With only a small number of buttons remaining to be sold, members of the Booster Button campaign are planning to wind up the canvass of merchants Wednesday and to place the Booster buttons for distribution the last of this week.

Already three-fourth of the buttons have been sold, and manufacturers have expressed their willingness to complete the budget of $15,000 necessary to put the park finances in proper condition.

Fireworks Next Week.
Real action in league baseball is promised for next week, and Richmond will be in the center of the party. President Dickerson, of the Central league, has called a meeting of league club heads to be held in Richmond next week, and if the financial campaign of the city goes over, definite plans for the opening of the league, including player arrangements, a schedule, and the date for the league opening will be made, providing Richmond promoters decide to enter this circuit.

The Ohio-Indiana circuit is practically completed, but heads of that organization are still anxious that a Richmond club be lined up in that circuit, and the decision as to which league is to have a Richmond team probably will be made this week.

Park Work to Be Started.
Work on improvement of the grand stand, and rolling of the park also will be started as soon as the financial drive is finished. Several applications for positions on a Richmond club have been received both from managers and players, and members of the committee in charge of the proposed club are confident that Richmond can obtain a high class representation in either circuit.

Bowling

A. S. M. bowling at Twigg's alleys Monday night was one grand surprise from the opening roll-off until the last score had been marked up. The chief surprise was the fact that the cellar-bound Empires stopped skidding and walloped the Kentuckians three games. The next surprise on tap was the three game walloping by the Hoosiers at the expense of the Light Drafts. This defeat enabled the Empires to climb within striking distance of the top rung. The Jumbo's sprung the last surprise of the evening by taking two games from the Easy Pulls. High scores for the evening were captured by Ernie Way, with 224, and Walt Ellis topped the best average with 181. The games:

CHAMPIONS ROLL IN BOWLING CONGRESS

(By Associated Press)
PEORIA, Ill., March 23.—The American Bowling congress five-men champions, B'Gosh Overalls, of Oskosh, Wis., rolled in the annual tournament here today. The team won the title at Toronto a year ago while competing under the name of the Oskosh Hotel Athens. Mort Lindsay, the all-events champion, also was on the Davey Robertson, at left, is lifting a sky-high one to the outfield in batting practice. In the center Jim Vaughn is unlimbering. Above, at right, is Shortstop Hollocher scooping one. Below is Claude Hendrix warming up with the rest of the pitching squad.

The world-stunning Cincinnati Reds, with their 1919 lineup practically intact from bench warmer to lead-off man, undoubtedly will be favorites in the 1920 frolic in the National league, but the club that I figure they can fear most is the Chicago Cubs. I believe the Cubs are ripe to put up one grand little battle royal for the flag.

I offer these few arguments in defense of above assertion.
The Cubs have been strengthened in the outfield by the presence of Davey Robertson.

The offense and defense of the infield has been bolstered by the addition of Herzog.

They have the second best hurler in the league last season.

They have another star hurler, who, when going good, will be right with 'em.

They have the greatest catcher in the National league.

They have a batting order that can hit consistently and timely if it doesn't hold a corner on the heavy hitters of the league.

Plans for winding up the basketball season at Garfield school in a blaze of interest, are being worked out by L. H. Lybolt, physical director. These plans include three games for the Garfield varsity quintet, one of which will be played against the continuation class of high school in the high school gym next Thursday afternoon and another in the Garfield gym the following Thursday afternoon. The annual Freshie-Garfield clash will be staged next month.

Lybolt is also planning for basketball tournaments for both the large and small Purples and Whites. The annual White and Purple track meet will be held in May. The date will not conflict with the meets of high school and Earlham. The girls of the school compete in the tourney.

The annual tennis tournament will be held this spring. The Twenty-second street playgrounds will be put in, to first class condition. The tennis courts are in fair shape but the baseball diamonds and cinder track are greatly run down.

Plans are being arranged for a boys' inter-assembly room indoor baseball league games to be played on the large lot north of Garfield school. When the playgrounds are put into passable shape, regulation baseball will be started by Lybolt. Baseball has died out in Garfield during the last two years but efforts will be made to revive the sport.

American Legion posts are already named for Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt.

SISLER STAR, BUT DOESN'T HOLD RECORD

The only player in the major leagues who may be compared favorably with Babe Ruth in regard to ability to cover expertly more than one position in the field is George Sisler of the Browns, yet last season the famous star of the Mound City aggregation failed to lead the league in more than one department of play. Though he was absent from the Browns' lineup in eight games during the 1919 campaign only three players in the circuit cracked out more hits than George. They were Cobb, Veach and Jackson. Cobb and Veach each made 191 safe wallpops and Jackson manufactured 181, only one more than the extraordinary St. Louis player. Sisler was third in the number or total bases with 271 to his credit. Babe Ruth was first with 284 and Veach next with 279.

