GERMANS COMPARE KAISER WITH DAVIS

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—Germans are urged to turn over former emperor William for trial by the allies in resolutions passed at a public meeting of the New Fatherland League here.

In signing the treaty of Versailles, the resolutions said: "Germany consented to the trial of William II. It is therefore the duty of the German people to execute the treaty and every attempt to prevent procedure against the former Kaiser must be branded as a political crime."

One speaker declared William, with his "eccentric mysticism," and former Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria were not responsible for the "criminal game played with Serbia," and that German diplomacy was helpless in the face of operations "by men higher up." Herr Von Gerlach, radical Democrat, asserted the surrender of William will strengthen the reactionary wave in Germany and warned the entente to desist carrying out treaty provisions calling for the trial of the erstwhile monarch. He advised the establishment of a neutral court for the trial, adding: "The German people must definitely cut itself loose from the man."

Lesson From Jeff Davis.

President Lincoln's attitude toward the arrest of Jefferson Davis is recalled by Otto Landsberg, majority Socialist leader, discussing in Vorwärts the probable extradition and trial of former emperor William. He cites the dilemma of the United States, when the confederate leader was imprisoned and says he is convinced "it would have been better to have allowed Mr. Davis to escape."

Herr Landsberg recommends that entente leaders read observations on the Davis case by Carl Schurz and asserts he believes such a perusal would bring about a different attitude toward the former Kaiser's surrender.

Girls Tardy Less Than Boys, Thompson Claims

Girls are more prompt and faithful in school attendance than boys, according to figures compiled by Professor John F. Thompson, of the Richmond high school.

During the period for which the report was made by Prof. Thompson was compiled, there were 823 students enrolled in the school, including 381 boys and 442 girls. Of this number, there were 603 days of absence among the boys and only 525 days for the girls.

The proportion of tardiness is even more marked. During the period there were 187 cases of tardiness among the boys and only 61 cases among the girls. Since the beginning of school last fall 33 boys and 21 girls have withdrawn.

Parents of the new students are especially urged to attend the reception Thursday evening, and to become acquainted with the school management. Faculty advisors for the new students will meet their charges and a general outline of the high school work will be explained. A short program is being arranged for the reception.

STATE WAR CHEST BOARD
MAKES FINANCIAL STATEMENT

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 12.—The war chest board Saturday made public the financial statement signed by Stoughton A. Fletcher, treasurer, and Myron R. Green, secretary, covering its activities up to and including December 31, 1919, showing that total collections to that date amounted to $2,008,326.48, and that the disbursements were $1,332,436.37, leaving a balance on hand the first of the year of $174,888.61.

The total war chest pledges amounted to $2,766,926.03, and the sum uncollected December 31 was $768,558.55. It is thought that $355,234.99 of this sum is not collectible.

The war chest office explains that some of the accounts are not collectible for the reason that several thousand men and women employed at local industries during the war period are now in other industrial centers and that the office is unable to find these subscribers.

Nearly a million women in Spain work in the fields as day laborers.

Garfield Notes

Pupils of Garfield school, who will enter high school next semester, and their parents will be the guests of the high school faculty at a reception in the high school building next Thursday night. The reception is being given to acquaint the pupils and their parents with the teachers and teaching methods used in the high school.

It is estimated that approximately 135 pupils are expected to enroll in the freshman class from Garfield at the opening of next semester, making a total enrollment for the next term of approximately 1,000. Every available room in the high school building will be utilized and the crowded condition of the school presents one of the most difficult problems confronting the school management.

All of the locker rooms are being cleared and will be used next semester as class rooms, and there is some question as to whether this will make sufficient room for the increased enrollment.

Parents of the new students are especially urged to attend the reception Thursday evening, and to become acquainted with the school management. Faculty advisors for the new students will meet their charges and a general outline of the high school work will be explained. A short program is being arranged for the reception.

Excellent for Beef Cattle.

The college herd of beef cattle and calves has been fed largely upon sunflower silage. The results have been very satisfactory.

For growing sunflowers the soil should be well prepared and the seed planted late in April or early in May. A corn planter set to drill the seed is the most popular method, but a grain drill may be used by stopping up some of the cups. The seed must not be planted too thick in the row; the rows should be from 24 to 30 inches apart on irrigated land and from 36 to 42 inches on dry land.

Half a bushel of seed to the acre is enough for irrigated land and half that amount for dry land. Sunflowers make the best silage when three-fourths of the seed are in the late milk or early dough stage. Sunflowers are harvested the same as corn—preferably with a binder. The entire plant—stalk, leaves and seeds—is made into silage.
