ROOT SELECTION IS HINTED MOTIVE FOR LANSING DISMISSAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—A new element of explanation for the sensational election from Robinson, former Secretary of State Robert Lansing by President Wilson developed Sunday in high official quarters.

It was reported that one, if not the most compelling reasons for the action of the president was the selection of Sibus Root, presumably at the state department had been sounded out, as the man to aid in the formation of a constitution for the permanent court of international justice in accordance with the plans of the member states of the league of nations.

Mr. Root's selection, while made some time ago, was not announced formally until the recent meeting of the council of the league in London. Diplomatic Gossip Bared.

Gossip in diplomatic circles is to the effect that the president was not asked whether or not he thought the appointment of Mr. Root was suitable, chiefly because the council, under the treaty, was free to name whoever it deemed to be the best fitted.

American diplomats overseas, though, were said to have known long in advance of the official announcement of Mr. Root's appointment, that he had been selected for the position, and they naturally communicated the information to the state department.

While in the best informed circles the belief that Viscount Edward Grey's letter was the spark that started the white house bonfire persisted, there nevertheless was an indication to place credence in the report that Mr. Root's appointment was an actual motive so far as the President's action was concerned.

The objection of the President, it was set forth, lay not so much in the personality of Mr. Root, whom he has in the past selected for important missions, but in the manner of his appointment.

It was granted here that the league possessed the right to select any one at its discretion for the post, one of which will be taken by Mr. Root, but it also was held that it would be contrary to international precedent if this Government were not consulted first regarding its views on Mr. Root's fitness for the place.

Otherwise, foreign nations, or the council of the league, might select persons objectionable to the American government.

and was taken to his home. An assistant carrier was put on the route.

County Roads Department Suffers as Auto License Funds Revert to State

Wayne county's apportionment of the state automobile license fund from the 1919 licenses is $1,472.57, county officials were advised Monday. "This is the last auto tax money Wayne county will receive until the present law is revised," said W. O. Jones, county road commissioner. "Last year the first installment of auto taxes was only a little over $1,100, but the total was approximately $21,000. "All the maintenance money for county roads will have to come from direct taxation from now on," continued Jones, "as hereafter all the money derived from the auto licenses will be used by the state in maintaining state highways."

"We would have received at least $25,000, from auto licenses, which would have easily carried us through this year's program, and the loss is keenly felt. We have already been granted permission by the state board of roads to float a short loan of $25,000 for county roads. However if we had received our auto tax money this loan would not have been necessary. "In all justice to our county representatives and senators," said Jones in conclusion, "it might be said that each and all of them fought the law reverting the auto license funds to the state commission. But they fought against too great odds and were defeated."

Light Plant Has Plenty of Coal: Explains Dillon: Unloading is Very Slow

Superintendent Dillon of the municipal light plant explained the coal situation Monday. "The fact is," said Dillon, "the light plant has so much coal in the local C. & O. yards, that traffic was blocked and railroad officials issued an embargo against coal consigned to the light plant. We have also increased our coal handling shift from eight to 12 men."

"It would be a physical impossibility for us to have more coal on hand than we have now, with our present coal handling facilities. We have not only unloaded coal on our own track, but have hauled coal from both the Pennsylvania and C. & O. tracks. "Coal at this time of the year is frozen in the cars and even with a steam jet to thaw it out, it takes longer to unload a car now than it does in warmer months."

Superintendent Dillon said there was approximately a month's supply of coal on hand at the plant.

TURKS DENY RESPONSIBILITY OF ORDER IN AINTAB REGION

(By Associated Press)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 16.—Turkey denies all responsibility for the maintenance of order in the Aintab region, where James Perry and Frank Johnson, representatives of the American Y. M. C. ARTICLE 10 FINAL STUMBLING BLOCK TO TREATY, LEAGUE

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—With ratification of or rejection depending almost wholly on whether 64 senators can reach an agreement on a reservation to Article 10 of the league of nations covenant, the peace treaty controversy today drew nearer a finale.

Opinion still was divided as to the possibility of a compromise on this issue, but as to other points in dispute belief was general that no serious trouble in reaching an agreement would be encountered.

In accordance with the agreement reached a week ago to formally call up the treaty for further debate, a number of senators of both sides have prepared speeches. Among them were Senator Thomas, Democrat of Colorado, and Senator McCormick, Republican, Illinois, both listed as irreconcilable opponents of ratification. The latter announced he would speak today and the former tomorrow.

While the discussion is proceeding on the floor the negotiations for compromise on reservations will be continued. Leaders announced the would endeavor to hold the debate within reasonable bounds in order the actual consideration of reservation may be taken up within a few days. The reservation compromises as tentatively agreed upon in the recent informal bi-partisan committee conferences are the basis on which negotiations today were being carried on.

Florists May Help Check Bolshevism, Says Hill

"The American home is the foundation of the American government, and by helping to beautify these homes with beautiful flowers, shrubs, trees and plants, thereby causing the people to be contented, florists will be serving to check the spread of bolshevism," said E. G. Hill in his address to the Richmond Florists' association in the Y. M. C. A. Monday.

The latest aim of florists of the world is to develop a yellow rose that will hold its color to the end of its petals and which will grow to the size of Premier and Columbia roses, said Mr. Hill. He passed among the members a small, beautifully colored yellow rose which represented several years effort. This rose will not be placed upon the market until after several generations of seedlings.
