BLANKET OF SNOW DOES WHEAT GOOD

Indiana farmers are not pushing their hogs for marketing because of the fluctuating markets, according to the semi-monthly report of George C. Bryant, field agent of the Department of Agriculture, co-operating with the Indiana crop reporting service.

The report follows: "Weather has been somewhat unfavorable for all farm work, however, many farmers have been busy hauling fertilizers, cutting wood and making small repairs to machinery and buildings.

"Wheat condition is somewhat lower than on Dec. 1, although it has not been seriously damaged by freezing weather. At this time there is a good snow covering in most of the territory and but little being said about the dry, notwithstanding all the early snow was more or less damaged by it.

"There is still some corn to be husked. Farmers do not seem to be anxious to sell and prices are slowly moving upward. The car shortage is again quite serious. Considerably more corn than usual was put into silos this year.

"All Indiana tobacco markets are doing a good business and the crop is bringing good prices for all grades. The average price is about 33 cents.

"Many farmers are not pushing their hogs as much as usual at this time because of the fluctuating market. Quite a number of men who have been in the game for years have sold out and new men have taken their places. The car situation is acute in some places.

"Generally all live stock is in a healthy condition."

In the opening words of his speech Mr. Brown stated that there were four legs in the platform of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations, the social, educational, business and legislative. We must not build one too high and neglect the other three, said Mr. Brown. "Organization must begin at home." In order to swing the trend of our young people back to the farms, we must dignify farming, we must equalize industrial labor hours with farm labor hours, and we must improve country living conditions. "In an educational way, we should endeavor to improve and make our farm practices as up to date as possible. We should use and cooperate with our county agent.

"In business, we are after a square deal. Our organization is not one to
