

NO FOREIGN TRAVEL DURING INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, March 17.—A virtual embargo on foreign travel by American citizen was in effect Tuesday with the expiration of 30-day period during which Under Secretary Polk acted as secretary of state, ad interim. No passports were issued at the department Monday and while no official announcement was made as to the future, it was indicated that none would be issued until the senate had acted on the nomination of Bainbridge Colby to be secretary of state.

Administration officials held that the department technically was without a head and that as passports must be signed by the secretary or acting secretary none could be issued.

600 to 800 Daily.

From 600 to 800 passports have been issued daily during the past few weeks officials said, about 60 percent of them to persons going to Europe and 20 percent to travelers to Cuba.

Officials of the administration did not agree with members of the senate foreign relations committee that under the Overman act President Wilson had authority to designate some government official as acting head of the state department. They said the Overman act could not be made to apply in this case.

The senate committee had expected to continue its hearings on Mr. Colby's nomination today, but the inability of witnesses to come to Washington caused postponement of the committee session.

Flaming, Itching Skin Diseases

Cause untold suffering that could be avoided.

It is now pretty generally conceded that a great majority of the suffering that the human family undergoes comes through ignorance and hence could be avoided.

This sounds like a broad statement, and yet it is only too true. So many people are dragging through life the victim of some chronic ailment that is either misunderstood or mistreated, when intelligent, rational treatment would restore them to their normal healthy condition.

Diseases of the skin come from beneath the surface, hence they can be reached only by remedies that penetrate down to their very source.

And right here lies the secret of so much continued suffering from so-called skin diseases. Simply because the disorder is manifested by irritation, itching and often a breaking out and inflammation of the surface of the skin, the patient is misled into believing that the entire trouble is confined to this local disorder.

Hence the mistake is made of believing that the proper treatment is the application of local remedies to the affected parts. Very often the itching and irritation are so severe that you feel disposed to try almost anything for relief, and that is why you rely upon local treatment of salves, ointments, washes and such remedies.

But these remedies cannot possibly have any real curative effect upon the trouble, because your disease comes from far below the surface. The condition of your skin depends entirely

Portugal is Quit Except For Strikes, Declares Correspondent

(By Associated Press)

LISBON March 17.—Peace reigns in this city, nor has the quiet that prevails been disturbed for a long time. Reports relative to a serious state of affairs here, which have been current in the outside world for the last fortnight had their origin in rumors which could not be contradicted because of the strike of postal and telegraph service employees which cut off communication with other countries.

Strikes are common throughout Portugal and affect large numbers of working men including government employees, electricians, metal workers, and men employed in the building trades but the movement has hitherto been confined to a silent protest against the enormous rise in the cost of living. Workers have found it impossible to exist on the wages they have been receiving.

Inquiry in quarters thoroughly informed as to the conditions and representing diverse viewpoints has brought a general response that the working people of Portugal are not infected with Bolshevik tendencies, that they do not desire a revolution and claim only so much as will permit them to live reasonably well.

Taxes Cause Discontent.

Financial conditions, however, militate against any radical betterment in the situation at present. The constant decline in exchange rates results in prices of commodities mounting higher every day. Levying of higher taxes has increased discontent but these taxes made necessary by augmented national expenditures have not caused violent outbreaks of any kind.

As the Associated Press correspondent on his way to Lisbon traversed the country districts outside of the city he saw peasants working in the fields with their accustomed serenity, unaffected by any rumors which might be reaching them. Streets are well lighted here, theatres and stores are open and street cars and taxicabs are running.

Although railroad traffic is somewhat restricted, trains are running on all lines. Much inconvenience has been

NO REASON FOR IT

When Richmond Citizens Show a Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Richmond citizen says:

Mrs. Catherine Temme, 207 South Eighth Street, says: "Kidney complaint kept me miserable for a long time. I had a dull ache in my back and so much soreness, I couldn't rest my back against a chair. I tired easily and couldn't walk more than a block before I gave out. My sight blurred and I had dizzy spells. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and they were just what I needed. I improved right away and the aching and soreness in my back was relieved. Doan's are just wonderful."

caused by the stoppage of telephone, telegraph and mail service and no papers from abroad are reaching Lisbon but the citizens generally are not greatly affected by these conditions. Reports from Oporto and other parts of the country indicate that, apart from numerous strikes, everything is quiet.

