

EMBARGOES AND STRIKES TIED UP FACTORIES HERE

Shipments of Raw Material and Finished Product Resumed Everywhere.

The embargo placed on freight by the railroads last week in anticipation of the railroad shopmen's strike seriously handicapped a number of Richmond factories, as they were unable to ship or receive much needed materials.

However, practically all of the factories had enough surplus raw material on hand to enable them to continue their work. As a number of the shopmen are returning to work and the trains are going back to the old time schedules, the predicament in which the local manufacturers were placed, is gradually lessening.

Joseph Mills, of the Richmond Castket company, said that although his business was seriously tied up for a few days, and he was unable to ship, he had sufficient amount of raw material on hand to keep busy, until more arrived. The situation at the casket company is practically cleaned up now.

Superintendent Anderson of the K. D. Cabinet company, said that the company was badly hit by the embargo and that all three factories of the company were unable to ship, except a small amount through Cincinnati.

The cabinet company has a limited supply of raw material on hand, but it has a large number of shipments on the way, and with gradually reversion of shipping back to its pre-strike stride no serious handicap is predicted.

Motor Men "Drive Away."

President Seidel, of the Pilot Motor Car company, said that although he was unable to ship cars, a number of dealers came and drove the cars to their various salesrooms. The company has received little or no shipments, but with the situation clearing up, and enough raw material on hand, it will be able to resume work in full swing very shortly.

Superintendent Howard Hunt of the National Automatic Tool company, says this company has been and still are, seriously held up as the C. and O., with whom they do their shipping, is operating no switch engines and consequently no shipments can enter or leave the plant.

Manager Tiernan, of the Indianapolis Glove company, said that that company was probably the least hit of any of the local factories, as employees of the plant were enjoying their annual vacation all last week, and since opening up Monday have experienced little difficulty.

Walter Reid of the Elliot-Reid company, states that shipments are limited to a certain extent, while practically no materials are coming in. However, the factory has sufficient raw material on hand for two weeks at least, and with the return of the shopmen, the plant will be fully able to resume operations.

Warren Clements, of the Wayne Works, said Thursday that the Wayne Works were very seriously handicapped for a few days, but they were able to ship to a limited extent and also receive a small amount. The plant has plenty of raw material on hand to keep going, and as the situation is gradually clearing up, no more serious trouble is anticipated.

No Relief Yet

T. B. Jenkins, of the Jenkins-Vulcan Spring company, said he was unable to make shipments except to a small extent, while very little goods is coming in. However, a sufficient amount of raw material to enable them to keep going is on hand. No relief has been experienced as yet from the embargo.

Mr. Swayne, of the Swayne, Robinson company, stated that it has been impossible to ship or receive any shipments over the C. & O. in the last ten days. Swayne said that he understood that the railroad would have switch engines operating Friday, and shipping could be resumed. The company has enough raw material to stay at work.

Other large factories in the city, who objected to being quoted, were also seriously handicapped as a result of the strike.

RADICAL BREAK IN GRAIN PRICE TODAY

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Radical downturns in grain and provision prices took place today and the breaks were largely ascribed to seizures of food hordes and to other developments in the war against the high cost of living.

Corn fell 83 cents a bushel to $1.83 for September delivery, and pork $3.35 a barrel to $44. for September.
