

Heart and Beauty Problems

By Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman with three little children, and my home is anything but happy. My husband is a good provider, but he is a perfect grouch. The children are all afraid of him and he is very unpleasant as a companion.

He never wants me to go outside of the house, while he goes when he gets ready and stays as long as he wants to.

He wants me to be a slave and never gives me an encouraging word. I am getting disgusted with it all. I love my babies more than my own life and I have sacrificed a lot for their benefit, but I simply can't stand it much longer. I loved him once but he has called me vile names without reason until my affection for him is about lost. Please advise me.

HEART-BROKEN.
Your husband deserves to lose you since he brings nothing but unhappiness into the home. It is doubtful, however, if you could do as well if you left. It is unfortunate that the children must grow up in such an atmosphere, but it is better than to have them want for food and clothing.

Try a silence cure. Do not argue with your husband or answer back.

Of course you should try to find out the things that irritate him most and avoid stirring his anger. He should not be spoiled with attentions or given a chance to think you are afraid of him. Whatever you do, do fearlessly. He will respect you more if you are independent. When you want to go places you should go and remain silent and let him scold until he is tired of hearing himself.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What do you think of a girl who would call you up for a date just because it is leap year? Although I am only sixteen, I would be mistaken for nineteen. I have gone out with a good many girls and see no harm in it. I think I have passed the "puppy love" stage and know the value of a pure girl. Do you think I am fickle minded? Would you advise me to forget girls for a few years yet?

BUD.
By all means forget girls for a few years. For the sake of your education, your later prospects and your start in business, keep your mind and time free until you are older. A girl who takes advantage of leap year to be serious in "making dates" is bold and should be avoided.

She Married an Average Man

BY ZOE BECKLEY

I stared miserably at the fragments of the letter I could not send. It was too revealing, far too object. It is never well for a woman to pour her soul into a letter, unless she posts it in the fireplace. To be entirely self-revealing, even to one's husband, is like putting on all one's jewelry at once. It is both a vulgarity and a temptation to others. The wise woman always keeps something of herself in reserve.

At last I took up my pen and began a self-contained epistle that would, I told myself, have the effect of reuniting us, yet would not leave me a sense of being so subject in my self-blame.

"My dear Jim," I commenced, repressing the impulse of "writing with my heart," for my husband is not the man to be appealed to with unrestraint.

"You have given me a chance to think and realize. We have had many problems in our married life. Every couple must have, since marriage, first of all, means a readjustment of one's whole point of view. From the moment of marriage, one must cease to be an individual; one must view things from a social standpoint. That is, neither can act for self alone. Each must do what will bring the best results to both."

"Well—we have made our mistakes. The last one, however, is entirely mine. I see it clearly now. And I long to repair it, Jim. I have been selfish. I want to atone."

When I reached this point, I seemed unable to go further. I sat chewing the pen and racking my tired brain for further terms of expression. The letter was as much an extreme of cold analysis as the other was of warmth and impulse. Both were all wrong.

I worked myself into a mental deadlock. My brain seemed to fail me. A stupid, stony feeling crept over me. I laid my head upon my outstretched arms, discouraged, lonely, tired and cold. I felt as if I had turned to ice. Suddenly the telephone rang. The sharpness of it in the silent room sent my heart pounding. I was too miserable to talk to any one. It rang again persistently. I reached slowly for the little instrument—and heard Athena's voice:

"All alone, Ann? Fine! Hoped you would be. Listen, child, I've a friend here I want you to meet. Have you a clear wire? Do you hear me distinctly? Good. N-O-W!"

I expected to hear some man's voice say laughingly, "Delighted to meet you, Mrs. Salsbery." Athena had always up to such doling, telephone introductions and that sort of foolishness.

What I did hear was Fritz Kreisler's violin bow drawn across his magic strings in one long, flexible tone of heart-melting melody.

I closed my eyes. It was as delicately clear and pure as if he were standing in the room with me. As I held the receiver tightly to my ear, fearing to lose a note, a woman's voice began the indescribably tender opening bars of "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly."

My brain, my body, my heart and my soul all seemed to melt into a wild sweet peace! I was vaguely conscious that I was listening to a phonograph, evidently a new toy of Athena's. But immediately all realization of anything mechanical left my mind. I gave myself up to the heavenly joy of it.

I don't know how long it lasted. I have a distinct recollection that Athena said things and that I answered, and that she performed the commonplace miracle known as "putting on another record," and that I lost myself again in a reviving sea of music. Before I realized what I was doing, I found myself writing these words: "Oh, Jim, my dear love—if you can forgive me and still want me, send me instant word. I am so ashamed." And this time I DID post it.

