

DRULEY AND CHECO HEAD BOXING BILL FOR FEBRUARY 26

Young Druley, local welterweight, will hook up in a 10 round clash with Battling Checo, of Muncie, as the main event of a boxing tourney promoted by Billy Benson, on Thursday, Feb. 26th. Both these fighters are near the top of the welterweight division and carry a kazo in either hand. Local fans know the stamina of Druley, who fought a man 20 pounds heavier than himself in order not to disappoint them. His game scrap won him many admirers.

Joe Riley, of Cincinnati, former champion of the Cincinnati Gym, will oppose Jimmie Dalton, of Indianapolis, in a scheduled 10 round bout. Dalton's style of fighting is known to local fans, and reports from Cincinnati indicate Riley is of the same calibre. He will weigh in at 135 pounds.

Butler-Beck to Open.
Earl Butler, of Cincinnati, and Larry Beck, of Covington, Ky., will open the tourney with a six round bout. The only fault local fans found with the tourney staged by Benson last month was the poor showing made by Bud Wallace, local lightweight. Billy Benson says this will not happen this time, as both preliminary scrappers bear good records and fight until the finish. They will weigh in at 135 pounds.

Jack Dillon is trying to stage a come-back in Cuba, and will be unable to referee. However, Benson has obtained the services of Lefty Presch, who referees all fights held by the Davison Gym club.

Benson says any fans not satisfied will be refunded their admission.

Wabash Scrap May Be Played by Quakers; Would Schedule Postponed Games

If the flu situation at Earlham college continues to improve until Monday, Coach Mowe announces the Wabash basketball scrap will be played Friday. In that case, about 100 reserved seats will be placed on sale at the Westcott Pharmacy. This will be all the seats reserved as Richmond high school has the whole north side of the coliseum for high school students.

If it can be arranged, Earlham will play off its postponed games with Butler and Franklin on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 28 and 29. Mowe has sent this word to both these schools and expects a reply by Monday. DePauw is willing to play its postponed game at Richmond.

Mowe will start practice for the Wabash game in the coliseum Monday afternoon, with a crippled squad. Radford and Hinchey probably are out of the game for the rest of the season. This makes four members of the Earlham first squad forced to leave. Hadley has a festered heel and Huff a dislocated ankle.

Enters the Cabinet

THE newest member of President Wilson's cabinet, John Barton Payne, steps from the chairmanship of the United States shipping board into the office of secretary of the interior. He is a Chicagoan. He was born in Pruntytown, Va., in 1855. After studying law he became a special judge of the circuit court of Tucker county, W. Va., and later was elected mayor of Kingwood.

In 1883 Payne moved to Chicago and 10 years later became judge of the superior court of Cook county.

On Oct. 3, 1917, he was named general counsel for the United States shipping board and when Edward N. Hurley resigned as head of the corporation Payne succeeded him.

Payne, since the end of the war, has urged Americans to keep United States shipping for America by buying the merchant vessels instead of allowing them to be sold to European companies.

Y. M. C. A. Beats Centerville; Reserves Wallop Muncie

Aided by the goal shooting ability of Chappel and Bodie, the Y. M. C. A. basketball five defeated the Centerville Independents in the Y gym Friday night, 18 to 11. The game was hard fought. Both teams hung up nine points in the first stanza. O'Neal made of his team's total and only the great guarding of Bertsch, back guard, prevented the Y score being larger. Bertsch also broke through for a field marker.

The R. H. S. Reserves copped the curtain raiser scrap from the Muncie Y. M. C. A. five, 32 to 18. The first half ended with Richmond on the right side of a 10 to 8 count.

NIP AND TUCK WAS EATON B. B. VICTORY

In one of the kind of games that you read about but seldom see, Eaton high basketball five defeated McGuffey high, of Oxford, 13 to 11 at Eaton Friday night. The first half ended with Eaton ahead 8 to 5, but they promptly lost the lead when McGuffey capped two field markers. Eaton forged ahead again, but McGuffey came from behind and tied the score, 11 all. In the last minute of play, Eaton caged the goal that won the game. The Sherer brothers starred for Eaton while DuVall led McGuffey.

NEW PARIS LOSES TO CAMDEN BY 1 POINT

One of the very few defeats of the season for New Paris high school basketball five was administered by Camden, at New Paris, Friday night, 20-19, but only after a hard struggle. The lead sea-sawed back and forth and at the close fans were in doubt as to the winner. Camden was credited with the game by one point, however. Shaffer and Kessler starred for New Paris. Neff led Camden.

