

REV. WILLIAMS TO TALK AT MEETING

"The Inter-Church World Movement as the Greatest Building of the Ages" will be discussed by the Rev. E. L. Williams at the county council meeting in the Grace Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Dr. Williams is executive secretary of the church federation of Indiana and associate director of the Inter-Church World Movement of Indiana. Representatives from practically every co-operating church in Richmond and Wayne county are expected to be present. A president and fourth vice-president are to be elected and report on programs for co-operation to be heard. Reports on the rural survey of Wayne county in the interests of the Inter-Church World Movement are to be read.

The Rev. E. L. Williams toured the western part of Wayne county Thursday in the interest of the Inter-Church World Movement at Indianapolis on March 1, 2, 3, and between 20 and 25 ministers signified their intention of attending.

The evangelistic committee of the federation will meet in the Y. M. C. at 4 p. m. Friday. Private plans for the 7:30 meeting will be discussed.

Lester W. Carlander, Wayne county supervisor for the Inter-Church World Movement, will meet the survey committee in the Grace M. E. church at 6:30 p. m.

News of City Lodges

RED MEN

Degree work in the Adoption degree will be conferred by Hokenauqua tribe, Friday night. This work was to have been conferred last Friday, but owing to illness of several members, was postponed until this week.

K. OF P.

Plans for the visit of Spartansburg degree team, which will come here on March 4, were discussed at the meeting of Richmond lodge Thursday night.

EAGLES

Through a slight misunderstanding some delay has been caused in the start of the aeris membership campaign. It is believed, however, that the special dispensation requested by the aeris will be granted and that the campaign will start soon. Plans for the campaign were discussed at last Wednesday's meeting.

MOOSE

Only one list of candidates were nominated for the offices of Wayne lodge last Monday night. These men will be elected at the first meeting night in March. The nominees follow: Dictator, Thomas T. Trobaugh; Vice-Dictator, George Sheffer; Prelate, Glen Reynolds; trustee, John Anderson; secretary, W. Howard Brooks; treasurer, Albert E. Morel; delegate to national convention, Adam Elstro; alternate, G. G. Minnick.

MASONIC

Three candidates will be given Master Mason's degree in Richmond lodge next Tuesday night. The degree work will begin promptly at 6:30 p. m. Last Tuesday Richmond lodge conferred Entered Apprentice degree on a class of six candidates.

Webb lodge, No. 24, will hold a stated meeting in the Masonic temple next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Master Mason's degree was conferred on two candidates last Wednesday.

Work in the Royal Arch degree will follow the regular meeting of King Solomon's chapter Friday night. Two candidates will receive the degree. Masons of the city will entertain Judge Charles Orblison at a dinner party in the Arlington hotel Sunday evening. Judge Orblison is the Grand Master of Indiana.

REYNOLDS TO PILOT COOLIDGE CAMPAIGN

James B. Reynolds.

James B. Reynolds, secretary of the Republican national committee since 1912, has resigned to take charge of the campaign of Gov. Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts in his race for the Republican presidential nomination. Reynolds will open Coolidge's campaign headquarters in Washington.

CANADA'S A-ROLLICKING ON THE SNOW CRUST

The Start of the slide, Dufferin Terrace, Quebec

Skating at Quebec

Hockey at Montreal

Ice Boating, Halifax

The lid is lifted in Canada—er, the temperamental lid. The damper of war and absence of loved ones is removed. In local parlance, "la guerre est finie" and gay spirits are making up for lost seasons by a riotous whirl of winter sports.