(To be continued.)

Former service men of Richmond and Wayne county will be interested in knowing that they may reinstate their war risk insurance any time before July 1, 1920, under a new ruling of the bureau of war risk insurance announced by Director Cholmeley-Jones.

Applicants will be reinstated regardless of how long their policies have lapsed or how long the former service men have been discharged, provided two monthly premiums accompany the application and the applicant is in as good health as he was when his policy was issued.

In announcing the new ruling the bureau issued the following statement: "The new ruling is the most important liberalization of war risk insurance since the passage of the Sweet bill, and is designed for the special benefit of service men who failed to reinstate their insurance prior to the new law and who have been discharged more than 18 months. Men who have been discharged less than 18 months may still reinstate their lapsed term insurance at any time within 18 months following the month of discharge by complying with the same conditions."

In announcing the new ruling, Director Cholmeley-Jones desires to emphasize the fact that war risk term insurance may be now made payable to any of the following new and enlarged group of beneficiaries:

"Parent, grand-parent, step-parent, wife (or husband), child, step-child, adopted child, grand-child, brother, sister, half-brother, half-sister, step-sister, parent through adoption, uncle, sister-in-law, persons who have stood in the realm of a parent to the insured for a period of one year or more prior to enlistment or induction, or the child or children of such persons; parent, grand-parent, step parent, or parents through adoption of the insured's wife or husband."

"War risk insurance may be converted into United States government insurance, now or at any time within five years after the end of the war."

Converted insurance may be paid in a lump sum at the death, if such method of payment is designated by the insured."

The state department of the Legion in sending out announcements of the French memorial gifts to kin, has included suggestion of Franklin D'Olier, national commander, for a fitting program to be observed in presenting the testimonials. Mr. D'Olier suggests that the posts co-operate in obtaining a large hall for the ceremonies and that uniformed men act as ushers. The order of exercises as recommended is as follows:

Orchestra. (A French composition is suggested.)
Opening remarks by Commander of Post.
Reading of scripture by Jewish Rabbi.

Prayer by Protestant minister.
Orchestra (An American composition).

Reading of Edwin Markham's poem "France in Battle Flare."

Address (Speaker to be chosen by Legion Post).
Song—"The Americans Come".

Pagant scene, "Columbia" welcoming "LaFrance," "LaFrance" giving testimonials to "Columbia".
Reading of Honor Roll.
Song—"The Marseillaise and Star Spangled Banner".

Benediction by Catholic priest.

It is the purpose of the state commander, Raymond S. Springer, of Connersville, to have simultaneous presentations in every county in the state. It will be left to the local posts in each county to decide, however, whether they will hold separate exercises in their own communities or whether they will combine with each other and hold a county-wide service.

Vote Box on Foulke Prize Painting Open at Library

Directors of the Art association announce that the tickets and ballot box are now ready on the curators table in the public art gallery, for members to cast their votes for the painting to be bought for the permanent collection with the Mary T. R. Foulke purchase fund.

The voting will be on the five paintings chosen by the jury. They are: "Portrait of Miss Elizabeth Greer," by S. P. Baus, Indianapolis; "The Clouds," by Francis Brown, Richmond; "The Brook," by Maude Kaufman Eggeneyer, Richmond; "A Shaft of Light," by Laura Fry, Purdue University, Lafayette; "Indiana Adobe," Olive Rush, Indianapolis.

A full vote of the members is desired. Anyone paying $1 or more into the Art association treasury is a member.

The painting receiving the highest number of votes wins the prize and becomes the property of the art association. The one receiving the next highest number wins first honorable mention, and the one receiving the third highest wins second honorable mention.

The result of the voting will be announced at 4 p. m., Sunday, Feb. 8, in the gallery.

REBEKAH WILL GIVE ENTERTAINMENT AT WEBSTER

Members of the Rebekah lodge will give an entertainment in the I. O. O. F. hall at Webster, Saturday, at 8 p. m. A playlet is being prepared as well as several vaudeville features. All the members of Rebekah lodge and their families and all members of the Odd Fellows and their families are invited.

It's the smooth road that causes the most falls.

ASTHMA WOULD'NT LET HIM LIE DOWN

Hasn't had a sign of trouble now for over 9 months.