CAMBRIDGE HAS EASY TIME FROM CENTERVILLE

The Cambridge City high school basketball five added another game to its already long string of wins, when Centerville was walloped 31 to 12 at Cambridge City, Friday night. The game was Cambridge City's from the start; the first half showing Centerville on the short end of a 20 to 6 count. Davis starred for the losers.

WHITEWATER WINS

The Whitewater high school basketball five disposed of Union City, 43 to 5, at Whitewater, Friday night. The game was featured by the defensive work of Whitewater, and its accurate goal ability. Grey, with 19 points, led Whitewater in scoring. Hunt captured second honors with 18 markers.

MRS. WILLIAM DEITEMEYER HEADS UNION MISSION

Mrs. William Deitemeyer, who presided at the Mothers' meeting of the North Fourteenth street mission, at the regular meeting Thursday afternoon, in the absence of Mrs. Beatrice Snively, was elected vice-president by the organization. Mrs. Snively was ill.

"He Will Take Care of Me" sung by the group, opened the meeting. Mrs. Deitemeyer led the devotional, following which she sang a duet with Mrs. J. F. Probst. Mrs. Probst spoke informally on "Mother's First Duty," and the vice-president read "Mother."

SHAMROCKS LEAVE TO PLAY EL DORADO FIVE

Seven players composed the Shamrock basketball squad which left for El Dorado Saturday afternoon, to meet the El Dorado Independents Saturday night. Manager Dillon is making any claims as to the outcome of the game, but is confident the team will offer considerable opposition. Dillon, Sherry, Fay, Rannels, Cannon, Williams and Copeland composed the squad.

THE FORD CLUTCH

The Ford clutch is a disc clutch and differs but little from the disc clutches used in cars which are equipped with the sliding-gear transmission.

You will recall that in the cars equipped with the sliding-gear transmission and disc clutch, that the clutch was built into the flywheel of the engine and that it was the next unit after it. This is not the case in the Ford car, as, in it the magneto and transmission are placed between the engine and the clutch.

Figure 1 shows the transmission. You will remember that the drum (L) is connected to the rear wheels, by means of the driving plate (M).

If the inside of this drum (L) has fastened to it a number of keys as shown in Fig. 2, lettered (A), and if another drum, (N) Figs. 1 and 2, having key-ways on its outside, as (B) Fig. 2, be fastened to the engine driven shaft, (H) then that will be necessary to make a disc clutch which to have two sets of discs, one fitting into the keys of the brake or driven drum (N) and another, alternating set, having keys which fit into the key-ways on the driving drum (L), and then have some means to apply a pressure on the discs, or to take the pressure off at the will of the operator. The discs are shown in Fig. 1, the driving discs being lettered (R) and the driven discs (S).

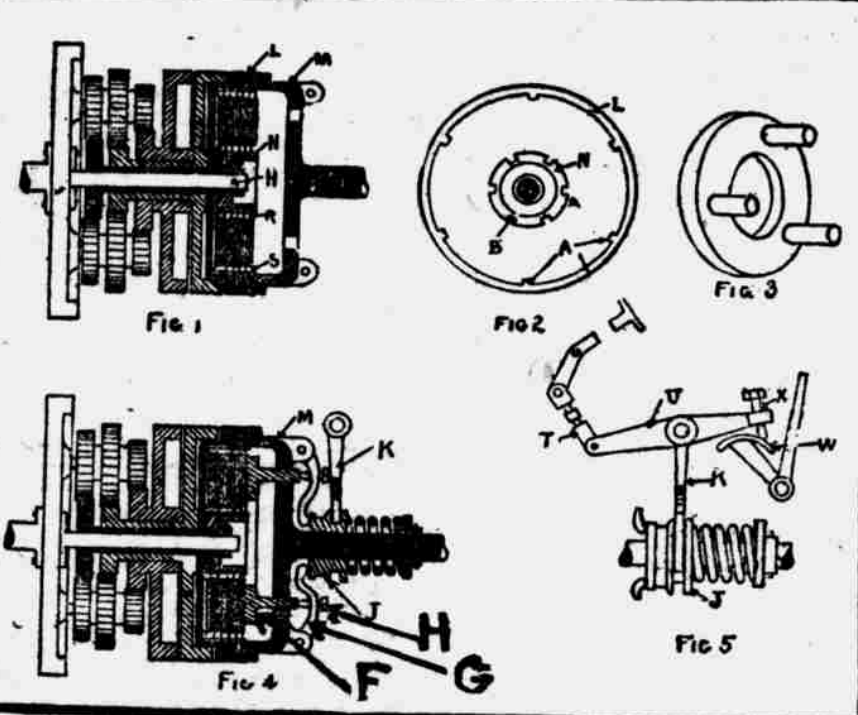

Like all clutches the discs are pressed together by spring, and the pressure is taken off the discs by free ends are held in a collar. This collar is pressed forward by the spring.

