MURRAY VAUDEVILLE

Four young men who sing well, and a young lady who brings back to the days of "Florodora" and "The Belle of New York" with her impersonations, are the headliners of the new bill which opened yesterday at The Murray for the last-half. The act opens with a special setting representing a cabaret, then later goes into an apartment scene where the quartet makes a big hit strumming a ukelele and singing "blues." The Marshes are two young men who throw Indian clubs at each other with the speed of a Red Eler. They also produce a lot of laughs with some comedy hat work. Rosalie Asher, appears in her own setting, and blows bubbles over the audience while singing a song. Committee To Consider 50 Per Cent Increase for Postal Employees of Indiana

The twelfth congressional investigation committee will hold sessions in Cincinnati September 22 and 23 for the purpose of hearing the request of postal employees of Indiana for an adequate increase in salaries, said Postmaster C. B. Beck, Friday.

Beck was asked by a letter from Washington some time ago, along with all first class postmasters, to make a statement in regard to a reasonable advance in salaries for postal employees. He said in his statement that he thought that a 50 per cent increase over the pre-war salary of the employees would be adequate.

No postal employee, said Beck, has received over a 25 per cent increase in salary since the war broke out, and a number have received little or no increases.

M'BRIEN WARNS TEACHERS AGAINST OVER-DISCIPLINE

"Your Young People and What Shall We Do With Them," was the subject of James L. McBrien, of the National Department of Public Education who delivered his final address before the Wayne County Teachers' Institute, Friday morning.

"How may we help these young people of ours to help themselves?" asked McBrien, saying he believed the answer to this question to be even more important than the signing of the peace treaty.

In answering his question he pointed to the main sources of guidance—the school, the home, the church, and the Sunday school, and admitted that he considered the home extremely important in its influence.

Parents to Fault
"The chief causes of the failures of boys and girls can be laid at the feet of their fathers and mothers; at the door of their home," said he.

"It is pretty hard to tell in some cases whether the parents live with the children or the children live with the parents," the speaker said. "Over rigid supervision of the child leads to despotism; all lack of child guidance becomes anarchy," said McBrien. "I believe that over governing in the home of his father, who was a minister, made Robert Ingersoll the greatest infidel of his time. Instead of his sort of a place we should make home the happiest, greatest and best place in the world."

Hot Storm in Action---Sat. 9th and Main Stop this Waste of High Priced Fuel

Do you know that the average stove shoots 50 to 75% of its heat up the chimney? It's a fact. Heating engineers will tell you so.

Here's a stove that's different. It makes your fuel do double duty—extracts a greater percentage of heat from the fuel and throws it out into the room. This heater is the
