

MISSIONARY BODIES PLEDGE ALLIANCE TO CHURCH MOVE

Co-operation with the county church federation was unanimously pledged by the Richmond Federation of Women's Missionary societies at the regular winter meeting in the First Presbyterian church Friday.

Mrs. Lee B. Nussbaum presided and introduced the proposed alliance following a stirring address by Dr. J. J. Rae, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, on "The Inter-church World Movement." Dr. Rae said in part: "Despite the handicap of the war, we are doing great things. There is much yet to do, but the spirit which made the American union, while all of Europe stood by and laughed has been caught by the religious movement and made a part of the great move toward Christ, upon which we have started. Today we are working together."

Mrs. Anna Atwater, national president of the C. W. B. M., was the principal speaker for the afternoon, using as her subject, "Our Task in Latin-America." At 7:30 p. m. Friday in the high school auditorium, she will give an illustrated lecture on "Mexico," she announced.

Decision to hold the annual winter meeting on the first Friday of Lent, and another each October was favored by the morning session.

Miss Martha Doan, dean of women at Earlham was to speak briefly regarding that conference at 3:30 p. m. Friday. Other Earlham delegates who were to speak were Miss Esther Rhodes, Miss Grace Edwards, Miss Margaret Timberlake, Leslie Pennington.

Pastors to Speak on Stewardship, Sunday

Part of Sunday morning's services in the protestant churches of Richmond will be devoted by pastors to an appeal in behalf of the stewardship movement of the Inter-Church World Movement. This appeal will be statewide.

Several pastors have spent portions of the stewardship movement. Sunday, stewardship subscription cards will be issued.

The stewardship department of the Inter-Church world movement of Indiana plans to enroll at least 50,000 church members who will subscribe to the five point stewardship creed.

The Rev. R. E. Davis is Wayne County stewardship man, but as his resignation goes into effect on Feb. 29, another will be appointed.

Richmond Man Is On Petition For Board of Pardons

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 20.—Twenty-two new cases and 13 old ones have been filed with the state board of pardons for hearings at the next meeting to be held in Indianapolis, 15 to 20, inclusive. It was announced today, March 6 has been set as the final day for filing of cases to be heard at the coming session.

The board will hear five new appeals for clemency in behalf of men convicted of murder and sentenced to prison for life. Cases of nine alleged murderers will be re-opened. One of the men whose case will be heard again has been in prison since 1897.

One girl's case will be heard. She has been confined in the girls' school for several months on a delinquency charge. Included in the list of cases to be considered are the following:

Albert Myers, Knox county, Feb. 17, 1917, 10-20 years, burglary, state prison; Ray Stevens, Allen county, Dec. 13, 1919, 1-14 years, grand larceny, state prison.
Charles A. Revaloe, Wayne county, April 20, 1910, life, murder, state prison; Levi Harmon, Wabash county, Dec. 7, 1919, 2-14 years, forgery, Indiana Reformatory.

Charles Revaloe, of Richmond, one of the men whose pardon will be considered, was convicted in 1910 for the murder of his employer's wife, on a farm, south of Cambridge City.

According to the evidence, Revaloe, in attempt at robbery, killed the woman with a hatchet and then set fire to the dwelling to hide his crime. He was arrested about a week later and confessed to the crime.

Revelation of Chamber Music is Zoellners' Charming Performance at Earlham

After an authentic and melodious recital such as the Zoellner String Quartette presented at Earlham College Thursday night, it seems no wonder that guests were wont to gather about the musicians, who composed the music known today as chamber music. The Zoellners specialize, if interpreted effort could be called that, in chamber music. Their recital was charming.

Orchestration with three strings is perhaps one of the most difficult of ensemble attempts. It has been said that it is more difficult to harmonize a complete orchestra than it is to obtain orchestral effect from a small group, but it is admitted that in the latter case the musicians must be pure artists.

The Zoellners did a fine bit of ensemble work, interpreting to advantage the numbers of their program, notably the opening one by Mozart, which was radiant, smooth and captivating.

Indian Music Likeable
Particularly likeable were two Indian compositions, "The War Dance," and "Sunrise Song," by Skilton, one of the most sincere musical writers of the open, of atmosphere and light. These numbers were delightful in their attack, expression, and smooth technique. "The Irish Reel" which followed was a substitute for "Etude de Concert," which it seemed unfortunate they did not present.

A Russian folk-dance was given in response to continued applause for Hayden's "Serenade" for which many group of artists with ability can depend upon receiving acknowledgment. The Hayden number was not unusual, but delightfully done. As the appearance of the Imperial Male Quartette in November, and Clarence Eldam in a one-man performance.

mance in January, the hall was crowded. The Zoellners would be the last of the winter's series had not Mademassele Arendt been unable to appear jointly with Eldam.

Her appearance has been promised later in the spring. Announcement has been made that ticket holders will receive free tickets to the home appearance of the Earlham Glee Club, May 14, if they apply 10 days before the concert.

Branstetter Follows Hilquit on Stand

(By Associated Press)
ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Examination of Otto Branstetter of Chicago, national secretary of the socialist party, who took the stand just before adjournment yesterday, is expected to consume the greater part of today's session of the trial of the five suspended socialist assemblymen charged with disloyalty.

Branstetter, second witness for the defense, was called after Morris Hilquit, chief defense counsel had left the stand after three days expert testimony on socialism. Mr. Hilquit's testimony was concerned chiefly with the attitude of American socialists toward the war, the socialist conception of "revolution" and the question of whether in expressing sympathy with Soviet Russia, the socialist party was endorsing an embryonic utopian state of chaos.
