

WILSON URGES TURK EXPULSION IN NOTE TO ALLIED LEADERS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 31.—Frank expression of his belief that the Turk as a nation should be expelled from Europe and that this "often expressed intention" of the allies should be carried out in framing the Turkish treaty, is contained in President Wilson's note to the allied leaders, replying to their recent statement of information concerning the progress made in framing the treaty. The note was made public here last night after the state department had been informed that it had been delivered to the allied premiers.

While the president did not deem it advisable that the United States be represented in the conference at which this treaty was framed because this country never was technically at war with Turkey he expressed the opinion that "as this government is vitally interested in the future peace of the world, it should frankly express its views on the proposed solutions of the difficult questions connected with the Turkish treaty. The president wrote that while the strength of the arguments for the retention of Turk rule in Constantinople was recognized the American government believes that the arguments against it are far stronger. Approval of some of the provisions of the treaty was voiced but comment on some of the territorial phases and upon the whole re-economic program was deferred the note said, pending more complete information as to the objects sought.

High School

Under the direction of Miss O'Neill of the Commercial department, the Commercial club is planning to present in the auditorium two weeks from Thursday a short play, "Easter Morning in the Office," designed to bring out some important points of business and affording the use of typewriters, mimeographs and other commercial devices. The play was written by Miss Ethel A. Rollinson, instructor in shorthand and typewriting in the State Normal school at Salem, Mass. ### Plans for East Side H. S. To Be Considered by Board; Marne Statue Campaign Up Preliminary plans for the east side high school were to be discussed by the board of education at a meeting called for 4 p. m. Wednesday, Superintendent Bentley said Wednesday morning.

The board met for a short discussion of plans Tuesday afternoon and again Wednesday morning at the proposed building site. D. H. Perkins, of Perkins, Fellows and Hamilton, Chicago architects, who are designing the local high school.

Superintendent Bentley said he would present to the board a letter which has come to him, asking that the school children of Richmond might join in raising a national fund for the erection of a monument on the banks of the Marne river in France. Not more than 10 cents will be taken from any child, the Wayne county quota meaning only one cent from each child.

Years ago the citizens and children of France raised money through popular subscription for the gift of the Goddess of Liberty which now stands in New York harbor. The plan for a similar gift to France is being nationally favored.
