The members of the Omicron Pi Sigma fraternity proved themselves delightful hosts Wednesday evening, when the sixth annual ball was given in the L. O. O. F. hall. About 200 were attracted. Many of the guests were from other cities. This dance was the most elaborate ever given by the fraternity.

The large ball room was artistically decorated in the fraternity colors of purple and gold. One unique attraction was a huge ball that was completely covered with bits of French mirrors upon which four powerful search lights were turned during the waltzes. The room represented a southern hall room scene, with the effective decorations of southern sunlax and large palms. In the corners of the room floor lamps were partly hidden with palms; the other lights were hooded in purple that cast a soft light over the scene. During the intermission, feature dances were given by Miss Betty Morgan. The grand march, which started at 9:30 p. m., was led by H. P. Bradley and Miss Maureen Chenoweth. During the march, pretty programs were given to the dancers, the girls receiving little grey leather ones on which the seal of the fraternity in gold was placed on the cover. On the back of the covers were tiny French vanity mirrors and powders. Eighteen dances and three extras were included on the programs. DuValle's Jazz orchestra, probably the best known in Indianapolis, played the dance for the program that contained a majority of old-fashioned waltzes, one-steps and fox-trots. Punch and dainty wafers were served throughout the evening. Among those present were:

The marriage of Miss Clara A. Weisbrod, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weisbrod, to James J. McCauley, took place at 6 p. m. Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents on South Fifteenth street. The ceremony room was prettily arranged with palms and basket of Ophelia roses. The bride was led down stairs by master Robert Kienker, and Mary Kienker, while the Lohengrin wedding march was played. The Rev. F. A. Dressel, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, officiated with the ring services. The bride was handsomely dressed in white satin, with pearl trimmings, and wore a tulip veil. She carried a bridal bouquet of orchids and valley lilies. Before the services Miss Lena Weisbrod of Dayton, O., sang "With You" and the wedding hymns were sung by members of the families of the bride and bridegroom. They left the city for a wedding trip east, and on their return will be at home at 320 1/2 South Thirteenth street. The bride traveled in a suit of navy blue with accessories to harmonize. Herman Steinbamp, of Indianapolis, and Miss Lena Weisbrod of Dayton, were guests from out of the city.

Miss Flora Toschlog, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Toschlog, and Frank Mitchell, were married in St. Andrew's church Thursday morning. The Rev. Roell officiated with the ring ceremony. The attendants were Miss Rosella Toschlog, a cousin of the bride, and Joseph Quigley. The bride carried a white prayerbook and the bridesmaid an arm bouquet of white bride's roses and rosebuds. The bride and her attendant were attired in stylish dark blue suits and wore hats to match. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mrs. Katherine Toschlog, aunt of the bride. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside on a farm on the Middleboro pike.

The Athenaeum club will hold its annual luncheon Friday at 2 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Sarah Stetson on South Thirteenth street. This will be the
