

BOARD DECIDES TO TAKE LIBERTY PIKE; STARTS WORK TODAY

The upkeep and maintenance of the Liberty pike will be taken over by the state highway commission, W. O. Jones, county road commissioner, said Thursday, following his return from Indianapolis, where he appeared before the governor and the state commission in behalf of the pike.

Jones and W. O. Seanev, head of the county tuberculosis hospital on the pike, both recommended that the state body take over the maintenance of the road from the county. The state commission officially took over the roads Thursday, and Carl Hanson, of Connersville, district road commissioner for the state, will have charge of the work on the road.

Hanson will also supervise all other road work in Wayne county to be done under orders of the state commission.
