In case the ship enters after sunset, the fort commanders are notified that they may expect the salute at 8 o'clock the next morning and be prepared to return it. During the war all exchange of salutes of this character were dispensed with but with the warships of many countries now coming and going in American ports the full international code will be observed.

CONNERSVILLE IS COMING TO LIFT QUAKERS' SCALP

The Connerville Grays, Fayette county's leading ball club, are coming to Richmond loaded to the guards Sunday, to take the scalp of the Richmond Quakers.

In a letter to Sam Vigran Friday, J. A. Peterson, manager of the Connerville bunch says: "If we can't beat you Sunday, I'll say you've got some ball club. We are coming with a big bunch of rooters, so have your noise makers out. Elliott or Lipps will pitch for Connerville and Smith will do the receiving."

Miner will be Richmond's star bet, with Roon in reserve. The Richmond boys are all set to bring home another victory and are anxious to duplicate their performance of last Sunday when they trimmed the crack Dayton club.

All the Richmond boys are in good shape for the contest, with the possible exception of Reddinghaus, who was spiked in the knee last Sunday. The wound is healing nicely and it is hoped that he will be in the game Sunday.

The returns of the New York-Cincinnati game will be received by innings at the park and will be announced after each inning. The game will be called at 2:30.

A. S. M-STARR GAME IN S. A. L.

Saturday is another big day in the S. A. L. The leading A. S. M. team again tackles the strong Starr combination, and a pitchers' battle is looked for.

Hawekotte is in splendid shape and will make his strongest effort to down the piano makers again and clinch the pennant for the A. S. M.

Sturm, the Starr pitcher, has vowed that he will beat the Hoosiers this time, as in his two previous starts against them this season he lost both games by one run.

The Swayne-Robinson team will tackle the Wayne Works crew in the first game of the double bill and as both teams are greatly strengthened a rattling good contest can be looked for. The first game will be called at 1:45 sharp at Exhibition Park.

Leave Your Widow to a Trust Company

After ten years plugging and saving, a Richmond business man left his widow $40,000 in standard securities, yielding an income of about $2,200 a year.

The living husband was a generous provider and the widow and one little girl had to "manage" to live on the old scale with the income from the estate—about $50 a week. Sometimes she wished she had a little larger income.

In one of these anxious moments a "friend of the family" advised her to sell some of her bonds and buy the stock in a small Eastern railroad, then selling at a very attractive figure.

She took his advice and lost $4000 of her principal and $220 a year of her income. She has to manage on $45 a week now, which is rather difficult with the cost of living what it is.

In addition to being a true story, this transaction is interesting from another standpoint: The "friend of the family" was a perfectly honest man with the best of intentions. He probably made a similar investment and loss with his own money. No "blue sky shark" excuse here.

Just plain inexperience. The moral to living men is inescapable: Don't leave your estate, big or little, at the mercy of your inexperienced wife or her (your) inexperienced friends. Go now to one of Richmond's established trust companies and make your will, with the trust company as executor.

Your estate either will stay intact or increase in value; your widow's and children's income either will stay as you left it or increase.

The difference between "cold-blooded" experience and sympathetic inexperience will provide for your dear ones.

Get this difference by consulting any of Richmond's trust companies. The best ones regularly advertise in this newspaper so you would better