"A year ago I had asthma so bad my friends thought I would never get over it. I had doctored for a long time without results. I had not been in bed for 3 weeks, could not even sit up straight in a chair. Then I heard of Milks Emulsion and started using it. It was only two days later that I could go to bed and sleep soundly. After taking eight bottles (24 worth) I found myself completely cured. It is over 9 months now since I quit taking Milks Emulsion, and I haven't had a symptom of asthma since."—Geo. W. Baker, R. F. D. 1, Latrobe, Pa.

Why shouldn't Milks Emulsion help you? It has worked wonders for others. It costs nothing to try. Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Pneumonia often follows a Neglected Cold KILL THE COLD! HILL'S CASCARA QUININE BROMIDE

Standard cold remedy for 20 years—in tablet form—safe, sure, no opiates—breaks up a cold in 24 hours—relieves grip in 3 days. Money back if it fails. The genuine box has a Red top picture. At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

At All Drug Stores

REV. SARGENT, NOTED DIVINE, SUGGUMS

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m., Saturday, at the Methodist Episcopal church in Knightstown, for the Rev. James A. Sargent, D. D., 75 years old, formerly a minister in this city, who died late Thursday afternoon in Baltimore, Md., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Loren M. Edwards. Burial will be in the Knightstown cemetery.

Lucille Pierson, 16 Years Old, Dies at Dayton Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cisco of North Twentieth street received word Saturday of the sudden death of their granddaughter, Miss Lucille Rosalind Pierson, 16 years old, at the home of her parents in Dayton, O. Her death, which occurred Friday evening, was due to pneumonia.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierson, who were former residents of this city. Funeral services will be held at the home Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A good gambler plays the game of life like he would a game of poker—never shouting when he wins, nor "squawking" when he loses.

TRAPPERS ADVOCATE CHANGE IN TRAPPING TIME LAWS

Some of the trappers in Indiana are advocating a change in state laws relative to killing and taking fur-bearing animals, according to letters reaching the state conservation commission. Chief objection to the law is that mink and muskrat can be trapped from Nov. 1 to April 1, while raccoon, fox, opossum, skunk and other fur-bearers are

MAN'S BEST AGE

A man is as old as his organs; he can be as vigorous and healthy at 70 as at 35 if he aids his organs in performing their functions. Keep your vital organs healthy with

GOLD MEDAL HAZLE OIL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles since 1895; corrects disorders; stimulates vital organs. All druggists, three sizes. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitations.

"Dardanella"

This is the latest and most popular Fox Trot that has been placed on the market recently. We have it in stock and will be glad to play it for you. It will pay you to come here for the latest and best in Player Rolls.

The Starr Piano Co.

931-935 Main St.

Richmond, I Am Glad to Meet You

B. Thrifty is my name—

And sensible, profitable saving is my topic.

Twice a week I'm going to talk to you in the Palladium.

You can count upon my being continuously cheerful—direct—and brief.

Well I remember the little girl's famous response to the wordy old gentleman who asked the audience what he should talk about.

"About two minutes," she chirped.

I've gone to work for the Second National Bank.

They know there are lots and lots of people who would save more, if they knew how.

Most people don't know how easy it is to cultivate this best of all habits—while the truth is that planned saving is a real pleasure.

My mission is to teach sensible saving without scrimping.

I'll tell you how to plan savings and the Second National Bank will show you how.

Their officers will be glad to talk to you about this. Come in and see them—tonight.

You'll like their ways of helping you make 1920 your biggest, best year.

B. Thrifty

The FRANKLIN Car

NO other car is so easy to handle as the light and flexible Franklin. Driving it is never a strain, even under the worst conditions of road or traffic.

That explains in part why Franklin owners drive their cars longer distances in a day with comfort and safety.

20 miles to the gallon of gasoline
12,500 miles to the set of tires
50% slower yearly depreciation

J. B. Chapman, Local Dealer

Geo. W. Worley, 15-17 So. 9th will arrange with you for demonstration

Heart and Beauty Problems

By Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman with three little children, and my home is anything but happy. My husband is a good provider, but he is a perfect grouch. The children are all afraid of him and he is very unpleasant as a companion.

He never wants me to go outside of the house, while he goes when he gets ready and stays as long as he wants to.

He wants me to be a slave and never gives me an encouraging word. I am getting disgusted with it all. I love my babies more than my own life and I have sacrificed a lot for their benefit, but I simply can't stand it much longer. I loved him once but he has called me vile names without reason until my affection for him is about lost. Please advise me.

