Our Basic Industry

Nearly one-third of the people of the United States, or more than thirty millions, live on farms. Nearly twenty millions more live in communities having a population of less than 2,500. In other words, nearly one-half of the population of this country is to be found on farms or in country districts, according to a compilation of agricultural statistics contained in the booklet, "Our Basic Industry — America's Agricultural Prosperity," just issued by a New York bank. The publication, which deals with the ever-increasing importance of the business of farming, from the standpoint of the national welfare, continues, in part, as follows:

"The farming interest is not comprised entirely, however, of those who actually live on the farms. Something like 40 per cent of our farms are rented and a great many of the owners live in cities and villages. This means that among the merchants, lawyers, doctors, real estate operators, bankers, and insurance men of our cities, and especially the cities and villages in agricultural sections, there will be found owners of farms or men whose business is directly dependent on or connected with farming.

"The amount of capital invested in farming is large and constantly increasing. In 1910 the value of all farm property was approximately $41,000,000,000, or more than the capital of all the manufacturing establishments, railways, mines, and quarries in the United States. The value of farm property in 1919 is conservatively estimated at more than $51,000,000,000. From 1860 to 1890 this value increased steadily, but during the decade beginning with 1900 the increase in the value of farm property was greater than the entire accumulation of farm property in all the preceding years of our history."

Dinner Stories

The inquisitive old lady standing beside the discharged but still uniformed soldier kept eyeing his red chevron persistently.

"What division does that represent?" she asked.

"That, ma'am," replied the ex-soldier, represents the division between me and the United States army."

The small son of a well-known electrical engineer is more familiar with the appliances of modern civilization than with the small things of nature, and when visiting the country unhesitatingly picked up a hornet to more closely inspect its mechanism. When his father hurried out to discover the cause of the commotion which immediately broke the peace of the summer day, the little lad was ruefully sucking a thumb while tears streamed down his face.

"Why, what is the trouble, son?" he was asked.

"It was that bug," he managed to explain between sobs. "I think his wing is defective. I touched him and he wasn't insulated at all!"

A man who was wanted by the police had been photographed in six different positions and the pictures sent

WOMEN NEED NOT STAND IT

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Surely Removes Suffering and Pain. Here is Proof.

St. Paul, Neb.—"I suffered with periodical pain for about four years so that I was unable to do my work at times. A friend told me about Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it. It soon stopped all my suffering so that I am now feeling fine in every way. I recommend your medicine to my friends who have similar troubles. You may publish this letter for the benefit of other women."—Mrs.
WILL THOMAS, St. Paul, Neb.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For forty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who now are free from suffering by its use.

Grey's Successor?

RECENT reports state almost positively that Lord Reading will be the next ambassador from Great Britain to the United States. Lord Grey, sent to the U. S. as ambassador at the close of the war, is in England now and will not return in that capacity, it is said.

LORD READING

Lord Reading was ambassador to the U. S. for a period during the war and is credited with having filled the office capably.
He is now lord chief justice of England. He will resign that position, of course, if appointed ambassador.

Memories of Old Days

In This Paper Ten Years Ago Today

Committees from the city council, Young Men's Business Club, and other local organizations met to tentative plans for the entertainment of the Indiana Municipal League, scheduled for June 21, 22 and 23.

The receivership of the Richmond Abattoir company was dissolved when the court approved the sale of the concern to Charles Jacobs, of Cincinnati, for $13,500.

The largest attendance in the history of the club was present at the ELK's initiation.

SO EASY! LIKE ROLLING OFF LOG

Sore, touchy corns stop hurting, then lift right out with fingers

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says the Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A quarter ounce of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to injure or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin. After you lift away the troublesome corn or callus the skin underneath is a pink, firm and healthy as the palm of your hand.—

ERNESTINE

Ernestine has an origin of lofty dignity. She is one of the "Eagle" names. Like many of the feminine names connected with mythology, the Eagle occupied a position of great respect and even adoration among the ancients, and has name with various suffices and prefixes furnished many of the cognomens then in vogue.

