

Heart and Beauty Problems

By Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl fifteen years of age. I am in love with a boy of twenty-three and he says he loves me. I have known him six months and loved him from the first. He works at the same place I do and I see him all the time. He doesn't go with any of the girls and thinks I am too young to go with a boy. He said if I still cared for him a year from now he would go with me. I try not to care for him, but cannot help it.

(1) Do you think he loves me?

(2) Do you think he is right by not going with me now?

(3) All the boys like me and want to go with me, but I don't go with them as I love this boy. Am I right to wait a year and then go with him?

BLUE EYES.

(1) I do not believe the boy loves you or he would want to go with you now in spite of his better judgment. I do believe, however, that he regards you as a very dear friend and wants to protect you against going with boys before you are old enough. You should be thankful if this is his attitude.

(2) I do think he is right by not going with you now.

(3) Do not think of going with any boy for at least a year. Even then you will be very young. Try not to think about the boy, because the more you do the more you will love him, and if anything happens that he does not go with you at the end of the year your heart will be broken.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl sixteen years old. I will graduate next year, before I am seventeen years old, and so I am up with my studies.

Household Hints---By Mrs. Morton

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Cream Gravy—Wash quart of currants and place in pan, cover with water, season with salt and sugar to taste. Make cream sauce one-half cup sour milk or cream and two teaspoons flour, stir until smooth. Pour sauce gradually into boiling berries, stirring constantly, until all used. Gooseberries, quinces, sour cherries, apples, or sour pickles can all be prepared the same way. Very good with meats.

Eggs and Potatoes—Six potatoes cooked in jackets, six hard boiled eggs. Grease baking dish, place one row sliced potatoes, one row sliced egg, salt, butter, cream or milk until all used. Over all pour milk or cream, sweet or sour, and bake until brown. Delicious for a lunch.

Chicken Paprika—Have chicken cut in small pieces, slice and brown two onions in tablespoon lard, sprinkle chicken with salt and paprika; cover well and cook slowly. When done add half pint cream; serve with hard dumplings. Veal is very good served the same way.

Spaghetti or Macaroni With Neapolitan Sauce—Take olive oil to cover bottom of the pan, brown two onions cut up fine, then add one can of tomatoes, adding a little water and salt; cook for about an hour.

Boil the spaghetti, drain and arrange on platter, pour above mixture on and mix, put grated cheese on top.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT
Pretty Fruit Salad—Select a medium sized honey dew of casaba melon. Cut so as to form a basket, leaving a handle one and one-half inches wide. With silver tablespoon scoop out egg-shaped pieces of melon; place in a bowl, and leave all in cold place to chill thoroughly.

Shortly before serving, drain the basket and pieces of melon thoroughly. Mix with canned, sliced pineapple and a light colored mayonnaise and fill the basket, a bit of fern or smilax

Dr. Clokey, Former Pastor
Here, Dead of Apoplexy

OXFORD, O., Aug. 18.—Rev. Joseph W. Clokey, D.D., a retired Presbyterian preacher, dropped dead of apoplexy yesterday morning while preparing to attend church services.

Dr. Clokey was 80 years of age. For many years he resided in New Albany, Ind., in which city he was pastor of a church. During his early ministry Dr. Clokey was a United Presbyterian. His second charge was as pastor of the U. B. church in Richmond, Ind.

Congressman Refuses
Present of Oil Stock

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 18.—The attention of members of congress is being attracted to what appears to be a new and ingenious scheme of blue sky stock promotion.

Gifts of shares of stock in oil companies, with the revenue paid, have been received by numerous congressmen.

Representative Clement Brumbaugh, of the Columbus (Ohio) district, has set an example for less discreet souls by losing no time in sending back the share of stock received by him, accompanied by a letter that "had the bark" on it.

"I am returning herewith said share of stock as I refuse to accept the same," Mr. Brumbaugh wrote. He warned them against placing his name on any advertising material.

BRICK FOR OXFORD PAVING

OXFORD, O., Aug. 18.—After squabbling for three hours on the question of using brick or asphalt for paving East High street, the village council Saturday night decided on brick. The contract was awarded to J. M. Hennessy & Brother, of Piqua, at their bid of $35,838.

MIDDLETOWN WILL SUPPLY

OXFORD'S LIGHT AND POWER
OXFORD, O., Aug. 18.—The village council has granted a twenty-five year franchise to the Ohio Gas and Electric company of Middletown, for furnishing light, heat and power to the people of this village. Also the company's bid for current to operate the waterworks plant was accepted.

True Stories of Successful Women

By Edith Moriarty

When the war started I was going with a young man and he enlisted and went to France and was gone over a year. He came home a few weeks ago and hasn't been to see me yet. I don't want to be too serious with him, but I love him very much. My parents approve of him and think it all right for me to go with him. I have written to him all the time he was gone and he wrote to me to tell me what he was doing. I have my pictures and I have him. When he was in camp I received three or four letters a week from him. In every one he was always saying what we would do when he got back home. Whenever he sees me he speaks real nice, but doesn't stop and talk.

I think some of the girls that want to go with him have told him things that are not true. What shall I do, go and talk to him and tell him they are not true or wait and see if he will come and ask me if they are so or not?

