

FRIENDS BEGIN TO LEAVE FRANCE; HAVE DONE GREAT WORK

The Friends relief units in France began their withdrawal early in March and the end of the month will see the complete winding up of the work.

The exceptions to this will be the maternity hospital at Chalons, which has been endowed with 1,000,000 francs and which will be maintained indefinitely by the Quakers; and work rooms, co-operative stores, carpentry and recreation classes, libraries and village community centers, which will gradually be turned over to French management.

The Friends service committee, whose American headquarters are at 20 South Twelfth street, Philadelphia, was assigned after the armistice, the reconstruction of the territory west of Verdun which had been completely devastated and which was made famous as the scene of the American Argonne advance. So thoroughly has the work been done that in no other part of the whole battle line has the village and farm life begun again on anything like the same scale.

1,666 Villages Helped
The Relief department of the Friends mission reports that it has helped 1,666 villages and 46,166 families. It has distributed 189,137 articles of clothing, 15,066 covers and sheets, 2,032 shoes, 2,629 beds and mattresses and 5,310 articles of furniture.

The agricultural department has plowed 1,516 acres mostly in small pieces of about 1-3 of an acre and has thrashed 6,712 tons of grain, much of which it harvested itself. It has also distributed 18,000 chickens, 6,000 rabbits, 1,000 bee colonies, 22,000 fruit trees and numerous small trees and other live stock. Eight institutions for civilian medical relief were maintained at different times, also dentists, opticians and district nurses.

The transport department last summer operated 80 machines. The building department erected 1,388 houses in 25 villages. Of these 100 were erected in Valenciennes, 79 in Montfaucon, 75 in Auberville and 72 in Neuville, renamed by the French "Cité des Amis" (City of Friends).

Most of these houses were manufactured by the Friends themselves in their two factories at Dole and Orans, interchangeable parts being constructed. Perhaps the feature of the work which will have the greatest permanent effect on the country was the maintenance of 12 co-operative stores where the refugees could obtain necessary articles at prices below cost. Each of these stores ministered to the needs of a group of surrounding villages.

Without them the French peasant would have had great difficulty in starting his home again. Some of the articles sold in these stores were made by refugees who were given employment in the manufacture of mattresses, brushes, embroidery. These stores are being turned over to a French society by the free distribution of shares to all purchasers.

No Workers on Salary.
About 700 workers have been sent from America, not one of whom has served for a salary. The Friends are now also operating in Germany, where they are making preparations with Hoover's co-operation to feed 10,000,000 under-nourished children in Serbia, where they maintain an orphanage and agricultural school and medical dispensary, in Austria, where they are running about 30 infant welfare centers, a large dairy, and a big clothing establishment, and in Poland, where a unit of about 20 is fighting the typhus.

Plans are progressing for work in Mexico and in Russia where a Friends' unit was maintained before the revolution. Many of the workers in France are now going to the other European fields whose operations are being rapidly enlarged.

Rooms for Music Teachers

Wanted; Marion Orchestra To Attend State Meeting

Persons having rooms which they will rent to delegates to the Indiana State Teachers' association, April 29-32 are again urged to call members of the hotel and lodging committee, including Mr. Allen at the Starr Piano store, Miss Feita at the Palladium, and Mr. Copeland at the Item.

Ralph C. Sloane, state president of the music teachers, said Wednesday that a group of about 45 players from the famous Marion civic orchestra would attend. Business men of Marion have subscribed a fund. R. Martin Paulsen, composer of orchestral, violin and choral music will head the organization.

Mrs. Paulsen, well-known organist will preside at the organ at the concert planned to be given in the Grace M. E. church.

Funeral Arrangements

Wilson—Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Wilson will be held at the Elkhorn church at 2 p. m. Thursday. Burial will be in Elkhorn cemetery. The Rev. H. S. James will officiate.

Thomas—Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Marie Thomas will be held at the home at 2 p. m. Friday, and will be private. Burial will be in Lutheran cemetery. The Rev. J. P. Miller will officiate.

Earlham

B. Willis Beede, of the American Friend Foreign Mission board spoke on the need for interest and work in behalf of community affairs, and various secular activities, at the chapel exercises Wednesday morning. He is a member of the Friends' college deputation. "There is much to do in getting success beside keeping up with the dollars and cents," said he.

Howard Minton, another member of the deputation, reviewed conditions in the Near East, and the work which the American Friends' Service committee is attempting, at the Polity club meeting Tuesday night. Walter Wildman, who served with the service committee in Serbia, also spoke.

The second series of interclass basketball games for the young women were to open at the college Wednesday afternoon. Miss Elizabeth Smelser, head of the Latin department in the Richmond High school, dined at the college Tuesday night, and following dinner spoke to the classical club.

The Cleo Club traveled to Boston Tuesday night. Friday night they will go to Spiceland.

Because of the concert by Madame Arendt in Lindley Hall Wednesday night, the usual orchestra rehearsal will be omitted.

Members of the Friends' college deputation will lead the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. meetings Thursday morning.

