

$536 RESULT OF TUESDAY DRIVE FOR RED CROSS

House to house canvassers and booth solicitors in the 1919 Red Cross roll call collected from Tuesday noon to Wednesday noon when the second office report of the week was made.

The report includes: First ward, $41; second ward, $50; fourth ward, $131; fifth ward, $29; sixth ward, $23; booth in Kroger's Five and Ten Cent store, $23; Union National bank booth, $20; Second National bank, $44; Dickinson Trust company, $15; First National bank, $32; Westcott Hotel, $17; Pennsylvania station, $21; Knollenberg's, $44; Postoffice, $42; headquarters, $4.00.

In favor of the Red Cross? Well rather. All up and down the lines, rookies, officers, every man praised this institution which served rich man, poor man, wounded man, hale, and hearty man, officers and enlisted men without the slightest degree of distinction.

Returned service men in Richmond say the Red Cross must be backed here at home as it was over there. They ought to know.

A few testimonials which not a man hesitated in giving follow: Harry Long, 218 North Eighteenth street, who served for months with the A. E. F. on the front in France, and who was wounded, said: "The Red Cross is an institution I for one shall not forget. It is simply splendid."

Said Peter Lichtenfels, who also served in France: "I can't say enough for the Red Cross, it would be foolish to start. Its power, its influence for good and human work must be encouraged, that I can say with finality."

Wonderfully Efficient
Carl Maag, of the Swayne-Robinson company, another veteran, said: "Every one should go in for maintaining the Red Cross. It was the most wonderfully efficient relief institution in the war; it will be in civilian life if we stand back of it. I'll be ready with my membership as many years as I live."

Of it Kenneth Toler, another Richmond man who served in France, said: "To let the work at home of the Red Cross fall in its proportionate service to mankind would be a crime. Every place over there we found it; we should find it everywhere here."

Harold Norris, who was wounded, said: "The Red Cross is a great institution; I want to see it keep up its good work."

The committee in charge of the roll call urges people who have been missed to call at the Red Cross headquarters, southwest corner of Tenth and Main streets, "with their heart and a dollar."

"A lot of people are bound to be missed. Many house canvassers found the housewives out," said one of the committee members. These people have not been overlooked, and after all it isn't a question of getting a chance to once more pledge alliance.

HOME-FURNISHING SALE

Where Honor is Due

We do not wish to convey the idea that our store has lived up to our ideals—far from it—but we do wish to impress upon the good folk of this town, that we have from the first day of opening made strenuous efforts to serve with values that were the best in our judgment to be had in the open market—useful values!

That we have succeeded we know from the way in which our business has grown, by the way we have retained old customers and by the way our proposition appeals to new people. They come to talk matters over and inspect our display. And seeing is knowing here—the Home of Home Furniture.

We are honest with the people and have found them honest with us. We can point to hundreds of happy homes that have been made more homelike through the Furnishings bought of us. We find pleasure in doing our share.

Irish To Be Forced To Go Home Early

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 5.—A government proclamation imposing curfew regulations in certain districts in Ireland is expected immediately according to a Dublin dispatch to the Evening Standard. The measure is intended to prevent raids by masked bands and also night drilling. Permits will be issued to persons having legitimate business during the night hours.

DUBLIN, Tuesday Nov. 4.—A proclamation issued several months ago empowered the government to institute curfew regulations, but these have not yet been applied and their general application throughout Ireland is not expected. They may be enforced, however, by individual proclamation in the case of special disturbed districts.

Last War Brides Leave Europe for America

(By Associated Press)
BREST, Nov. 5.—The last of the war brides of the American soldiers left here yesterday for the United States on the steamship Northern Pacific. There were nine of them. One hundred and seventy-three left Sunday on the President Grant.

This virtually completes the "war brides work" of the Young Woman's Christian Association, Mrs. Seymour, the Y. W. C. A. executive in charge of the foreign work, said: "I am proud of our American boys. So far as is known only one war bride is coming back of nearly 3,000 we sent to the United States."

Of this total three-fifths of the number were French, one-fifth English, and the other fifth scattered among 20 nationalities. The brides ranged from 15 to 53 years of age. Some of them had 3 or 4 children by previous marriages.

BEANS, BICYCLES, EVERYTHING, IS ON DISPLAY FOR FAIR

Everything, from beans to bicycles, and from silk shirts to grain drills, is shown in the exhibit of gifts for the Service Men's Fair, which will be open to the public at the McDonough Co's. show room, at 413 Main street, Wednesday.

Practically all of the gifts, with the exception of perishable goods, have been arranged for display, and the show rooms will be open every evening until the opening of the fair, Nov. 17, at the Coliseum.

Members of the service men's organization have been busy for almost a week gathering in the volume of merchandise, from almost every merchant and manufacturer in the city, and the display rivals, both in quantity and quality, any ever shown in Richmond.

Livestock contributed, which included a cow and calf, a pig and a brood sow, will be placed on display in pens.

Appropriate names have been given all of the animals, and their care has been entrusted to a special committee composed of former members of the veterinary corps and stable sergeants. Clematis has been given special quarters on North Sixth street, at the Taube stables, pending the construction of a permanent dwelling to be used during the fair.

Baby Show Interesting.
Considerable interest is being shown in the baby show. Twelve babies, all of them sons or daughters of former service men, have been registered. The entries have been limited to 50, and each entry will be given a bank account of $1.

Entries for the Baby show will close on November 17, and the judging of the babies will be done on Saturday afternoon, November 22, the only matinee of the fair. Awards will be given the prettiest, the most healthy, and the best behaved baby. Entries may be placed with any member of the physicians' committee.

Final details for the country store, another feature of the fair, will be arranged next week, and the store will be ready to conduct business on a large scale during the entire fair. Numerous valuable gifts will be sold in the country store.

American Red Cross Work Is Vitaly Necessary In Europe Says Colonel Olds

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Thousands would die should the relief work of the American Red Cross be withdrawn from Europe, Colonel Robert E. Olds, Red Cross commissioner for Europe, today told a conference of officials of the organization.

Medical and hospital supplies are needed especially, he added, and care for under-nourished children is absolutely vital. Poland particularly will suffer during the approaching winter, he predicted.

Eyes Tired?

If your eyes are tired and over-worked; if they itch, ache, burn or smart; go to any drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and use to bathe the eyes from two to four times a day. You will be surprised at the rest, relief and comfort Bon-Opto brings.

Note: Doctors say Bon-Opto strengthens eyesight 50% in a week's time in many instances.

BOLSHEVIKS SPREAD PROPAGANDA IN U. S.—WADSWORTH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The Russian Bolsheviks "have availed themselves of every opportunity to initiate in the United States propaganda aimed to bring about the forcible overthrow of our present form of government," James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, chairman of the Senate Military committee, has been informed by Assistant Secretary William Phillips in a letter made public Tuesday at the State Department.

The Bolsheviks, Mr. Phillips said, have at their disposal large quantities of gold, partly a revenue of the former Russian government and partly a reserve belonging to the Roumanian government, and it is considered to be important not to give to them means, through commercial transactions, to bring this gold into the United States, where it could be used to sustain their propaganda of "violence and unreason."

Mr. Phillips said that while there was no blockade of Petrograd so far as the United States was concerned, no licenses for the shipment of goods
