CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises, or are growing hard of hearing, go to your druggist and get one ounce of Farmit (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advertisement.

Monroe School Notes

Melvin Richards is back in the fourth grade after a period of sickness. Mary Creager and Roland Smith of the eighth grade have neither been absent nor tardy this year. Gertrude Sullivan visited Helen Fudge Thursday night. Esther Miller spent Tuesday evening with Bernice Swihart. Margaret Weaver returned to the second grade after about three weeks absence due to sickness. Miss Dosa Waggoner spent the week end at her home in Greenville. Mr. E. Vernon Moore, the music instructor, did not arrive Thursday because of sickness. Superintendent F. Schieser attended the superintendents' meeting at Eaton Thursday afternoon. John Blackford received a severe bruise above the knee Monday while unbiting. Although the horse that kicked him had sharp shoes the kick was not serious. The Juniors held one of their enjoyable class meetings Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Flossie Walt. A large number of the class were present to spend the evening in games, pleasant conversation and jokes in the seniors. Ice cream and cake were served by the hostess. At a late hour all left for their homes declaring this meeting to have been one of the most pleasant and instructive ever held by the class, and wishing to have another meeting just as enjoyable in the near future. The following teachers attended the teachers' association at Eaton Saturday: Supt. L. F. Schieser, E. A. Holcomb, P. G. Campbell, Richard Motley, Miss Mary G. Swartzel, Miss Ruth Markey, Miss Maggie Holsinger, Miss Alice Goodwin, and Mrs. Florence Goetting. The fifth and last number of our lecture course will be held Monday night, Feb. 16. The Paramount Entertainers will furnish the entertainment.

WASHINGTON
Chivalry throughout the ages has decreed the paradox that it is often an act of honesty to be dishonest. A demonstration of this theory is given with high dramatic force in the Vitaphone picture, "The Gamblers," in which Harry T. Morey is star.

"The Gamblers" is showing at the Washington the last times today. The dishonesty, which proved to be noble, was the act of Wilbur Emerson, hero of the play, in palming a playing card to assume for himself the ill luck which had been decreed by the cards for his father. Wilbur is shown as a young man who heads a group of capitalists in a struggle against another group for a stake of millions.

He is using his father's fortune in the enterprise. As the drama progresses the Emerson group find themselves enmeshed in technical illegality which threatens to send them all to jail. Wilbur announces to his associates that one man can assume all the blame and sacrifice himself thus to save the rest. He volunteers to do this. The others object, and it is agreed to turn playing cards for the selection of the sacrificial victim. Wilbur deals the cards. He notices when his father's turn comes that the latter is receiving the lowest card. The young man thereupon palms the card and issues it to himself, giving his father a higher card.

RICHMOND
After serving seventeen years in jail for murder, a crime of which he was innocent, John Sanford escapes. His heart is filled with revenge against Judge Lee, who sentenced him. He makes a midnight call upon the justice and is prevented from committing a crime by his daughter. She learns that the convict is her father and a pathetic scene follows. The girl believes his claim of innocence and matures rapidly. She does big things and has many adventures.

All this occurs in Vitaphone feature "The Girl Woman" starring Gladys Leslie, which will be shown at Richmond theatre today.

MURRETTE
"The Fear Market" a Realart Production, which is to be presented at the Murrette theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is a photoplay attraction which critics who have followed the development of the silver sheet as a medium for the presentation of really big dramatic ideas have declared ranks among the foremost of film dramas.

Alice Brady, the film fans' favorite in the part of Sylvia Stone is called upon to portray the gamut of human emotions and does so with a tensility that is most convincing and a subtlety which causes the calloused critics to speak of her work as ranking with the best ever seen on the screen.

In no sense is "The Fear Market" a preachment. It is an absorbing tale of pathos and love which tugs at the heart strings and keeps the spectator entranced from start to finish.

The story is by Princess Traubetzkoy, and when "The Fear Market" made its appearance in print created a sensation wherever English is read. It was apparent that the authoress based her story on an expose which filled the first pages of the press the world over.

Miss Brady is supported by a cast of screen and stage actors well known to theatre-goers for their histrionic ability.

MURRAY

News of particular interest to the motion picture patrons of Richmond comes in the announcement of Manager Frank Holland that E. K. Lincoln, favorite male star of the screen, is soon to be seen at the Murray Theatre in "Virtuous Men," a big society melodrama personally directed by Ralph Ince. For several years Mr. Lincoln has been regarded as one of the bright particular luminaries of the photoplay world. Through his successful appearances in many productions he has established himself as one of the outstanding figures of the present constellation of stars who dominate the silver screen. Lincoln is the ideal type of leading man. Standing a trifle over six feet in height, with handsome features which lend themselves admirably to the art of motion picture photography, he possesses a peculiarly winning personality. He differs materially from certain other players of the screen in that he possesses decided acting ability, com-

Little Friends of the Liver

The liver is the regulator of health. If the liver is active and well, good health and happiness prevail; but once you allow your liver to get torpid and sluggish, life becomes a misery. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation, Headaches and Melancholy result, resulting in lack of energy, loss of memory and ill health; but remember Carter's Little Liver Pills touch the liver and correct all liver ills.