In Scotland the word for eagle was "erne" and the name was found in all countries where there were mountains, the homeland of the king of birds.
Arndur, or Arneidur, was the first of the eagle ladies. She was said to be the daughter of Asbjorn, of the Gebrides, who was sold to an Iceland-er named Katell Thymr. This lady had the good fortune to find a quantity of silver sufficient for her ransom beneath the roots of a tree, but she decided to remain the wife of Thymr and was known in history as one of the famous women of Iceland.

The next step in the evolution of Ernestine was Arnthora, and later

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water-drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Advertisement.

Annora, who was the wife of Bernard de St. Valery. Her name was carried into the family of Braose by King John's victim, Maude de St. Valery, who called one of her daughters Annora.

The masculine Ernesto, which preceded Ernestine directly, appeared first in Lombardy in the year 752, through Karkgraff of Augustia Ernst spread all over Germany after the Reformation, and it was Germany which finally formed the feminine Ernestine. Though still in great vogue there, it has of late years been contracted to Stine, or Tine, or sometimes Erna.

Bohemia calls her by the elaborate Arnostinka, but England and America took her over as Ernestine, and preserve her as such.

The moonstone is Ernestine's talismanic gem. It is said to bring her good fortune and good health and is particularly lucky for lovers who, old legend insists, may read the future in its depths. Sunday is her lucky day and five her lucky number. Yellow is said to be her color.

Much of the so-called dew on a lawn is water which has exuded from the leaves on account of root pressure.

HE FEELS LIKE DIFFERENT MAN STATES ADAMS

"This is certainly the best medicine in the world," said Fred Adams, as he purchased his fourth bottle of Tanlac of Meyer Brothers company in Fort Wayne, the other day, "and I want my statement published in all the papers so everybody may know what it has done for me."

Mr. Adams lives on R. F. D. 9, Fort Wayne. He is employed by the General Electric company as machinist, and is highly respected by all who know him.

"Yes, sir," added Mr. Adams, "I count myself lucky that I got Tanlac.
Why, do you know, I have already gained 10 pounds in weight and have just finished my third bottle. Not only that, I have gotten rid of a case of stomach trouble that kept me miserable for two years, as well as all the after effects of a case of 'flu' that came near putting me out of business."

"When the 'flu' epidemic struck us about a year ago, I was in such an awful run-down condition on account of indigestion that I was an easy victim. I had a spell that used me pretty rough and when I did get up my stomach, which had bothered me for two years, troubled me worse than ever. Besides, that my head ached continually and I was so nervous I simply thought I would go distracted.
I tried to work, but couldn't make it to save my life. I was bilious most of the time, my kidneys were out of order and my color was bad. I also had the backache and felt tired and worn-out all the time."

"But, as I said, since I began taking Tanlac I have gained ten pounds and I feel like an entirely different man.
I can eat just anything set before me and I never feel a pain or a sign of indigestion any more. Neither my kidneys or liver bother me and my headaches and backaches are things of the past. I have also gotten rid of that tired feeling and am just brimful of life and energy. Tanlac certainly does the work, at least it has in my case, and now when I hear anyone complain of feeling run-down and bad, I always tell them about Tanlac." Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Clem Thistlethwaite and by the leading druggists in every town.—Advertise-

IS YOUR GUARD DOWN?

Every man is a fighter, though he may not be a pugilist. His daily task is his fight—and he needs to be fit and ready for it.

Constipation to the business fighter is the "out-of-condition" of the pugilist.
Constipation not only makes the business fighter dull and slow, and unfit for effort, but it is the "lowered guard" that leaves the opening for the jarring blows of serious diseases.

90% of all diseases have their origin in the intestinal canal—in constipation.
Constipation not only causes the generation of poisons, which are carried through the system by the blood and attack it from within, but also by thus lowering the general stamina makes the weakened system an easier prey to harmful germs from without.

By an entirely new principle Nujol keeps the poisonous food waste moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol trade-mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."
