Accidents in Indiana

Indiana workmen grew careless during July, August and September of last year, says Thomas Roberts, member of the industrial board of Indiana. Accidents increased 70 per cent in 400 shops, employing 50,000 men, over the number of accidents in the previous three months, although the number of employees increased only 6 per cent.

Twenty-four per cent of all the accidents were injuries to the eyes. Such accidents, Mr. Roberts pointed out, could be obviated if the employees wore goggles and the employers insisted upon their use. He also showed that 28 per cent of all accidents were caused by workmen operating machines in such fashion that accidents resulted. Carelessness and lack of understanding of the proper methods of handling the machines were assigned as reasons for this percentage.

ENTERPRISE
There is a species of orange grown in Florida that is called the "King Orange." It is the most delicious orange that I have ever tasted.

Interested, I asked a noted farmer about this orange and this is what he told me. The name came from the fact that for thousands of years this orange was grown exclusively for the king of Siam in China. No one was allowed to taste of it excepting the king.

Rural Route Carriers

Rural route carriers in the United States are leaving the service at a rate that is alarming officials of the postoffice department. The reason usually assigned for their resignation, it is reported, is their inability to earn a living and pay for the upkeep of their automobiles or horses.

Rural route carriers find themselves in the predicament of teachers and ministers who are unwilling to quit the service, yet find it impossible to make ends meet with their meager salaries. Teachers and ministers have not resorted to strikes to obtain improved living conditions, but they are forsaking their callings by the hundreds.

The rural route mail delivery has become a public necessity. The rural communities will not permit the government to curtail the service or eliminate it entirely. The government will be forced to realize its importance by increasing the compensation to carriers. Federal authorities will soon report to congress a plan which will make such salary adjustments that the rural route system will be maintained at a high efficiency.

from one of the trees and slipped it into his pocket. He then brought it to this country where it was grafted to another tree—and now all over the orange-growing region of Florida are thousands of trees bearing King oranges!

You can't shut up enterprise, or initiative, or ideas. When least expected, they appear—providing someone is there to take their hand!

I came across a magazine the other day with the picture of a man in it who is now but 40 years old—and yet a millionaire. He loaned me my first $500 when I didn't have five cents. And the article stated that he was once given up to die. But he went West, got back his health—and then made a million dollars. Knowing the chap so well, and his hobby in taking chances with people, as well as with ideas, I was thrilled at his success. And this young man stated that the richest reward from success lies in being able to make others succeed.

There are plenty of jobs open for men and women of enterprise!

It Is Acid-Stomach That Makes the Body "SOUR"—Old and Weak

What is it that robs so many people of their vitality, youth and good looks—makes them all in and decrepit years before their time? Some say it's rheumatism that is ailing them. Others complain of chronic stomach or liver trouble. Others are bilious. Life is a burden to multitudes of dyspeptics. Severe headache, extreme nervousness, insomnia, mental depression, melancholia, anemia, dizziness, vertigo, heart and chest pains, constipation, etc., claim other multitudes.

In about nine cases out of ten ACID-STOMACH is the cause of these ailments. The first symptoms of this condition are nearly always indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, painful bloat, gas, etc.

An Acid-Stomach cannot properly digest food. Unless food is fully digested its nourishing elements cannot be properly assimilated. Hence the blood becomes thin and impoverished.

No person, no matter how strong or robust he or she may be, can long withstand the insidious, day-by-day health undermining effects of Acid-Stomach. Even the tasteless acid that causes acid-mouth is powerful enough to eat through the hard enamel of the teeth and cause them to decay. Is it any wonder, then, that Acid-Stomach creates such awful havoc throughout the entire system?

A modern remedy—EATONIC—brings wonderfully quick relief in all cases of stomach distress. Makes the stomach cool, sweet and strong, able to digest food properly and thus supply the body with the required amount of nourishment. EATONIC is in tablet form—eat them like a bit of candy.

More than 500,000 people in the United States have put EATONIC to the test and say that it has rid them of Acid-Stomach. The grateful letters from many of these users testify to the merits of this wonderful remedy. Many had been sick and ailing for years, tried remedy after remedy in vain, and according to their own testimony, only through EATONIC were they able to regain their health. Your druggist has EATONIC and is authorized to refund your money if you are not satisfied. So give it a trial today.

Charlie and his three sisters had been to visit a relative in the country. Though the invitation had only been for a week, their stay was gradually lengthening into a month. In fact, the uncle was beginning to fear it was going to be a permanent infliction. But eventually they went.

"Well," asked he father, upon the return of his offspring, "was your uncle glad to see you?"

Charlie's face lit up with delight at the question.

"Glad!" he echoed. "Uncle glad!

Why dad, he wanted to know why we didn't bring you, mother, the maid, the cat, the canary and the goldfish!"

Edith Wharton, engaging a maid for her apartment, interviewed one whose name might very appropriately have been Miss Doolittle.

"Of course, madam," said the girl, "you won't expect me to sweep?"

"Oh, no, indeed."

"Nor answer the doorbell?"

"Certainly not."

"No no," Mrs. Wharton interrupted graciously. "I expect none of these things from my parlor maid. I only want her to look at, and for that you are too plain."

IT KEPT ME ON THE JOB STATES SOUTH BEND MAN

John Duck, a pioneer of South Bend, Ind., residing at 916 North Hill street, who is one of the most popular figures at the plant of the Oliver Plow & Implement Company where he is employed as millwright and carpenter, declared in a statement the other day that had it not been for the help of Tanlac he would have been compelled, on account of rheumatism, to give up his work.

Mr. Duck has been a resident of South Bend for sixty-five years and has seen the town grow from a village of six hundred people to a flourishing city of eighty-five thousand population.

"Day after tomorrow," said Mr. Duck, "I'll be seventy-one years old and I want to tell the people that it's by the help of Tanlac that I am able to successfully hold my place as millwright and carpenter here at the plant. Two years ago I began suffering with rheumatism in my shoulders and arms and no doubt I would be laid up today instead of working if I had not taken Tanlac. My arms would swell up and ache and throb so I could hardly raise my hands to my head. My elbows were so stiff and achy that it was agony for me to bend them and in damp or cold weather, especially, I was almost unfit for work. Frequently such keen cutting pains would shoot back and forth across my shoulders that I could hardly stand it.

"But I never was a hand to give up or take medicine and I just kept dragging along until my suffering got to be so severe that I had to take serious notice. It was either take something and get rid of the rheumatism or give up my job. Well, Tanlac was the first thing that came into my mind as so many people were talking about how it had helped them, so I got a bottle and, while it seems remarkable, it's a fact, within a week's time I hardly knew I ever had rheumatism. My elbows stopped swelling, the pain, soreness and stiffness disappeared and I could use my arms about as well as I ever could. I had never noticed anything except rheumatism being the matter with me, but Tanlac has gotten my whole system in condition to where I feel a hundred per cent better all over. I keep Tanlac in my house all the time now and I never take anything else for the aches it's recommended for. Tanlac saves me time, suffering and money, and I'm giving these facts in my case for what they may be worth to others who are needing such a medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Clem Thistethwaite and by the leading druggists in every town.—Advertisement.

Beginning with the customers of a small retail drug store, the use of Vick's has grown—year by year—state by state—until now more than 17 million jars are used annually. And this in spite of the fact that Vick's is a new form of treatment to many folks in the North and West. Vicks can be had at all druggists in three sizes—30c, 60c or $1.20.—Advertisement.
