WISCONSIN MAN COULDN'T RIDE ON STREET CAR

Was Almost Nervous Wreck, Says Tanlac Is Worth its Weight in Gold.

"I would not take one thousand dollars for the good Tanlac has done me," said Arthur Baars, employed by the Milwaukee Paper Box Co., and residing at 1207 Eighteenth St., Milwaukee, in telling the Tanlac representative of his improvement since taking the medicine.

"Yes, sir, this medicine has put me in shape so I can do more work than I've been able to do before in years, and you can just tell the people I think it is worth its weight in gold," continued Mr. Baars, as he went on with his statement.

"My trouble started three years ago when I had a collapse caused by overheat. I was down in bed three months from this spell, and it left me in an awful fix; in fact I became almost a nervous wreck. I couldn't work regularly—was up one day and down the next. Actually, I was so nervous I couldn't ride on the street cars, and being in a crowd or amongst a little excitement would completely upset me, and I would shake like a leaf and it would take several days to get over it. I had such terrific headaches at times my head felt like iron bands were tied around it. Some nights I would have to sit up in bed and get my wife to bathe my head to get a little relief, and many times I couldn't get to sleep until four or five o'clock in the morning on account of these headaches and nervous spells. This is just the shape I was in when one of the men at the shop suggested to me that I take Tanlac, and I agreed to do it, but I had little faith in it or any other medicine.

"By the time the first bottle was gone the headaches had disappeared, and my nerves began to get steady. To make a long story short, this Tanlac made me feel like a different man, and now I haven't a sign of nervousness or the other troubles that had been pulling me down for the past three years. I sleep fine, get up in the morning feeling refreshed and rested and ready for my day's work. I eat three hearty meals every day—something I couldn't do before—and what I eat agrees with me, and I am gaining in strength and weight every day. This Tanlac certainly beats anything I ever saw in my life."

Tanlac proved of great benefit to Mr. Baars because it contains certain medicinal properties which enrich the blood and promote a healthy appetite for nourishing food. Tanlac has been very successful in overcoming nervousness and sleeplessness, not from a quieting effect on the nerves, for it has no such effect, but by strengthening the nerves and body and bringing the normal state of health through its effect on the appetite and nutrition of the body. Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Clem Thistlethwaite; in Greensfork by C. D. Sorine; in Cambridge City by Mr. Dean House; in Pershing by Sourbeer & Rodenberg; in Centerville by Centerville Pharmacy, and in Milton by W. L. Parkinson, Adv.

A Chance to Live---By Zoe Beckley

TROUBLES NEVER COME SINGLY

Meanwhile Annie, upstairs, had got herself under control and was straightening up her house as she tried to think out what to do. Bernie's office must be notified. The family must be told. She must dress herself and the baby and hasten as soon as possible to the hospital and find out how Bernie was.

Annie decided first to telephone the chemical house where Bernard worked, and went round to the drug store, taking Robsie with her. She found the name in the book, called the number and asked for the manager.

"This is Mrs. Bernard Carroll—the wife of your shipping clerk, Bernard—is very ill," she tried to keep her voice steady—"and has been taken to the hospital. Pneumonia, I think."

The man was kind. Bernard was a good shipping clerk, the most intelligent young man he'd had in a long while. He was making 40 to 50 per cent on Bernie's wages. It would be impossible to replace him satisfactorily for $14.

"Why, that's too bad; I'm sorry to hear that," he said. "I'll send Carroll's pay to you today. This is Friday; we'll call it a week. Let me know how he gets along."

Annie thanked him and hung up. It was something to be sure of the $14, for she had less than a dollar in her purse, and there was the doctor to be paid. Then she walked to her mother's. Mrs. Hargan had been very poorly of late. Annie hated to add to her burdens with this new one. While she was greeting her mother and thinking how best to begin, Mrs. Hargan said: "Well, Ann—seems like we're in for more bad luck. Your Aunt Margaret's lost her position at Simm's."

Annie could only gasp "No!" Simm's got a young girl for her place," went on Mrs. Hargan, her thin voice taking on new hopelessness. "Said Margaret wasn't fast enough. Gave her two weeks' salary and fired her—just like that. Heaven knows what she'll do now. Seems there's nobody wanted in this world soon's they are well in forties. I wish I could be out of the way, too. I'm only a care."

Annie stopped her mouth with a kiss and turned comforter when she had come as the bearer of ill news. The story of Bernie must wait. She would go to the hospital and tell the family about him later. Perhaps he would be better.

The hospital where Bernie lay ill of pneumonia was one of those dreary, overworked, under-serviced institutions where the poor are taken. Wheeling the baby in his go-cart, Annie turned in through the gateway to an asphalted courtyard. To the left was the main building, to the right several smaller ones connected by passageways and galleries. As she looked around for the proper entrance a man's voice called behind her, "Hey—where you going? This way in."

She turned. The man was in the doorway of a sort of lodge beside the entrance, and beckoned her to come back. She had gone in through the drive that admitted ambulances. She left Robsie at the door of the small building and went inside. There was a long desk and grating, behind which clerks were writing in big books or on cards and slips, or telephoning, or curiously answering other anxious visitors like Annie.

Some of the callers were foreigners, who got more and more bewildered as the clerks shouted instructions—as if by sheer lung power the meaning should penetrate the alien minds!

"Whoever wanner see?" asked the man behind the desk. "My husband, Bernard Carroll." As she said the words Annie felt more desolate, more alone, more poor and helpless than ever before in her life. "Carroll—anywan on the book by the name of Carroll, Jake?" called out the attendant to another who was turning the leaves of a ledger. (To be continued.)

What Is Rheumatism? Why Suffer from It?

SUFFERERS SHOULD REALIZE THAT IT IS A BLOOD INFECTION AND CAN BE PERMANENTLY CURED.

Rheumatism means that the blood has become saturated with uric acid poison.

It does not require medical advice to know that good health is absolutely independent upon pure blood. When the muscles and joints become sore and drawn with rheumatism, it is not a wise thing to take a little salve and by rubbing it on the sore spot, expect to get rid of your rheumatism. You must go deeper than that, down deep into the blood where the poison lurks and which is not effected by salves and ointments. It is important that you rid yourself of this terrible disease before it goes too far. S. S. S. is the blood cleanser that has stood the test of time, having been in constant use for more than fifty years. It will do for you what it has done for thousands of others. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, it will do the work and will not harm the most delicate stomach.

THE "BLUES"

Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are despondent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Nor is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloating, etc., will, if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach! Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings, oh! such quick relief from your stomach troubles—sets your stomach to right—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Helps you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvellously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same relief if you will just give it a trial. Get a big bottle that you can take a bit of candy—from your drugist today. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.
