Francis Brown Praised by Indianapolis Critic

Francis F. Brown instructor in art at Garfield school, was praised for his canvases displayed at the John Heron Art Institute exhibit in Indianapolis. In the art column of a Hoosier paper, Sunday, the following appeared:

Francis F. Brown has six pictures in the exhibition, all but one of which are painted in tempera, or opaque water color. The one in oil, entitled "The Cloud," is the landscape which won the Mary T. R. Foulke prize of $125 recently, at the Richmond annual exhibition of Indiana artists' work.

While similar in composition—a broad sweep of cloudy sky, a wide stretch of uneven field, a few figures that give color notes to the foreground, a distant church steeple—it will be noted that the color in this is somewhat more realistic than in the other landscapes.

There is, to me, in Francis Brown's landscape work, a suggestion of lyric poetry. His pictures always sing, and they sing with a delightful rhythm. One feels this rhythm in both the composition and the color arrangement. The clouds in his wide skies seem to swirl with a concerted movement.

Three Francis Brown landscapes of larger size than the prize picture are: "The Church on the Hill" and "Across the Field," both with clouded skies lovely in color, and "The Country Road," bordered on the left by a line of fence, an old apple tree with autumn leaves of red and yellow adding warmth to the general blue tone, while the wild cherry tree, so familiar along Indiana roadsides, towers with a grace in keeping with the imaginative mood of the picture.

"I'M LIKE A NEW PERSON," WOMAN SAYS

Vola-Tonic Banished Stomach Troubles of Years and She Can Eat Anything Now.

HIGHLY INDORSES IT

When Mrs. Mattie Williams, 419 West Seventh street, Cincinnati, started taking Vola-Tonic recently her stomach was all out of order. She had been troubled with her stomach for ten years. Since taking Vola-Tonic, Mrs. Williams says she is like a different woman and can eat anything she wants without trouble from her stomach.

"I tried many different medicines before I took Vola-Tonic but nothing helped me and I had been troubled with my stomach for ten years," Mrs. Williams said.

"I was in distress after every meal. Gas formed on my stomach and caused me a great deal of pain. Nothing digested properly."

"A friend told me about Vola-Tonic and recommended it so highly that I got a bottle and started taking it. I have only taken one bottle of Vola-Tonic now but my stomach is greatly improved."

"I can eat anything I want and I'm not distressed after meals and don't suffer pain from my stomach like I used to."

"I know Vola-Tonic has made me feel like a different woman and I am sure it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."

Men and women all over this section are taking Vola-Tonic and highly praise it for the benefits it is bringing them. If you are feeling weak and run-down get a bottle of Vola-Tonic TODAY!

Vola-Tonic, "Builder Of Strength," is being specially introduced in Richmond at the five Quigley drug stores.