Same as Other Countries

"What is going on in Portugal today is merely a repetition of what is happening in other countries of the world which suffered from the upheaval of the war," said Premier Antonio Maria Bautista today, who stated he wished to make a statement to counteract the absolutely erroneous impression which has spread over the world recently through the currency of false rumors.

"No one can now foresee where the trail will end, but Bolshevism has nothing to do with affairs in Portugal. There is no danger of real Bolshevism here, the example of Russia being a warning to the Portuguese if they ever thought of entertaining such notions. It is certain, however, that there is a very negligible element harboring Bolshevik ideas but they are among the lowest elements in the country.

Everyone knows that Portugal suffered very much in the war and gained nothing when the struggle was finished. Her heavy expenses during the years of fighting were almost overwhelming and many of these expenses will continue for some time. Revenues have decreased and our economic situation is very bad, imports from our colonies having fallen off to an enormous extent owing to a lack of transportation. Thus the country suffers from lack of materials.

"Regarding the labor situation, workers have undoubtedly made many demands but the increases of wages granted them have not been in proportion to the augmentation in the cost of living, which has suddenly soared upward with the fall in exchange rates. There is no thought of revolution and complete order has been maintained without difficulty and without the use of force."

The premier delayed a conference with his ministers in order to receive the correspondent. When the latter entered the room, Senhor Bautista was seated with a number of his cabinet members and looked as if he had just recovered from a severe illness. Under present circumstances, he said, many government employees striking his duties have been rendered very onerous and it is necessary for him to hold daily conferences with heads of various departments and state and provincial officers, these often lasting far into the night.

Discussion of the question of the stability of the present cabinet in many quarters here has been developed, the impression that the people generally are of the opinion that Premier Bautista is the best man to deal with the situation. Even some of the reactionary monarchists have given him support during the recent past.

British Ships Salvage Millions in Treasure

(By Associated Press)

LONDON March 7.—Sunken treasure worth $50,000,000 has been raised since the war began around the British Isles. The Restorer and the Reliant, two salvaging vessels that were bought by a British concern from the American navy have a new device, an oxygen acetylene flame which is worked under water for cutting holes in the sides of submerged vessels.

Each ship has twenty-five electric pumps capable of pumping 1,000,000 gallons of water an hour and carries two divers, search-lights, line throwing guns, electric welding plants, rock-drills and other accessories. Each diver is equipped with a telephone.

The Restorer last year recovered £1,000,000 in gold from the Laurotic off Lough Swilly and both vessels are now operating off New Haven on the channel coast.

A United States Army MAN

THERE is a Canal at Panama, linking two great oceans and carrying the commerce of the world.

For a hundred years and more men dreamed of that Canal. De Lesseps had the dream and failed, and the bones of men and wreck of machines remained to mark his failure.

It seemed a task almost impossible; yet that task was done.

It was done by United States Army men.

In Cuba and Porto Rico yellow fever once claimed victims by thousands.

Yellow fever is no longer a menace in those islands. A great physician and his aids helped the people of those islands to conquer it forever.

And they, too, were United States Army men.

In the Philippines a new civilization is arising; and its foundations are laid upon the courage and devotion of United States Army men.

You think of the Army as an instrument of war; and well you may; for the record of its men in France and Flanders will live as long as history is written.

But the Army has tasks of peace no less heroic—tasks that mean a safer, and a better world.

It is for those tasks that the Army asks three years of the lives of America's best young men.

To those men the Army promises sturdy health—an asset for their business success in all the years to come.

It offers them opportunity for training in a useful trade. It gives them good food, good clothes and good care. It trains them to responsibility,—it develops character and mind.

It promises them travel, and the knowledge of other lands, that will make them citizens of the world.

The United States Army seeks no inferior applicants. It wants men of whom it can be proud, during their enlistment, and in all the years to come.

Men who will look back twenty, thirty, forty years from now and say:

"Those years were the most valuable of all my years of training.

"They gave me health, and skill, and the capacity for managing men. They gave me a chance to share in giant tasks.

"I am proud of the record of those years, and of what they have meant in my success.

"Proud that I, too, for a little while, was a United States Army man."
