

$200,000 LIGHT ISSUE TO BE THEM AT MEETING SOON

City council, as a committee of the whole, the board of works and other city officials will meet next week with manufacturers of the city, to discuss thoroughly the proposed $200,000 bond issue for additional machinery for the city light plant. This decision was reached by the council Monday night after lengthy discussion.

The issue was referred to the board of works, who at its Thursday session, will name the date for the joint meeting. The meeting, which will be held in the board of works room, may be either Monday or Wednesday night of next week.

Councilman Matt Von Pein opened the discussion on the issue shortly after council convened, with the suggestion that it would be a good idea to ascertain the viewpoint of manufacturers on helping out the city in emergency. A big extension, which would double the capacity of the light plant, should not be made unless absolutely necessary, because of the high price of machinery, said Von Pein. He said he understood that a Richmond manufacturing company was contemplating putting in a plant of its own, and discontinuing the use of city power.

Wanted Protection From City. J. P. Dillon, plant superintendent, also said that he understood that several companies wanted to increase their power and that the company in question wanted protection from the city plant. It would take eight months for delivery and a year before the new equipment could be installed, said Dillon, making it imperative that the order be placed as soon as possible. He defended the $,000 K. W. unit.

The mayor then suggested the joint meeting of city officials and manufacturers which met with the approval of the councilmen.

Councilman Williams unearthed the question of the coal shortage at the plant, saying that the city did not want to experience another shortage next winter.

"We are working on that now," was the mayor's reply.

Don't Want Any Experts. The mayor voiced sentiment against the employment of experts from Purdue to go over the plant, as recommended by Councilman Ford, saying that he had confidence in the superintendent of the plant and did not want to expend money to hire engineers "to tell us something we already know."

Several manufacturers sitting in the audience were called upon to express their views.

The $200,000 issue was unanimously approved by manufacturers present, who were asked their opinion. They intimated that unless they received protection from the city plant, they would be forced to install their own power equipment.

Robert Ashe, manager of the Liberty Light and Power company, who was invited to attend, was called upon to give his views of the matter, and approved the bond issue recommendation of the light plant superintendent.

Byram Robbins, city attorney, asked Ashe if he would answer a question pertaining to light power. When Ashe replied in the affirmative, Robbins said: "Would you be willing, if the city installs the proposed improvements, to surrender your present contract in lieu of a new contract limiting the amount of current to approximately the present amount your company is taking?"

Commissioner is Cited. "Why certainly not," responded Mr. Ashe after Robbins repeated the question. "How could I do that? The Public Service Commission would not let me."

"But supposing the commission would let you," said Byram. "But the commission won't let me," retorted Ashe.

In response to Robbins' question that if the new machinery was installed, could the Liberty company embarrass the city by taking on more business and loading up the plant, Ashe said: "Have we ever done it?"

The mayor then called all debate on the question out of order and proceeded with other routine business.

No other important business was transacted.

A sore throat is a good breeding place for Diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can wisely depend upon TONSILINE. Give Tonsiline upon the first appearance of Sore Throat—don't give Diphtheria a chance in that throat in its weakened condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membranes—then the system can better defend the throat if attacked by Diphtheria germs. Meat Cause of Kidney Trouble Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers. If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then get fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of lemon and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.