Sisler made an attempt to crack out more three-base hits than any other player in Ben Johnson's circuit, but at the close of the season he had to share the honors with Harry Hellmann of the Tigers, each making 15 three-baggers. As everybody knows, Babe Ruth trotted off with the home run wallpops with 29 to his credit. The next greatest number of home runs made by an individual player was 10 and there were three players in the league who compiled that total. They were Sisler, Baker and C. Walker. It is noted that the combined number of four base hits made by the trio of sluggers was only one more than Ruth made.

The Browns' remarkable player is one of the fastest men in the league and although he suffered 28 bases, the total was not enough to give him an advantage over every other rival. Eddie Collins of the White Sox won the honors in that department, having stolen 33 times. Sisler's 28 steals were enough to give him second place. No other player crossed the plate with as many runs as did Babe Ruth, who registered 103 times. Next on the list is Sisler, who with only 10 home runs to help him along crossed the plate 96 times.

Sisler excelled his rivals only in the matter of assists credited to a first baseman. In the 132 games in which he guarded the first stop, George was credited with 120 assists and was the only first sacker to reach the century mark. With a fielding percentage of .991, he was tied for third place with Wally Pipp and Risberg; the latter, however, played in only 22 games at first base for the White Sox and, therefore, is not considered a regular.

BURNS CHOSEN CAPTAIN OF WABASH CROCKET TEAM

(By Associated Press)
CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., March 23.—John J. Burns, guard on this season's Wabash basketball team, will captain the 1921 Scarlet court aggregation. It was announced following the election. Burns proved a bulwark in the Wabash defense operations this season and his long shots featured the play of the Scarlet machine. He is a sophomore in college. Burns came to Wabash from Ft. Dodge, Ia.

Wingate Wins School
Title From Crawfordsville

CHICAGO, Ill., March 23.—Wingate, Ind., captured the Western inter-scholastic basketball title when it defeated Crawfordsville high school (Ind.) in the final game of the tournament at Bartlett gymnasium, 22 to 15, Monday night.

The pair of Hoosier rivals fought a bitter battle and such a game between high school fives has seldom been staged in this territory. It was nip and tuck throughout, the winners drawing away in the final minutes with a great spurt, which brought the immense crowd to its feet.

Goldsberry, center, was the big man in the Wingate machine. The tall pivot man covered the floor with dazzling speed and his shots counted with regularity. He was closely covered throughout by the fighting center of the Crawfordsville aggregation, Chadwick, but managed to slip in the big points for his team. Shelton and Chadwick were the luminaries for the losers.

Play Opens Fast.

Play opened fast and never let down. Two long baskets by Goldsberry in the final minutes of the half gave Wingate a 10-6 lead.

Play during the second half was fast as the first but found Wingate maintaining its lead all the way. Crawfordsville came close with five minutes to go but the endurance of the husky Wingate five told here and they sailed the game away in the final three minutes.

J.V.'S BEAT ATLAS TEAM
IN INDOOR BASEBALL

The Jenkins-Vulcans defeated the Atlas representatives in a 12 to 11 indoor baseball scrap in the Y. M. C. A. gym Monday night. The game was hard fought from the start and not decided until the last inning when the spring makers forged ahead. Firth starred for the losing team, fanning nine men while in the box and putting out four of his team's total. Porter fanned 12 of the Atlas aggregation.

BUTLER OUT OF BASEBALL RACE

Butler college will not have a representative baseball team to compete with other colleges of the state this year, Coach Mowe, of Earlham, was advised Tuesday. An intra-mural schedule will take the place of inter-scholastic games. Earlham's tentative schedule included three games with the Irvington nine.

Coach Mowe said Tuesday that he intended to schedule games with Franklin Rose Poly and State Normal to take the place of Butler's games.

Approximately 100 men put in their appearance at Monday's baseball and track workout on Reid field. Baseball material at Earlham is most promising and the Quakers figure themselves for a good chance to cop the I. C. A. L. championship.

QUAKER RACQUET MEN
START SPRING WORKOUT

Tennis enthusiasts at Earlham have been holding daily workouts during the last week. A majority of the crack players are trying out with the track squad and Coach Mowe will probably have to use the axe on a considerable part of the surplus track material before tennis will come into its own. Present indications are that Earlham tennis teams will be hooked up in a dual meet with Butler and will also be entered in the all-state college meet to be held at Indianapolis late in May.

H. S. GIRLS LOSE HAIR PINS
PRACTICING FOR TEACHERS

The mystery basketball clash between the high school girls and a team picked from the female members of the high school faculty, originally scheduled for the Garfield gym Wednesday night, has been postponed until next week, because of the faculty dinner at high school.

The team that will represent the girls, held a snappy practice in the Garfield gym Monday night. Hair pins, strands of hair and bits of ribbon were scattered about the gym Tuesday morning.

About 13,000 United States troops are still on duty at the American bridgehead on the Rhine (Coblentz) Germany.
