

GREAT BRITAIN HIT IN LEAGUE PACT REVISION

Amendment Passed by Committee Gives America and British Equal Votes.

WASHINGTON, August 30.—Another amendment to the peace treaty, providing that the United States shall have as many representatives as the British empire on the league of nations assembly was adopted Friday afternoon by the senate foreign relations committee.

The vote was 9 to 8, Senator McCumber, Republican, standing with the Democrats against the amendment. The provision as framed would not reduce the six votes held by Great Britain and its dominions, on the assembly, but simply would provide that the United States have equal representation.

The amendment as the first to be adopted by the committee relating to the league covenant. It was presented by Senator Johnson, Republican, California.

Affects Council Also.
The amendment also contains the same provision regarding the league council, the effect of which would be to offset the possibility that Great Britain and her dominions might be represented on the council at one time. In the council there are to be nine members, one from each of the five big powers and the other two from small states to be selected from time to time.

Under the amendment the following proviso would be inserted in the covenant:

"That when any member of the league has or possesses self-governing dominions or colonies or parts of empire which are also members of the league, the United States shall have votes in the assembly or council of the league numerically equal to the aggregate vote of such member of the league and its self-governing dominions and colonies and parts of empire in the council or assembly of the league."

Two Other Changes.
The committee also adopted two other amendments providing that the American representatives on the reparations commission shall vote only when specifically instructed to do so by this government and that none of the British dominions may take part in deciding a dispute under the league to which one of them is a party.

The reparations amendment was proposed by Senator Fall, Republican, New Mexico, and the other by Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire. The vote in each case was 9 to 8, the Democrats and Senator McCumber voting in the negative.

The Moses amendment followed a suggestion made by former President Taft and was considered necessary by the Republican members to preclude any possibility that the British dominions could act together to prevent any one of them being overthrown in a decision by the league.

COUNTY SCHOOLS 11 TEACHERS SHORT; TO OPEN IN 3 DAYS

With the opening of the fall term only three days away, there is still a shortage of eleven teachers in the Wayne county schools, according to C. O. Williams, county superintendent. Township, consolidated and corporate schools throughout the county have been begging for teachers all summer, and according to Williams' statement, there is still a shortage of seven high school and four grade teachers.

Every effort will be made to complete the list before Tuesday, but there is little probability that this can be done, and trustees are planning to close some of the county schools until teachers can be obtained. No definite steps have been taken toward closing any of the county schools, although Williams said Saturday that he would order the district schools closed before any of the consolidated township schools.

High schools teachers have been asked to double up on their work until teachers can be hired to relieve the shortage. High school teachers are needed for Domestic Science and Latin.

There's a Touch of Tomorrow

in All That Cole Does Today

The Vital Importance of What is to Be

THE Delphian oracle exercised its mighty influence over the ancient Greeks, not because it interpreted what had happened—but because it prophesied what was to come.

In this day and age, there's nothing more obsolete than yesterday's newspaper, but there's always a crowd around a bulletin board!

The world moves irresistibly forward—onward. There's no standing still. Those who do not progress fall behind.

What is to be—not what has been—commands our attention. Interest centers in the future—not in the past.

For ten years the career of the Cole has been characterized by big undertakings.

It was one of the first two American-built eight-cylinder cars. It was the first automobile to which the principles of aerotype construction were applied.

But, if the Cole company had stopped there—if it had not built a structure for future achievement on this foundation of past accomplishment, it could not have progressed.

Cole's Latest Creations Herald Future Progress

COLE contributions have been significant. Season after season, year after year, they have given the motoring world things that were new, original and a bit in advance of the times.

The Aero-EIGHT was the sponsor of a new fashion in motor cars. The open models came as a complete innovation in body designing and performance efficiency.

The new Aero-EIGHT all-season cars, which have just appeared, are, likewise, exclusively new and advanced conceptions. Their flush panel construction is an advantageous and pleasing departure in coach building.

Their restful comfort, their easy riding qualities, their wide range of performance is not to be compared with any previous attainment in the development of enclosed equipages.

The vacuum, full-vision windshield of the Touraine and Toursedan, is a significant improvement.

The care and taste evidenced in the exterior finish, the selection of the velvety fabrics within, and the completeness and dignity of the minor refinements with which the Aero-EIGHT all-season cars are adorned, bespeak the fine workmanship they embody.

Inspired by a single aim—to anticipate the trend of the future and be the first to give it tangible expression—Cole is now universally recognized as the creator of advanced motor cars.

That is why—when a distinctively new type of car appears—the public anticipates finding the Cole nameplate on it.
