

WILSON TO CALL CONFERENCE ON LABOR PROBLEM

Labor Day Message Expresses Intention to Bring Labor and Industry Together.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—President Wilson, in a Labor day message to American workers Sunday, announced that he would call, in the near future, a conference of representatives of labor and industry "to discuss fundamental means of bettering the whole relationship of capital and labor and putting the whole question of wages upon another footing."

The message, as made public at the White House, follows:

"I am encouraged and gratified by the progress which is being made in controlling the cost of living. The support of the movement is widespread and I confidently look for substantial results, although I must counsel patience as well as vigilance, because results will not come instantly or without teamwork."

"Let me again emphasize my appeal to every citizen of the country to continue to give his personal support in this, and to make it as active as possible."

Urge Personal Economy.

"Let him not only refrain from doing anything which at the moment will tend to increase the cost of living, but let him do all in his power to increase the production; and further than that let him at the same time himself carefully economize in the matter of consumption."

"By common action in this direction we shall overcome a danger greater than the danger of war."

"We will hold steady a situation which is fraught with possibilities of hardship and suffering to a large part of our population."

"We will enable the process of production to overtake the processes of consumption, and we will speed the restoration of an adequate purchasing power for wages."

Gratified at Support.

"I am particularly gratified at the support which the government policy has received from the representatives of organized labor and I earnestly hope that the workers generally will emphatically endorse the position of their leaders and thereby move with the government instead of against it in the solution of this greatest domestic problem."

"I am calling for as early a date as practicable a conference in which authoritative representatives of labor and of those who direct labor will discuss fundamental means of bettering the whole relationship of capital and labor and putting the whole question of wages upon another footing."

WOODROW WILSON."

The proposed conference it was stated authoritatively Sunday, would be called to meet soon after President Wilson returns at the end of September from his speech making tour of the West. It was thought likely that the meeting would be held at the White House as was the reconstruction conference of Governors and mayors last spring.

$10,000 PAID AT HAGERSTOWN SALE

The highest price paid in the Polled Angus cattle ring at the auction sale of show stock at Hagerstown, on Saturday, was $600 for Elfrida, a yearling heifer owned by J. W. Ball, of Newcastle, and Harry Laudig was the purchaser. The next highest priced animal, Queen of Rosenberry, dating from September, 1918, went to Harry Davis of Hagerstown, at $410.

Ainsworth and Son paid $215 for a cow and calf, and $200 for Balhagard Queen, a four year old. Two registered Shorthorns, with calves at side, brought $100 each.

As the sale was open to all comers to make everything as interesting as possible, some farmers put up unregistered stock for the benefit of farm buyers. These went at average sale prices, depending on quality and ages.

Very few of the handsome Belgian and Percheron exhibits were shown in the sale ring, nor were the driving or saddle horses put up by their owners.

These were simply entered as show features to lend interest to the affair in a public spirited way. A two-year old Percheron filly was bid in by Frank Stout at $212.50.

The sale opened at 1:30 Saturday afternoon and netted about $10,000 to the various owners. In the absence of Colonel Fred Repett, of Decatur, Indiana, who was to have sold the Angus offering, William Kirk of Anderson, assisted by Albert Hindman, Everett Button and Clem Conway during the afternoon.
