

CINCINNATI PLAYS SUPERBAS TWICE THIS AFTERNOON

Rain Spoils Game Monday—
Leaders Must Win to Take Season's Series.

BROOKLYN, August 19.—After another day of rain, the final game of the Brooklyn series will be doubled up on Ebbets field this afternoon. Monday's game was cancelled early in the day, after old J. Plutius had spilled his dampness on Greater New York for 24 hours, and the field looked more like a swimming pond than a ball park.

The Giants were also forced into a day's rest, and this means that their games at the Polo grounds will be transferred to Chicago, later in the season.

Today is the last day of the Reds' stay in Brooklyn, and it will be necessary for them to win both games, to take the season's series. So far this season, Pat's warriors have split even on eight games played.

Mamaux, Cadore to Pitch.
The league leaders realize that they will have to face a hard proposition in Mamaux and Cadore, for these two hurlers have been giving the Reds considerable trouble all season, and are just the kind of pitchers against whom they have a hard time.

Mamaux recently won a thirteen-inning battle from the Cubs, and Cadore handed the Reds a clever trimming a couple of weeks ago at Cincinnati.

Manager Moran probably will use Ring and Eller in the final series. Ring will be able to win if he pitches the same class of ball as he pitched against the Giants last Wednesday, as the Reds' support is not likely to crack against the Superbas, as it did in the Giant game. Eller has been very successful against the Robins this season, and the Reds are hoping to make it a double victory.

Pat Duncan, outfielder, who was recently purchased from the Southern association, has been showing well in practice and may be given a trial in the double bill this afternoon.

HIGHLY TOUTED DAYTON TEAM TO APPEAR SUNDAY

The Dayton Americans will appear here next Sunday, August 24, said Sam Vigan, manager of the Richmond Quakers. Tuesday. A team of this calibre seldom has an open date, says Vigan, but owing to a cancelled game, the Americans accepted and will be seen here Sunday.

The visitors defeated the Farmland team 4 to 1, and the Farmland team handed the Indianapolis A. B. C. team a trimming, and the latter in turn badly walloped the Indianapolis All-Stars. The Americans were defeated by the world's champion Cincinnati-Norwood by the small score of 1 to 0. The Newcastle Marxwells defeated the Americans recently only 2 to 1, and using the words of the American's manager, Harold Jordan, "the Americans will probably show the Quakers some opposition."

Shop Early at the Bank

"Why not ask your readers to shop early at the bank just as you're asking them to shop early at the stores?" suggests a Quincy banker. "So many people wait until almost closing time to bring in their deposits or to draw their payrolls. A little forethought would avoid these last minute rushes and save the annoyance and delay of waiting in line at a teller's window." Now we never thought of that before. Did you? Yet it's plain that early banking saves our time as well as the banker's, relieves the congestion and distributes the work through the day.

"Well that's an easy way to be helpful," you're probably saying as you make a mental note to have that deposit ready at least an hour earlier hereafter.

It will not do for any of us to assume a what-care-I attitude toward any form of business waste—to conclude that the tardy depositor is a problem for the banker alone to cope with and solve.

For banking is a 50-50 proposition and here as elsewhere we serve ourselves in helping others. You are therefore doing yourself a good turn when you "shop" early at your bank just as you
