

Household Hints---By Mrs. Morton

RECIPES FOR A DAY
Tasty Salad—Material: Boston head lettuce; mayonnaise, one tablespoon; chili sauce, one tablespoon; chopped parsley, one teaspoon; chopped egg, one; chopped beets, one teaspoon; mushroom catsup, one teaspoon; tarragon vinegar, one teaspoon; onion juice, one teaspoon; paprika.

Utensils: Soup plate, silver fork, measuring spoon, tablespoon.

Directions: Measure the mayonnaise into the soup plate and add, a little at a time, all of the given ingredients, beets, eggs and parsley all chopped very fine. Arrange lettuce leaves on the salad plates for four people and distribute the dressing over each serving. Serve at once with hot wafers.

Chocolate Cream Pie—Materials: Chocolate, two squares or cocoa, one-half cup; fine white breadcrumbs, one-half cup; milk, two cups; sugar, one-half cup; salt, one-quarter teaspoon; vanilla, one teaspoon; pastry, eggs, three.

Utensils: Measuring cup, teaspoon, double boiler, wooden spoon, eggbeater.

er, bowl, pie tin, grater, tablespoon. Directions: Melt the chocolate or cocoa in the double boiler. Mix the sugar, breadcrumbs, beaten egg, yolks, salt and milk. Add to the chocolate and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire and add flavoring. Pour this into a pie-crust shell which has been baked over the bottom of a perforated pie tin. Cover with a meringue made from the whites of two eggs beaten until stiff, then adding two tablespoons of sugar and one teaspoon of lemon juice; or mix pearl onions and serve over all. Serve at once. A filling of chopped celery and nuts is also good.

Put Up Every Pound of Fruit You Can Get This Summer

Delicious Jams, Jellies and Preserves made by this recipe:

Many a woman hesitates to try putting up fruit at home.

She fears she will only waste expensive materials.

It really is very simple. Just make your preserving syrup with $\frac{1}{2}$ Karo (Red Label) and $\frac{1}{2}$ sugar instead of sugar alone.

You can then be as sure of your results as the woman who always has "luck" with her preserving.

Nice fine, clear Karo Syrup has a natural affinity for the fruit juices. It blends the sugar with the juice—brings out the rich "fruity" flavor, and insures firm jams and jellies that never "candy" in the glass.

A well-filled fruit pantry will give you much pleasure this winter, when fresh fruits are scarce and high, if you just use Karo Syrup with your sugar.

For Cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

FREE Preserving is easy when you have the sixtieth page Care Products Cook Book ready. Wonderful recipes—easy to follow. Beautiful illustrations. Write us today for it. It is free.

A Chance to Live---By Zoe Beckley

THE ALIENS

Following the birth of Baby Anna when through a succession of sicknesses, the Carrolls' finances had reached their lowest ebb, Rose—still the kind, practical Rose Rothberg of childhood—had met Annie on the street one day.

"Ain't you the foolish one, worrying yourself to a bone about the grocer, and me with a store where you can get the whole stock and pay when you like!" said Rose heartily. "Didn't I tell you I know what trouble is? You ain't got troubles, Ann, like there is down my way. When you want a change you come down to my flat and sit a while with my mother while I tend the store. She hasn't been strong for a long while. She don't see hardly any one but the children, and she gets lonely."

Annie had accepted Rose's offer of help. But the payment of the money debt did not end the matter for Annie. She kept up an affectionate friendship with the Gubin-Rothberg family. She drank many a hospitable glass of tea with them, sat many an hour listening to stories of prosperity there, and the coming to the "land of promise" which, after all, had only substituted new troubles for old. True, there were no hideous "pogroms" here. And a Jew might travel where he would find education in the public schools, follow what profession he chose, live in every neighborhood he could afford.

"But, oh, the dirt!" Mrs. Rothberg would hold up her hands—still handsome, shapely hands, for all the household delving they had done, and showing a strain of ancestral fineness. "The dirt of Suffolk street! I think when I first saw Suffolk street something broke in my heart. The garbage piled around the doorsteps, the push-carts loaded with everything in the world and dust from the street blowing over them. The smells. The dirty people. The dreadful, dreadful tements. Nu, will I ever forget it?

And yet I remember," she would go on in her broken English, "the first night in that Suffolk street room. There was my husband and me and Rosie and the four smaller ones. We made our beds on the bare floors. And when we laid down to sleep, my husband he said, 'Well, we will not be disturbed by soldiers searching the place! We will have peace.'

Tell the man that you must know him better before you can become engaged. If, after a few months' friendship you find that you love each other marry. If you strive to improve yourself in the years to come he will not tire of you. You can make him proud of you socially if you study and observe. Yes, I believe you can make him happy if you try.