I could go with many other boys, but don't want to. I like him best, as he is certainly a perfect gentleman.

If I get to talk to him would it be proper to ask him down some Sunday for dinner? A BLONDE.

Do not invite the young man to dinner. He is showing by his actions that he does not care for your company any longer, and no matter what his reason, you would not compromise yourself by running after him.

He is not the only desirable young man in town. Sometime you will look back on this experience and realize that he was most unkind and you were foolish to be unhappy because of him.

At the end of three years she was getting eighty-five dollars a month and the prospects of ever getting any more money were not very bright. She would have to become a principal and most of the principals were men.

Katherine was becoming a little dissatisfied although she scarcely knew it herself. It was not until one vacation when she was back in her home in a large city that she realized that she no longer wanted to teach. Her best friend was writing advertising for one of the large department stores. She was earning twice as much as Katherine and was getting much more enjoyment and pleasure out of her work.

Changes Her Work

"Come work for me, I need an assistant," she said one day when the two were lunching together. Katherine returned to the store with her friend and started to work that very afternoon.

She got courage enough to show them to her friend.

Her pay was only sixty dollars a month, but she decided that if she learned anything about advertising the money did not matter. Her duties were practically those of a general office clerk and she often wondered if she had made a mistake because she seemed to get no experience in writing copy.

Instead her time was occupied with cutting out the ads that her friend wrote and pasting them in a big book and then each month measuring up the space and figuring up the bills. Each morning she went around to the different departments and brought up models of the article which would be advertised the next day. Before anyone arrived she would write an advertisement about the things.

Sometimes she would write two or three and after she done this for several months she finally got courage enough to show some of them to her friend.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

friend. To Katherine's surprise her friend arranged them on forms and put them in place for the artist to sketch. Often after she finished her friend took them and said she would use one in the next day's paper.

After that Katherine began studying different kinds of type in order to know how to set her copy and after she had mastered that by herself began to study clothes and style. She read all the time every paper she could find, and especially the papers from the larger fashion centers. She bought and studied the best fashion magazines and she spent most of her hour looking about in the other large stores in her city.

At the end of two years Katherine was earning just twice as much as she had earned after three years of teaching. She was doing most of the work in the advertising department and was doing it far better than had ever been done before.

Her friend, who had gradually drifted from writing copy to managing the department and doing the sketching, finally left her place to be married and Katherine, who was next in line, was given the position, at a salary of fifty dollars a week.

She Loses That Schoolmarm Look.

The big change in Katherine's life, however, was not a financial one. She herself was changing every day. She was becoming broader and slowly but surely she had shaken from her that schoolteacher look.

Her clothes were no longer of sea-son-before-last; if anything, because the firm wanted her to be the exponent of their good styles, they were season-after-next kind. She did not know that her school teaching years were entirely wasted because it was in the school room that she learned how to manage people and how to be sympathetic and it was her way of doing both these things which made her one of the most popular employees in the store.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

Now she goes to New York every month with various buyers and when she writes in an ad that there will be a sale of a "sample lot of business" she knows just what is talking about for she was there when the sample lot was bought. She not only knows her end of the business, but she is well-informed upon the stock and sales and receipts of every department.

She had only been advertising manager for four months when she had an offer from a larger concern in the same city. She accepted and became a special advertising manager for the women's apparel departments only, and at a salary of sixty dollars a week.

ment for which she does the advertising.

She has two artists who work under her direction and two other assistants. She runs almost a page of advertising in four daily papers, which means that she must oversee the writing, making up and proof-reading on all four of them daily.

She is twenty-nine years old today, earning one hundred dollars a week and only just starting in a field which she has been slow to recognize women. Her future may lie in any number of different directions, but she hopes to have an advertising agency of her own some day where she will do advertising for many kinds of things and not just women's apparel.

business trip....T. E. Davis was in Richmond, Ind., Friday on business... Bert Clark of New York City spent Wednesday with his sister, Miss Helen Clark.

LUNCHROOM WORKERS STRIKE

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Riotous outbreaks in which a few shots were fired took place in the downtown district here tonight, when lunchroom employees went on strike.

The soap that pays for itself

-in work saved
-in fuel saved
-in time saved
-in clothes saved

The naptha dissolves the dirt
No hard rubbing
and no boiling necessary

WRIGLEY'S

Helps appetite and digestion. Three flavors.

IT'S not enough to make WRIGLEY'S good we must KEEP it good until you get it. Hence the sealed package—impurity-proof—guarding, preserving the delicious contents—the beneficial goody.

The Flavor Lasts

SEALED TIGHT

KEPT RIGHT

Advertising in the PALLADIUM
Is An Investment Not An Expense

Van Camp's Milk
The Best Milk Produced in America
Sterilized and Safe
After this milk is hermetically sealed it is sterilized by heat. Thus it comes to you a germ-free milk, safe for drinking, safe for infants.
The dangers which lurk in ordinary milk are absent in Van Camp's.
If you want very thick cream use Van Camp's as it is. For coffee, cereals and ice cream it can even be diluted. To reduce to rich milk add an equal part of water. Just replace what we take out.
For cooking reduce still further. For every purpose, you get full-cream milk when you use Van Camp's.

Van Camp Products Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

550