POWERFUL PILE
REMEDY DISCOVERED

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Case of Piles in Few Days.

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT!—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.—Adv.

WASHINGTON WILL HAVE GREAT SERIES OF RELIEF FILMS

The world's foremost theatrical celebrities, such as David Belasco, Daniel Frohman, "Flo" Ziegfeld, Otis Skinner, Henry Miller, Cyril Maude and many others, are starred in a series of twelve motion pictures known as the Stage Women's War Relief. All of the pictures will be shown at the Washington theatre here.

The Stage Women's War Relief was organized when the United States entered the war. Its personnel includes great theatrical producers, great stage and screen stars, great authors and operatic stars.

To Build Hospital.

The proceeds from the pictures will be used by the organization to erect a hospital-theatre in New York for wounded American soldiers.

Amelia Galli-Curci, the famous opera singer who appeared in Richmond some time ago, is co-starred in one of the series of pictures the title of which is "The Madonna of the Slums."

Some of the other stars who appear in the productions follow: David Belasco, who has successfully produced more than 200 plays, Daniel Frohman, Cyril Maude, Violet Henning, David Bispham, Edward Martindel, Henry Miller, Otis Skinner, Constance Binney, Jane Grey, Thomas A. Wise, Shelley Hull, who is a native Hoosier, Hamilton Revelle, Julia Dean, Julia Arthur and many others.

pocket, a safe-cracker owing two years to San Quentin prison, who finds refuge with his pal, Dominie, in Win-niest Hall when he is believed to be the long-absent master of the house. Dick Castleman, only to be exposed by his pal when Dominie hears of his engagement to Jean Logan, obliging him to reveal himself as the real Dick Castleman and to explain that his deception was practised for the purpose of bringing back the lost soul of his pal, Harold Lockwood has a most colorful role in a picture which it is believed will be numbered among the most successful vehicles he has ever had.

"Pals First" is a picturized version of the stage success of the same name prepared by Lee Wilson Dodd from the novel by Francis Perry Elliott, published by Messrs. Harper and Brothers. In the cast, as support to Mr. Lockwood, appear Ruby de Renier, James Lackaye, Richard R. Neill, Anthony P. Byrd, Pauline Dempsey, Frank de Vernon, Walter P. Lewis and Rollo Lloyd. Edwin Carewe directed the picture.

As Danny Rowland, the hero, Lockwood does the best work of his brilliant career. Only an actor of the most finished abilities could have essayed this light, romantic, spirited role of a rogue and a gentleman, and kept his audience in sympathy with the character. His sense of comedy is equal to the finest in the history of the screen, a talent, which, coupled with his romantic gifts, places him far above the run of most stars.

Farm Supplies To Be Sold at U. S. Auction

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—An announcement for the coming sale at auction of 1,540 sets of double harness and 110,000 new halters was made today by the war department. No minimum bid has been fixed and farmers and other users may offer proposals on any number their needs may demand. The stock is all stored at San Antonio, Tex.

On August 19, the department will offer for sale at auction, at the Boston supply base, 16,000 dozen sheep skins and a quantity of "shearlings." The skins will be offered in lots of 1,000.

Still another item of surplus equipment, the sale of which is to be pushed, is gas masks. It has been suggested these be used by firemen, a recent test in New York city having proved very successful. A tentative price of $5 each has been fixed.

Several thousand gallons of "vatu-drip," a compound used for preventing metal rust, will be sold at Indianapolis; fifty thousand camp kettles will be offered at the New York zone supply office on Aug. 28, and preparations are being made to find a market for 4,700 kitchen fire-shovels, stored at Philadelphia, and sale of which is expected to be held Sept. 8.

When a millionaire marries a girl whose father is bankrupt, he ought to have a pretty good hunch that she likes his "dough" as much as his personality—especially when she has already turned him down at a previous proposal.

In "The Rescuing Angel," a new Paramount picture starring Shirley Mason, Miss Mason plays the role of Angela, the girl who is caught in just such a peculiar situation. To cap the climax, a boyish lover whom she cared for but had to discard for a man with money, resented her attitude, and to prevent her marrying his rival explains to the rival that the girl wanted to marry him merely for his money. The boy didn't know, however, that the marriage had already taken place.

One might say the poor fish should have known that it was his money that she wanted, and not him, and should not have had to be told that by a mere boy. But wait a minute—maybe one would be wrong and perhaps the girl did love him. Maybe in the beginning she didn't even know that she loved him, but discovered it afterwards. If you want to find out all about it see "The Rescuing Angel" at the Murray theatre today.

MURRETTE

Elsie Ferguson, the beautiful Art-craft star, has a superb photoplay in "His Parisian Wife," her latest starring vehicle written by Eve Unsell and directed by Emilie Chautard, and which is shown at the Murette theatre today.

Miss Ferguson plays the part of a girl reporter of Paris and the role is said to afford her ample opportunities for the display of her rich dramatic talents.

As Fauvette, Miss Ferguson weds a Boston lawyer whose parents refuse to recognize her as their daughter-in-law, and their hostility toward her, based upon a complete misunderstanding of her nature, leads to a separation from her husband. The eternal triangle enters into the story later with happy results, for the bride and her husband are reconciled after the former has won her spurs as a novelist of rare powers. The story is one of unusual interest and deep heart appeal and its development to a logical denouement is accomplished without a jarring note. David Powell is the leading man.
