Bachelor Girl Sayings

By Helen Rowland
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
Columbus may have discovered America—but it took Blasco Ibanez to discover its greatest charm, the American Husband!

Prudence is what makes a girl insist on ringing in Mendelssohn the moment that a man's heart begins singing. "Just a little love—a little kiss!"

Home is the place where you have all the little comforts and conveniences—and never can find them; lots of closet room—but somebody else takes all the hooks; and the privilege of doing as you please—and nobody will let you!

A woman-hater is a man who has spent his whole life in "eating his cake," and is suffering from chronic sentimental indigestion.

At twenty, the only "perfect end of a day" is a kiss—but after thirty, it is that exquisite moment when a woman slips out of all her stiff things and kicks off her slippers.

No use telling a fapper that a man's ideals are noble and his character straight, if his nose and his shoulders don't match them.

What woman can doubt the existence of the supernatural when her Ouida board tells her that her husband is going to fly into a brainstorm about the price of her spring outfit—and he comes right home and DOES it!

It's a wise lover who will never give or take a meaningless kiss—even to PLEASE a woman! A daily diet of insipid kisses, like a daily diet of unseasoned trifles, soon palls on the appetite.

A man marries when he is tired of playing—a woman, when she is tired of working, and then they both wonder why marriage gives them "that tired feeling."

175 at E. Main Friends' Meeting; Starts Campaign

Beginning an evangelistic movement to culminate Easter Sunday, members of the East Main Street Friends church met in four sectional meetings Thursday evening.

Each was addressed by the Rev. E. Howard Brown, pastor. Mrs. Walter Dalby was chairman of arrangements for the meetings, which were attended by about 175 persons.

All those living on the west side of the river met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hinshaw, 608 Richmond avenue. Those living east of the river and west of Sixteenth street, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Folger Wilson, 116 South Eleventh street. Those east of Fifth street and south of Main met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Crawford, 104 South Twenty-first street. Those east of Fifth street and north of Main met at William Davenport's, 402 North Seventeenth street.

Wise Economy

The superior quality of Valier's Enterprise flour makes it truly economical to use. High gluten content, combined with careful, scientific milling, enables it to produce more baking per sack. And it eliminates expensive failures. Baking done with it is delicious to the last savory crumb.

Valier's Enterprise Flour

is ground from none but the finest hard winter wheat grown. Even the present scarcity of such grain, (which forces us to pay an unusually high premium for every bushel we buy) cannot induce us to use an inferior grade.

The result is a flour on whose uniformity high quality you can always rely. So no one objects to its slightly greater cost per sack. It is an investment amply repaid in the end by better baking and