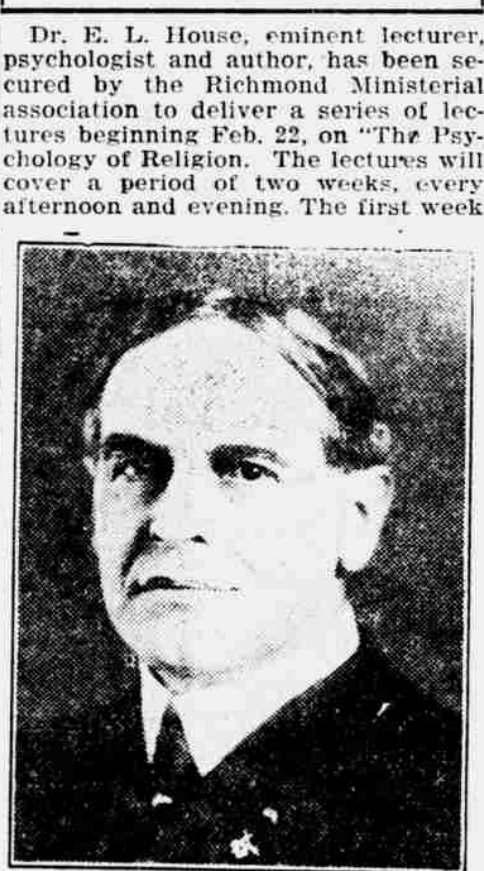

As the days begin to lengthen and the cold begins to strengthen, the snow takes on a sparkling dryness that adds to the pleasure of outdoor sports. For the months of January and February all Canada becomes intoxicated with the desire to spend as many hours as possible in the open.

Visitors to the Dominion find this mood infectious and nowhere is this more in evidence than in the quaint old city of Quebec. Nature fashioned this city's site for sport. Every steep little street that claws its crooked way from the waterfront to the heights, is a possible slide, while the triple track toboggan slide that begins at the grim gray Citadel and ends in a huge snow bunker on Dufferin Terrace is world famous.

The picturesque many-turreted Chateau Frontenac that overlooks this slide, is naturally headquarters for Society during its winter revels. Its charming tea-room opens onto the Terrace and glowing tobogganists run in for a cheering cup, then disappear through another door that gives onto the inner court where skating and ice-dancing are in order.

Merry parties assemble in the tea-room at all hours. One party will be ready for a snowshoe tramp to "The Rendezvous" with its tea and cakes, five miles across country. Another group will have requisitioned the 1919 Model bob-sleighs, that form part of the Chateau's sport equipment, for a sporty racing event. As impending hockey match is providing spirited discussion and betting in a bunch about the big fire-place. Still another party is preparing to ski and there is no reason why every visitor to Quebec should not learn this graceful sport for the Chateau management has engaged two Norwegian ski-jumpers to instruct its guests.

Will Lecture Here

Dr. E. L. House.

The lectures will be given in Reid Memorial and the second week in First M. E. church.

Dr. House has recently given this course of lectures in South Bend, Anderson and Fort Wayne, in each instance to crowded houses. The interest and discussion aroused by his lectures rivals the interest caused by Billy Sunday.

The Anderson Bulletin says of him: "Dr. House develops his line of thought in such a way that it can be clearly understood by all classes of people. His simplicity, sincerity and logic are convincing and masterful. His personality is magnetic. His delivery that of a finished orator, and he has the scholar's grasp of his important subjects."

Herman Miles Reports Yearly Meeting Directors

Herman O. Miles, national financial head of the Friends' Forward Movement arrived at the headquarters in the Colonial building Friday morning, with the information that despite heavy snows and unparalleled cold in New England and New York Yearly Meetings, everybody there had been confident of success in the Forward Movement campaign.

Announcement was also made by Miles of the appointment of Daniel C. Maxfield of Amesbury, Mass., as financial director for New England Yearly Meeting. Robert H. Dann of Amesbury, a recent graduate of the Andover Theological Seminary in Cambridge, Mass., has been appointed assistant to Maxfield. James Carey, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., is financial manager for Baltimore Yearly Meeting.

Richmond Church-Goers Are Generous With Coins

Humorists often comment on the number of metal buttons or slugs dropped into the church collections, but Richmond pastors say this does not hold good in local churches. Also the reason for the number of pennies contributed is not "stinginess" on part of the giver, but merely to dispose of small change.

"Often," one pastor said, "people will make good contributions and then discover a few odd pennies. Usually these are tossed into the basket."

Although very few church persons contribute as much money as they are financially able to give, Richmond church-goers are extremely generous. One local church collected $600 as the Christmas offering, and another church took up nearly $500. Several received contributions amounting to $100 or more.

Methods of taking the Sunday collection vary in the different churches. Some use silver plates that are passed down the pews, while others use wire baskets attached to long poles. Still others have small, round wicker baskets lined with velvet. Although not used in Richmond, churches in other cities have oblong wooden cases attached to long poles. These cases have slanting covers that extend part of the length. When coins are dropped into the case, the collector tilts the case and the money drops into the bottom.
