

KOLCHAK REGIME NEARS DISASTER CLAIM REPORTS

Collapse of Anti-Bolshevik
Move and Weakness of Lenine
Adds to Chaos.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Complete collapse of the Kolchak movement in Siberia was forecast in reports reaching Washington today. Kolchak forces have fallen back almost 200 miles from their former advanced lines and Omsk was said to be threatened with evacuation.

Coupled with the reported weakening of Premier Lenine's hold on the Bolshevik government and his intention to retire, the reverses suffered by the Kolchak forces have added to the chaos existing in Russia.

Failure of the allied and associated governments to get adequate supplies to Admiral Kolchak, the advisers said, had forced him to fall back steadily before the greatly superior Bolshevik forces composed of veterans whose officers include many Germans who fled to Russia when the armistice was signed.

Officials here are known to regard Kolchak's efforts at an end unless most radical measures are adopted by outside governments and it was suggested that the president might call the attention of congress to the imminence of Bolshevik control of all Siberia.

Supplies Big Obstacle.
The proposition of extending aid to Admiral Kolchak received the support of President Wilson and his associates at the peace conference in Paris, but the getting of supplies to him was found to be more of a military than a diplomatic problem. France, England, and Japan were in position politically to offer supplies, but the position of the United States was not so clear on that point. Some officials here held that for the United States to participate in any extensive support, either in supplying the forces or in adding man power to the army congressional action would be necessary.

The American force already in Siberia is far from the Kolchak-Bolshevik lines. It was placed there for the announced purpose of guarding supplies at Vladivostok and the protection of the Trans-Siberian Railroad.

PARIS, GAY FOR GREAT VICTORY CARNIVAL ON JULY 14, DESCRIBED BY GERTRUDE SIMS

The blasted plans of Friends organization people to occupy bleacher standing room during the great parade of July 14, French Independence Day, is described by Miss Gertrude Sims, of Richmond, who is stationed in the Paris office of the Friends reconstruction department in France. In a letter to her sister, Miss Ruthanna Sims of the American Friend headquarters, she says:

"The Britannique was crowded this noon with Mission people from the provinces, who have come in for the 14th, the great French holiday. Oh, Monday will be one grand day. My pension friends have talked of nothing else for the past four days.

"There is to be a grand parade of all the French troops and all the Allies available; the unveiling of a new statue for the occasion, near the Grand Arc de Triomphe and festivities everywhere.

"There will be torch light processions in the streets tonight and tomorrow night; dancing in the streets; bands; and much illumination. Lights will be strung around the big buildings as they were on Peace signing night, of course, there will be flags and other decorations everywhere.

"The Magasin de Louvre (a large department store) has erected scaffolding across its fronts representing pillars and a piece across the top on which are painted the names of the war-famous places: Verdun, Rheims, Marne, Meuse, Alsace, Ypres and others. In the center are the words: 'Gloire a Notre France Eternelle,' and some others which I forget now, except that they mention the great 'Victoire.' Surmounting all is the chandelier of France.

Crowds Stop and Gaze.
"When it is all lighted it will be a gorgeous sight, and already the passing crowds stop and gaze in admiring anticipation. Joan of Arc's statue here in our Place de Rivoli has scaffolding around her too, but I do not know what will be there yet, except flags which are already in evidence. The Hotel Regina, of course, is covered with flags of the Allies, as it has been since the beginning of the peace manoeuvres.

Merchants Get Busy.
"Already the thrifty French tradespeople are deceiving the visiting crowds with specially erected street stands on which are displayed, in attractive guise, laces, veils, shoe-laces, pins of all description, rings, dress-patterns, maps of Paris, buttonhooks, trinkets and fancy cheap trinkets of all sorts.

"They line the Rue de Rivoli from here to Chateaux. I stood before several stands fascinated on my way back from lunch this afternoon, but could not discover anything which really wanted to possess, so I compromised with purchasing my first banana of the season.

"The ceremonies begin Monday morning, and my pension people seem to think that the crowds will begin lining the street Sunday night. One should be on the street by 5 o'clock at the very latest, they say, and then the parade will be delayed until 10 o'clock more than likely. The Red Cross people who desire to see the parade are to report here at 6 o'clock and an effort is to be made to reserve a place for them, though it is not sure yet that such a thing will be possible.

Wouldn't Stand For Stands.
"The situation about reserving seats has been rather odd. Several big organizations, the A. R. C. among others, made plans to erect temporary stands for their personnel on the Place de Concord, and along the Champs Elysees, and the erecting was begun.

"Today, when it was about finished and thousands of the A. R. C. people and others had purchased standing room on these bleachers at 20 francs

CLAIMS RAILROADS PAID DIVIDENDS ON STOCK BONUS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Charges that 18 representative railroads operating in all parts of the United States gave way stock bonuses aggregating $450,414,000, from 1900 to 1910 and had paid millions in dividends on these bonuses were made before the house interstate commerce committee by Glenn E. Plumb of Chicago, author of the Plumb plan for tripartite control of the roads.

Mr. Plumb charged further that "these railroads which have so increased their property investment account at the expense of the public are not controlled in whole or in part by the Morgan interest, the Rockefeller and the Gould interests."

"On behalf of all the employees of these systems of transportation and the public," said Mr. Plumb, "we demand that congress shall make a thorough investigation of the charges herein set forth so that the American people may know to what extent it is sought to subject them to exploitation under the plans proposed to this committee of congress, plans which would make lawful the fixing of rates based on the unlawful aggregate property investment accounts of these systems."

FOOD DIRECTORS ENDORSE PALMER PLAN OF ACTION

District Attorneys Directed to Aid Food Administrators in
H. C. L. War.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer today received "enthusiastic" assent from virtually all State Food Administrators, whom he asked for co-operation in the Government's efforts to reduce the high cost of living.

At the same time he sent instructions to all District Attorneys to get in touch with the Food Administrators and to act at once on any evidence of law violation which might come to light in the work of the fair price committees to be reconstituted in every county.

The attention of the District Attorneys also was called to the "unlimited availability" of the Secret Service for any investigative work necessary to the punishment of hoarders and profiteers.

Problems Before Congress.
A development of the day was the request of Mr. Palmer of Secretary David F. Houston that inspectors and packing houses be instructed to furnish to District Attorneys upon request any information they might have. It was not indicated what was contemplated.

Living problems continued to absorb much of the attention of Congress. Federal supervision of the issuance of stocks and certificates was proposed in the Senate.

Cold storage regulation suggested by President Wilson was taken up by the House Agriculture Committee.

C. & O. SHOPMEN WITHOUT ORDERS
Workmen employed in the railway shops of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad at Boston, have received no orders to return to work, according to employees of the company.

The men have been anticipating a call to return to work, in view of the fact that most of the other shops on the road have already been ordered back, but up to noon Tuesday, no orders to return had been received.

Freight traffic was partially resumed Tuesday on the Indiana lines of the road, according to an employee at the Boston station. Local freights are the only trains that are running, however, there being two local trains a day sent out of the Boston yards.

None of the through freight trains have been put on the schedule again. There has been no change in the passenger schedule, two passenger trains daily, running on the road. The freight trains were put back on their regular runs Monday morning.
