Mrs. Solomon Says— Being The Confessions of The Seven-Hundredth Wife.

By Helen Rowland

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
My Daughter, how long wilt thou sigh for a wreath of laurels when orange blossoms are so much more effective, and widow's weeds more potent?

Verily, verily, in order to be adored and trusted by all men, it is necessary for a woman to have been married to at least ONE of them.

For every Bachelor regardeth a spinster as his Natural Enemy—and a widow as his Sanctuary, and his Refuge from danger!

Behold, unto a widow he cometh, as a petitioner seeking comfort and wisdom and charity.

He sitteth at her feet, and beseecheth her advice, saying, "Thou understandest me!"

He yearneth to be "mothered"—and she mothereth him; he sigheth to be comforted, and she comforteth him.

He revealeth his weaknesses; he rehearseth his troubles; he consulteth her concerning his latest "affair."

All her ways are right in his eyes, and all her words are wonderful.

He openeth the door of his heart, and permitteeth her to view the secrets of his soul.

He discardeth all his pet poses. He taketh off his armour and buckler. He is at her mercy!

And if she doth not wed him, it is for one reason only—because she has mercy UPON him!

But, unto a MAID he cometh with the sounding of brass and the tinkling of cymbals.

He is more gracious and more condescending than a "captive princess" in a fashionable millinery shop, or a show-girl to a reporter.

He approacheth her as one who saith:

"Oh, thou lucky little thing! Look who's here! Even I, the breaker of hearts, and drawer of glances, am about to bestow my smiles and attentions upon thee!"

He permitteeth her to persuade him to smoke—and to tell her of his conquests and his prowess.

He speaketh as one having great weariness and vast experience. He referreth darkly to his "past." He is SO blasé!

He reproveth her gently for the powder upon her nose; he deploreth her frivolity and the flippancy of her culture.

He sigheth: "I am NOT a marrying man!" He keepeth her in her place! He yawneth at her subtleties and smileth at her snares.

For the shadow of the Husband-Hunt is over her!

And, though she be as guileless of DESIGN as—as a Futurist masterpiece, and as innocent of art as a free verse poet, yet doth he regard her as a foe to his peace of mind, his liberty, and his pursuit of happiness.

Verily, verily, I marvel how ANY woman getteth her first husband!

But the rest come easy!

Selah.

Bathe with Brazilian Balm or half Balm and half warm water. Keep this up for 20 minutes or so, till the smarting is relieved. It will then heal quickly. Worth its weight in gold for this.

Good Gracious! How My Back Aches!

That's Many a Woman's Complaint—It's Work All Day Without Rest. Sometimes the Feet Swell and Ache—or the Head Aches.

It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking the advice of Dr. Pierce, which is avoid too much meat, or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking "Anuric." These anti-uric-acid tablets can be obtained at almost any drug store, in tablet form, and will dissolve uric acid as hot water dissolves sugar.

You know that before an insurance company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test your water, and report whether you are a good risk. You should send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected.

Corunna, Mich.—"I had been sick a long time with kidney and bladder trouble. Had backache all the time. I did everything, but could not find any relief. One day I saw an advertisement of Anuric in the paper. I sent 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package. The sample did me so much good that I got more from the druggist. I can't begin to tell what Anuric has done for me. I will always speak a good word for it, for I can't be too grateful."—MRS. JULIA MONTFORT.

Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Beautiful Snow Cost City $350, Says Schneider; Ice Covering Was Unique

It cost the city approximately $350 to clean the snow off the streets during the winter, Al Schneider, street commissioner, who had charge of the removing of the snow, said Wednesday.

The amount expended included team hire and the wages earned by laborers, said Schneider. The winter of 1919-20 was one of the worst in the history of the city, from the viewpoint of weather conditions. The glare of ice which covered the streets of the city for several weeks was without an equal in history, they say.
