

CHOICE OF LEAGUE ALL THAT REMAINS FOR RICHMOND CLUB

Plans for improvement of Exhibition Park and arrangements for hiring a league club for Richmond's baseball fans next summer will be discussed at a meeting of the baseball directors to be held Thursday evening in the Commercial club room.

Some work is required to put the baseball park and stands in condition for the opening of the season, and it is planned to start this at once, to give the team an opportunity to work out regularly before the season opens.

Indications from other cities in the circuits which have asked Richmond to take a franchise, point to a strong Indiana-Ohio circuit at the expense of the Central league, if it is impossible to bring the two factions together in one strong circuit of eight or ten clubs.

Muncie May Sign Up

Muncie baseball promoters had been signed up with the Central league, but word from that city says that the expenses for the Michigan circuit would be too great for Muncie to stand.

Muncie is willing, however, to enter a league playing daily games, and the Indiana-Ohio circuit or a combination circuit would be considered favorable there.

Ohio cities in the proposed circuit are chafing over the delay, and are anxious to get the league started. Springfield and Lima are lined up and ready to go. Fort Wayne has everything ready to get the club and open the season.

Richmond has the finances for a league club, and it appears that the league will start as soon as Richmond promoters decide which way the club will flop.

Butler May Withdraw

From I. C. A. L., Would Mean Death of Organization

Butler college may withdraw from the I. C. A. L. at the meeting of representatives at Indianapolis Friday afternoon.

Action to this effect would prove no surprise to Coach Mowe, of Earl-

The Quaker monitor says that Butler has big ambitions and wants to compete with the large universities of the west. Butler plans to build a new college further to the outskirts of Indianapolis.

Should Butler withdraw, however, it means that the final curtain will be dropped on the I. C. A. L. drama. But four colleges would be left and these so far apart that transportation charges would make them leery of schedules games.

Coach Mowe will leave for Indianapolis Friday morning and Nash Higgin's will guide the destinies of the track and baseball squads.

BENSON TO SIGN UP BOXERS FOR BOUT HERE

While in Dayton next Wednesday, Eddie Benson, fight promoter, will try to sign opponents for Yank Drury and Jimmie Dalton, the bouts to be part of the boxing show planned for the middle of the month.

Benson has been dickering with Cincinnati boxers but they demand more money than Benson can afford to pay. Benson would like to bring top-notchers here, but the attendance at recent fights forbids this. Benson may add a first-class heavyweight to his string of scappers.

STARRING DICK RUDOLPH SPORTS

Dick Rudolph is the only member of that celebrated trio of Brave pitchers that helped humble the Great Athletics back in 1914, who is still with the Boston outfit. And, as the Braves look now, Rudolph's about the most dependable flinger the shattered club boasts.

Richard is a native of New York. He was born August 25, 1889. His pitching with Fordham college drew the attention of big league scouts. He was tried out by the Rutland, Vermont, team in 1906 and during the winter was signed by the Giants. He starred there until the Giants grabbed him off in 1910. The Giants sent him to Providence, where he stayed until sent to Boston in 1913. It was a case of providence being kind to the Braves. Rudolph quickly became a star and, with James and Tyler, hurled the Braves to the National league pennant in 1914. In the world series that fall the trio mentioned above the Athletics down with four straight defeats.

Rudolph has a spitball well trained but isn't worrying over the abolition of the wet delivery. He declared eighth in the list of National league pitchers last year in point of effectiveness, allowing only 2.17 earned runs per game. He won 13 and lost 18 games for a club that finished sixth, turning in a slightly better percentage than his team did. It is an interesting fact that, while hurling effective ball, he let go 11 wild pitches, being tied with Woodward for the lead in this department.

During this stage of the proceedings the appointment of the assembly at times approached the disorderly. Exchanges of personalities between assemblymen McGee and Louis A. Cuviller caused especially tense situations.

Good Humors Restored.

Late at night, however, when Mr. McCue, in a speech had reached the height of invective against the Socialists, Mr. Cuviller, marched smilingly down to where the reporters were seated and said:

"O, boys! Marty is fanning 'em out

Other incidents of the 24 hour session were the maiden speeches of Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and Miss Margaret L. Smith, Republican. Colonel Roosevelt urged the seating of the Socialists and Miss Smith advocated their expulsion.

"In voting against the five men I am not voting against Socialism," Miss Smith said. "If wrong principles have crept into their party platform, the party must correct its platform. I have tried to base my vote on what is the best good of all men."

Drive in Kansas Going Fine, Says State Leader

Stacy J. McCracken, formerly financial secretary of Earlham College, who is now devoting his time to the Forward Movement in Kansas Yearly Meeting, says that work there is progressing. Members of a committee include, President W. O. Mendenhall of Friends' University; W. S. Hadley, W. C. Kemp, Edmund Stanley, former president of Friends' University; Lewis Carey, Richard Newby, superintendent of Kansas Yearly Meeting, and Arthur Woolam, pastor of the Wichita Friends' church.

Charles Tebbits, who was announced as a member of the Inter-Church World Movement Wayne County committee, will be unable to attend the conferences here. It was announced at the Forward Movement headquarters, Thursday.

AMERICA KNOCKED BY CARSON; HOUSE PASSES IRISH BILL

LONDON, April 1.—The House of Commons passed the second reading of the Irish home rule bill Wednesday. The vote was 348 to 94.

Sir Edward Carson, Ulster Unionist leader, was one of the first speakers when the commons resumed consideration of the bill. He declared that he would re-iterate his opposition to the entire policy of home rule for Ireland.

Sir Edward said that he never had believed in it, and did not believe in it now. He believed that it would be disastrous to both Ireland and England.

The Ulster leader declared that he deplored the fact that Ireland would give up her representation in the Commons, because every injustice committed toward Ireland was inflicted before the union, and not since, and none of them would have been possible with the present representation of Ireland in the imperial parliament.

Separation Only Alternative.

Sir Edward argued that there was no alternative to the union, except separation, and that under the bill, he believed, a lever was being given to parliament's enemies in Ireland by which, under the guise of constitutional law, they might attain results which would be absolutely fatal to the empire.

Therefore, he said, he could take no responsibility for the scheme. Sir Edward declared he would not vote for the bill, but would not do anything to prevent the bill becoming a law.

Referring to the assassinations in Ireland, Sir Edward asserted he did not believe it was his own countrymen who were involved in these assassinations. He believed that they were committed by ill-conditioned men from America, who had come back here to carry on propaganda which was going on in America, and which the British public never took the slightest trouble to answer.

Therefore, he said, he could take no responsibility for the scheme. Sir Edward declared he would not vote for the bill, but would not do anything to prevent the bill becoming a law.

Is Charged With Killing Girl

(By Associated Press)

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 1.—Mike Onunck, a Russian, was brought here today from Ramsey, O., and placed in the Jefferson county jail, charged with killing Frances South, whose body was found near Adena, O., last Thursday. Onunck was arrested by John Crawford, a game warden, late yesterday. There was much excitement in Adena.

Therefore, he said, he could take no responsibility for the scheme. Sir Edward declared he would not vote for the bill, but would not do anything to prevent the bill becoming a law.