HEART-BROKEN.
Your husband deserves to lose you since he brings nothing but unhappiness into the home. It is doubtful, however, if you could do as well if you left. It is unfortunate that the children must grow up in such an atmosphere, but it is better than to have them want for food and clothing.

Try a silence cure. Do not argue with your husband or answer back.

She Married an Average Man

BY ZOE BECKLEY

I stared miserably at the fragments of the letter I could not send. It was too revealing, far too object. It is never well for a woman to pour her soul into a letter, unless she posts it in the fireplace. To be entirely self-revealing, even to one's husband, is like putting on all one's jewelry at once. It is both a vulgarity and a temptation to others. The wise woman always keeps something of herself in reserve.

At last I took up my pen and began a self-contained epistle that would, I told myself, have the effect of reuniting us, yet would not leave me a sense of being so subject in my self-blame.

"My dear Jim," I commenced, repressing the impulse of "writing with my heart," for my husband is not the man to be appealed to with unrestraint.

"You have given me a chance to think and realize. We have had many problems in our married life. Every couple must have, since marriage, first of all, means a readjustment of one's whole point of view. From the moment of marriage, one must cease to be an individual; one must view things from a social standpoint. That is, neither can act for self alone. Each must do what will bring the best results to both."

"Well—we have made our mistakes. The last one, however, is entirely mine. I see it clearly now. And I long to repair it, Jim. I have been selfish. I want to atone."

When I reached this point, I seemed unable to go further. I sat chewing the pen and racking my tired brain for further terms of expression. The letter was as much an extreme of cold analysis as the other was of warmth and impulse. Both were all wrong.

I worked myself into a mental deadlock. My brain seemed to fail me. A stupid, stony feeling crept over me. I laid my head upon my outstretched arms, discouraged, lonely, tired and cold. I felt as if I had turned to ice. Suddenly the telephone rang. The sharpness of it in the silent room sent my heart pounding. I was too miserable to talk to any one. It rang again persistently. I reached slowly for the little instrument—and heard Athena's voice:

"All alone, Ann? Fine! Hoped you would be. Listen, child, I've a friend here I want you to meet. Have you a clear wire? Do you hear me distinctly? Good. N-O-W!"

I expected to hear some man's voice say laughingly, "Delighted to meet you, Mrs. Salsbery." Athena had always up to such doling, telephone introductions and that sort of foolishness.

What I did hear was Fritz Kreisler's violin bow drawn across his magic strings in one long, flexible tone of heart-melting melody.

I closed my eyes. It was as delicately clear and pure as if he were standing in the room with me. As I held the receiver tightly to my ear, fearing to lose a note, a woman's voice began the indescribably tender opening bars of "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly."

My brain, my body, my heart and

BAKER'S COCOA

IS GOOD for Breakfast Luncheon Dinner Supper

Any time that any one wants a delicious drink with a real, satisfying, sustaining food value.

We guarantee its purity and high quality. We have been making chocolate and cocoa for nearly 140 years.

WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

Established 1780

Any time that any one wants a delicious drink with a real, satisfying, sustaining food value.

We guarantee its purity and high quality. We have been making chocolate and cocoa for nearly 140 years.

WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

Established 1780

Any time that any one wants a delicious drink with a real, satisfying, sustaining food value.

We guarantee its purity and high quality. We have been making chocolate and cocoa for nearly 140 years.

WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

Established 1780

Any time that any one wants a delicious drink with a real, satisfying, sustaining food value.

We guarantee its purity and high quality. We have been making chocolate and cocoa for nearly 140 years.

WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

Established 1780

Any time that any one wants a delicious drink with a real, satisfying, sustaining food value.

We guarantee its purity and high quality. We have been making chocolate and cocoa for nearly 140 years.

WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

Established 1780

Any time that any one wants a delicious drink with a real, satisfying, sustaining food value.

We guarantee its purity and high quality. We have been making chocolate and cocoa for nearly 140 years.

WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

Established 1780

Any time that any one wants a delicious drink with a real, satisfying, sustaining food value.

We guarantee its purity and high quality. We have been making chocolate and cocoa for nearly 140 years.

WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

Established 1780

Any time that any one wants a delicious drink with a real, satisfying, sustaining food value.

We guarantee its purity and high quality. We have been making chocolate and cocoa for nearly 140 years.

WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

Established 1780

Any time that any one wants a delicious drink with a real, satisfying, sustaining food value.

We guarantee its purity and high quality. We have been making chocolate and cocoa for nearly 140 years.

WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD.