

TEACHER'S VOTE TO BE MIGHTY FACTOR THINKS WILLIAMS

"If Delaware and Washington ratify the Susan B. Anthony amendment to the federal constitution, when their legislatures meet next Monday, making the required number necessary for ratification, and if Governor Goodrich calls a special session of the legislature to act on the suffrage question of Indiana, the influence of 16,000 women school teachers will be a powerful factor in the election results," said Charles O. Williams, superintendent of the Wayne county schools, Tuesday.

Mr. Williams was to have presented the political side of the teachers' question to the high school teachers, in session Monday night, but was unable to attend.

Mr. Williams is secretary-treasurer of the State Teachers' association, and is obtaining data for the organization regarding the relief which many teachers want enacted into law. He also is one of the committee of 50 appointed by the Republican state central committee to find out what the school teachers believe should be written into the Republican platform. He is meeting with groups of teachers and officers of the teachers' federation, to gain their opinion.

Influence Never Felt. "Teachers of Indiana have never been able to make their influence felt politically," he said. "There are 20,000 teachers in Indiana, but 16,000 of them are women who have been unable to vote. But this condition will soon disappear and 16,000 votes cast for one party in Indiana, will be a factor to be reckoned with."

"If a special session should be called to act on the suffrage measure, the teachers would not only have the right to vote next fall, but also at the May primaries."

"The teachers naturally will support the party whose platform is friendly to their interests and to the school system. Teachers are beginning to inquire of the candidates how they stand toward their profession and the educational work in Indiana."

Farm Federation

Plans were completed Monday for a cooperative live stock reporting service by the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations, working in conjunction with the United States Department of Agriculture, which, if successful, will be a great aid in the marketing of live stock in this state and tend to steady the market with a more even supply from day to day.

The plan calls for a listing of all cattle, swine and sheep from each township in the state, with data showing the number being used for brood purposes, the approximate date the stock will be ready for the market and other information calculated to give the reporting service an exact line on the available supply.

In addition to blanks which will be sent to the county units of the federation and turned over to the township units every three months to be filled out, a 10-day service is to be tabulated at the headquarters of the farmers in this city.

A meeting in every township of the state has been called for March 31, he said, "and at that time the farmers will be called upon to fill out the blanks we have prepared. The plan will be explained and we have high hopes that the system will prove of immense benefit to the producers. Many other states will watch the movement in Indiana, the first in the country to try out the plan."

30 HENS AVERAGE 544 EGGS A MONTH

SPLENDID HATCHES SECURED

A monthly average for January and February of 544 eggs from 30 hens is the report received from A. S. Pujol, of New Orleans, La. He says: "My daily egg collection was very unsatisfactory until I started giving my hens Pratt's Poultry Regulator. After using 'Pratts' a short time, the number of eggs laid daily increased steadily, resulting in the very good showing mentioned above." On Jan. 21, 3 settings of 13 eggs brought out 39 strong, healthy chicks, and they all developed into fine birds."

Pratt's Poultry Regulator, mixed with a good egg-making ration, not only makes hens lay, but the eggs wanted for hatching will produce sturdy chicks that will develop into 1 pullets and cockerels. Test "Pratts" with this understanding: "Your Money Back If You Are Not Satisfied." Pratt's Poultry Preparations will make your poultry pay. A. G. Luken & Co., E. H. Stegman, Omar G. $900,000,000 TO BE FIRST INCOME FUND

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Treasury officials Monday estimated that the first installment of income and excess profits taxes, due Monday, one-fourth of the total, would amount to approximately $900,000,000.

Coincidentally with the tax payment treasury certificates aggregating approximately $775,000,000, which must be retired with the money collected, matured.

Treasury officials did not expect to be able to give a complete statement of the first installment payments before Friday. On these figures will hinge the treasury financial program for the future.

When the tax books closed those who failed to make payment became subject to penalty. Payments by mail, postmarked today or earlier, will be credited even if received after midnight. By instructions of Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue, all offices remained open until the last minute.

WAS BADLY RUN-DOWN FROM PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Washburn quickly regained her strength and flesh.

"I had grippe, followed by pneumonia. It left me with a terrible soreness in my chest, constant pain in my throat and so weak and nervous I could neither eat nor sleep. I had a chill every morning."

"One day a young man told me how Milks Emulsion had got him out of bed and built him up after he had been reduced to a skeleton and given up by the doctors. So I tried it. I have gained in strength, appetite and flesh, sleep better than I have for years, and doing all my own work again and feel like a new person."

"The beauty about Milks Emulsion is that it doesn't wear out like most things, and is so pleasant to take. It is a food as well as a medicine and builds up the blood and tissues. It surely put new blood in my veins and I have the healthiest color I ever had."—Mrs. M. Washburn, El Centro, Cal.