Figure 4 shows the spring, the collar (J) and the levers. You will note that there are screws on the levers which press against the push ring pins. By screwing these screws in, the clutch can be tightened; that is, the pressure on the discs can be increased or by unscrewing the pressure can be decreased. Here, then, is where the adjustments must be made in case the clutch slips or grabs.

The means used to free, or, as we also say, disengage or throw out, the clutch, is practically the same as for all other makes of clutches. The collar on which the spring operates is a double collar, one collar acting on the levers and a throwing fork being placed in the other. This throwing fork is operated by the foot pedal or by the emergency brake lever. The fork is shown in the illustration lettered K.

With sliding-gear transmissions, when the car is stopped at the curb with the engine running, the gears are brought to neutral, and the clutch is allowed to remain in the engaged position. With the Ford transmission, there are no gears to be brought to neutral, the engine and rear wheels always being connected when the clutch is engaged. For this reason, some device in addition to the foot pedal must be furnished which will hold the clutch out when the car is standing still and the engine running.

means of a foot pedal. In the Ford car, however, a hand lever is also used to take the pressure of the spring off the discs, so that the clutch can be disengaged by pressing down on the foot pedal, or by pulling on the emergency brake.

Let us see how the spring is used to press the discs together, and how the pressure of it is taken off the discs. Figure 3 shows what is called the clutch push ring. This is set against the discs, while the pins on it pass through holes in the driving plate (M).

If we can devise some means for exerting a pressure on these pins, the discs will be pressed together and because of the friction between their surfaces, they will hold so firmly that they will move as though they were one piece. Thus the drum (L) will be driven from the drum (N), which, in turn (being attached to the shaft (H)) is driven from the engine.

As the drum (L) is attached to the driving plate (M), which is connected to the rear wheels through the propeller shaft, etc., the drive from the engine will be direct, no transmission gears being brought into the drive.

In order to have the pressure of the spring exerted on the pins of the push plate, hinged levers are fastened to the driving plate, the middle portion of which press against the pins, while the

Thus the lever, which can be locked, is required in addition to the pedal.

Both the pedal and lever act on the single throw-out fork. How this is accomplished is shown in Fig. 5. You will observe that when the foot pedal is depressed, that the link (T) will operate on the arm (U) in such a manner as to throw the clutch collar to the right, and so take the pressure of the spring off the discs. Also when the lever is pulled up the cam (W), by pressing up on the finger (X) will again move the arm (U) in such a manner as to throw out the clutch. As the lever is equipped with a ratchet it will be held up by the ratchet and so

PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP

Nothing Helped Me Until I Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"For the last four years I have doctored off and on without help. I have had pains every month so bad that I would nearly double up. Sometimes I could not sweep a room without stopping to rest, and everything I ate upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me any day. I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug-store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I could do my own housework. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. You may publish this if you like that it may help some other woman."—Mrs. MARY STENDER, 120 Orange St., Wyandotte, Mich.

PURNELL FIGHTS FOR COUNTY AGENTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Representative Fred Purnell of Indiana, combating strong opposition, led a successful fight on the House floor Friday to save the appropriation for county agriculture agents.

The fight centered about a motion of Representative Snell of New York, to reduce the county agent appropriation from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000. Such a decrease would have meant that many county agents would have been compelled to drop their work for their pay even now is scarcely adequate. Each county agent, as is known, receives pay from three sources, Federal, state and county funds.

Mr. Purnell, with an appreciation of the excellent work done by the county agents of Indiana and other states contested the Snell motion and finally succeeded in defeating it, 88 to 42.

Cities Work in Indiana
"The county needs more county agents, not a less number," urged Representative Purnell. "I have favored economy in every way and have helped to reduce many items in this agriculture bill, but it would be false economy and do great harm to agriculture if we should reduce the appropriation for county agents."

The county agent, dispensing the information that he brings from the agriculture schools, is a great aid to production and he is doing much to keep the boys and girls interested in the farm. The county agent has done most excellent work in Indiana, the home of the World's corn king, and I know that he also has made himself invaluable in many of the other agriculture states."

Permit May Be Denied For Drive in Schools

Richmond public school children may miss another drive. The Indiana Society of Descendants of the Mayflower, which wants to stage a campaign for the purchase of Cope's Hill at Plymouth, Mass., as a memorial to the Pilgrims, will probably be denied a permit by the state board of education. A. H. Hall, a member, said: "If the members of this society want to build a monument at Plymouth, let them subscribe the $500 themselves. No one is more patriotic than I, but I believe the schools should be protected from such movements, which are coming up continually."