"Doggiest" Year Ever for Men's Clothes, Say Dealers; Prices to Continue High

Despite high prices, Richmond merchants report no decline in volume of goods sold this year, to that of last spring.

Retail clothing anticipated a decline in sales in their line as business was exceedingly brisk last year because of the large number of returning soldiers needing complete "civilian" outfits. However, since prohibition went into effect, and from pride in personal appearance learned in the army, young men are putting on more "dog" in clothes than before.

Merchants in women's apparel report no loss of trade. Last year the women used economy in purchasing clothes as the men returned from the army had to have a complete outfit. Prices are also high in women's clothing.

Milliners say that as long as the spring season continues to roll around, women will demand hats. These articles are also considerably higher than last year but that "don't make no nevermind" to millinery.

East Main Friends to Hold 4 Sectional Socials

East Main Street Friends church will hold four sectional socials Thursday evening. These socials are the beginning of an evangelistic movement to culminate with Easter. All those living on the west side of the river will meet at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Earl Hinshaw, 608 Richmond avenue. Those living east of the river and west of Sixteenth street, will attend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wilson, 116 South Eleventh street. Those east of Fifth street and south of Main, will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Crawford, 104 South Twenty-first street. Those east of Fifteenth street and north of Main, will meet at William Davenport's, 402 North Seventeenth street.

All members of the church and attenders are invited and all country people are urged to attend. A special program has been prepared for each social and the Rev. E. Howard Brown will address each group some time during the evening.

Forward Movement Party Holds Conferences in N. C.

Levi T. Pennington and Charles M. Woodman returned from a series of Forward Movement conferences in North Carolina. A main conference was held in High Point on Wednesday and Thursday last week, under the direction of Pennington. Woodman, a member of the Forward Movement, Fred E. Smith of Amboy, Ind., and Samuel L. Haworth of High Point, for some time located in the Forward Movement headquarters at head of the spiritual resources department.

On Saturday and Sunday, the Rev. Smith held a conference in Ashboro; the Rev. Woodman a conference in Yadkinville; the Rev. Haworth in Mt. Airy; the Rev. Woolam, Deep Creek; and Rev. Pennington in Gold Creek. Tuesday and Wednesday of this week the Revs. Woolam and Smith are holding conferences in Up River, N. C.

Friends' Missionary Party To Arrive in 'Frisco

Word received at the American Friends' service mission headquarters here Wednesday, states that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conover and Miss Roxie Reeve missionaries to Africa, are expected to arrive in San Francisco next Sunday.

The party came by way of India, China and Japan, and has made unusually splendid time, according to Ross A. Hadley, general secretary, who said Wednesday that they left British East Africa on Nov. 20.

From Malova, British East Africa, comes word that Arthur B. Chilson, missionary well known in Richmond, was thrown from his motorcycle in January and suffered painful injuries.

Church Leaders Urged to Activity by Rev. Murray

Churches of the Wayne County Federation were urged Wednesday to unusual activity during the remaining days of the campaign closing with Easter.

"Church officials are especially reminded of their responsibility for leadership. Every lay-member should recognize personal responsibility for service. Remember the slogan of this campaign, 'Every Christian an Evangelist.' Every church a center of Evangelism and community service."

"Evangelism which does not fruit in community service is socially deficient. Community service which does not root in evangelism is spiritually deficient."

A good report is expected from Wayne county," said the Rev. L. E. Murray, president of the Wayne County Federation.

EVERYBODY TRAVELS, SAY RAILROAD MEN

Passenger conductors living in Richmond report that the influx of Hoosier-migratory tourists is greater than ever before. The cool weather prevailing in the so-called balmy climates, added to reports of the balmy of the so-called freezing climate of Wayne county, has caused residents of Wayne wintering in the south and west to start for Richmond and home. All through trains on the Pennsy are loaded with returning tourists. Pullman accommodations are at a premium and day cars are crowded with people who ordinarily travel via parlor of Pullman cars.

Rail officials say the traveling fever has struck the American public and facilities are not great enough to meet the demand. The extraordinary high wages paid labor has caused men to indulge in this luxury.

Farmers and Laborers Travel.
It used to be that only the very aristocratic went south for the winter, but this year, however, this class was far outnumbered by the number of farmers and laborers wintering in the south. Again, factories in the south are paying good money for expert labor and hundreds of northerners worked in the south during the winter and are now returning home with well filled pockets.

While white labor is returning north after a prosperous season in the south, negro laboring men are putting on their coats for the cotton picking season, after a prosperous winter in the north.

Laborers Head for Farms.
Employment managers at Richmond factories report a large number of men leaving the indoor work for that of the outside variety. Farm hands and sons of prosperous farmers come into Richmond to work during the winter months. With the return of warm weather, however, these farmers heed the call of the plow. Employment managers report, however, that factories are again running normal. Illness and bad weather caused as high as 20 per cent absence that winter. The rate of absence is low at present.

Short News of City

PESSIMIST IN WHEAT.
J. A. Squires of Greensboro is a pessimist on the 1920 wheat crop. Besides the dry, and the bad winter, Squires said, several farmers are not attending to their business as they should.

TO FIGHT CHINCH BUG
Richard Lieber, head of the state conservation department, Tuesday issued a call to county agents. Following E. F. Murphy of Wayne county, he urged the chinch bug. He says the bug is likely to prove a pest unless it is fought hard.

BOYS, PICK 'EM UP
Wireless messages flit back and forth across Richmond from 9:30 to 10 o'clock each night. They are sent out by Harvey C. Anthony of the Muncie high school faculty, who is state commander of the radio intelligence service commission. The messages are sent for the benefit of amateur wireless operators.

TO CHECK PRICES
A careful check of the prices set by retail dealers on the cheaper cuts of meat will be kept during "Save Money on Meat" week, which began in Indiana Saturday, said Stanley Wyck-off, fair price commissioner for the state Wednesday. Letters will be sent to all dealers in Indiana handling army supplies, such as food, clothing and hardware, warning them against profiteering, said Wyck-off.

NUSBAUM PESSIMISTIC
Lee B. Nusbaum, of Richmond, secretary-treasurer of the Indiana Retail Dry Goods Association, at its session in Indianapolis Tuesday, said that there would be no reduction in prices "without the cooperation of the home manufacturer, wholesaler and distributor." Sentiment along the same line was expressed by other men.

TWO HURT IN SMASH
Mr. and Mrs. William Collins and Miss Gladys Collins met with an accident Sunday night on the National road about 20 miles from the city. The car was struck by a machine said to have been driven by a Mr. Evans of Richmond, and thrown over a ten-foot embankment. Mrs. Collins received severe cuts about the face, but her condition is favorable. Gladys Collins is suffering from nervous shock.

LAUNDRY PRICES
The high cost of cleanliness has advanced 20 per cent in the last three months, say Richmond laundry proprietors. Laundries throughout the state have been forced to raise prices recently because of unusually high wages laundry employees are receiving and also increased cost of starch, laundry machinery and other things used in keeping clothes clean. No additional raise is contemplated, however, assure Richmond laundry owners.

WENTLINGS HAVE SON
Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Wentlings are parents of a son, born Monday morning. He will be christened Howard Paul Jr.

TO MEET HIS WORKERS.
W. L. Stump, Wayne county financial director of the Inter-church world movement financial campaign, will meet with the different denominational directors of the county in the Richmond Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. Plan of action probably will be taken up.

HISTORY CLASS TO MEET.
The third Y. M. C. A. history and relationship class will meet in the association building at 7 p. m. Wednesday. This class is under the direction of J. W. Hansell, first director of the Y. M. C. A. college at Chicago.

KARL MEYERS IS HURT
Karl Meyers, cashier of the Richmond City Water Works, sustained a deep cut over his right eye, bad bruises and torn clothing, late Wednesday morning, when thrown from a water works wagon on which he was riding. The wheels of the wagon caught in a car track and the sudden swerve threw Meyers.

RETURNS FROM MEETING.
C. O. Williams, county superintendent, returned from Indianapolis Monday night, after attending a session of the Republican National Superintendents' Association of Indiana.

Williams, who presided, said Wednesday that another session would probably be held within the next two weeks.

LOCK SHERIFF IN JAIL CELL; ESCAPE

NEWCASTLE, Ind., March 24—Archibald Armstrong and Jesse McCord, both 19, escaped from jail here Tuesday by locking Ralph Yost, sheriff, in the cell when he went to take them to the courtroom to plead guilty to charges of grand larceny in connection with the robbery of several local stores.

As the sheriff entered the cell the boys jumped on him and pushed the outside door shut, making the sheriff a prisoner. Mr. Yost called for help and his wife responded. The two boys had only a block the start of the sheriff, but they were not apprehended. A posse of 50 men searched the city and surrounding territory, but to no avail.

Armstrong and McCord last week confessed robbing the Cherrywood drug store here and the Walter Jolly drug store in Knightstown, and last Sunday admitted the police say, entering the Goodwin Clothing company here. Merchandise valued at between $1,200 and $1,500 was recovered from a rooming house in Indianapolis Sunday afternoon.

Sheriff Yost offered a reward of $100 for their capture. The plan to escape had been discussed during the morning by the boys and overheard by Arthur Councillor, another jail prisoner. Councillor attempted to warn the sheriff and wrote a note and passed it under the jail door, but it was not found until after the two boys had escaped.

April To Be Nothing But Conventions for Richmond

April will be convention and conference month in Richmond. The first conference on the list is the three day tour of this district by a team appointed by the Inter-Church World Movement, presenting the different phases and activities of the organization. This tour will start on April 6 and close April 8. The Knights of Pythias will hold a four day exposition, starting April 6 and ending April 10.

The annual North Indiana Methodist conference will be held here on April 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12. This probably will be the most important conference of the month. The state student volunteer convention will be held here on April 16, 17 and 18. This convention was postponed from February because of the epidemic of flu.

"Musical teachers of the state will convene here on April 20-21 and 22. April 25 to May 2 is the period in which the financial campaign of the Inter-Church World movement will be launched.

In addition to the conventions and meetings held here, a large number of Richmond men and women will attend conferences held in other towns.
