

BAPTISM, RECEPTION, WILL FEATURE MANY SERVICES SUNDAY

Baptism and reception of members following pre-Easter evangelistic services, will occur in several Richmond churches Sunday morning.

At the United Brethren church Dr. C. W. Brewbaker, of Dayton, will preach at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., and the baptism and reception will follow the morning service. The altar will be decorated with flowers and the roll of deceased members will be called.

Communion service and reception will be held generally at the Lutheran churches. Special offerings will be taken at several for the relief of Armenia, and for other benevolent projects of the churches. At the Trinity church, an address on conditions in Europe will be given by the Rev. H. J. Schuch.

To Unfurl Banner. The unfurling of a large banner bearing membership gains for the year will be a feature of the service at the Grace M. E. church. This church and the First M. E. church will hold baptism and reception of members.

There will be communion at the Reid Memorial church. A stereopticon lecture on the world survey of the American church will take the place of the evening service at the West Richmond Friends church.

The afternoon services at the St. Paul's Episcopal church at 3 p. m. will be especially for the children.

Women in Politics

By ESTHER GRIFFIN WHITE
Republican Woman Chairman for Wayne County.

"Will the women vote this year?" This is a question frequently put to the women now taking a poll of the women voters of Wayne county.

The very fact that a political poll is being taken under the auspices of the Republican State Committee shows that the women will vote.

The men seem, in some instances, not to understand that the women will vote.

One of them said the other day: "Women are not legal voters."

"Why?" was asked.

"Because the federal amendment has not yet been ratified by the necessary 36 states," he said.

He was laboring, however, under a misapprehension.

Women in many of the states of the United States are enjoying full suffrage. That means that they are voting for everything and everybody that the men vote for.

This right is conferred upon them by their state constitutions.

In other states, like Illinois, for example, the women vote for everything and everybody the men vote for except state officers.

Why do they not vote for state officers?

Legislative Powers Weak.

That means simply that the Illinois legislature passed a law enabling the women to vote, but the legislature could not give them full suffrage because the Illinois state constitution did not confer suffrage on women when it was formed.

The offices created by the constitution, therefore, could not be voted for unless the constitution was amended giving that privilege.

But the women, through the legislative enactment voted for all but state officers.

In Indiana the 1919 legislature passed a law enabling women to vote for presidential electors. In other words every woman in Indiana can cast her vote for president.

Constitution is Faulty. But the law named no other office and the Indiana constitution does not give women any right of franchise whatsoever. That is one of the reasons a movement has long been on foot to change the constitution.

When the federal amendment is passed that will give full universal suffrage to every woman in every state, whatever the status of suffrage may be in any given state.

But wherever the women have a right to vote in any way, it naturally follows that they are legal voters.

To assume any other attitude is manifestly absurd.

Every woman in Indiana can vote for president of the United States this year.

Makes Test Case.

The writer filed a declaration with the county clerk this week declaring herself a candidate for delegate to the state Republican convention.

This was done as a test case.

The attorney general of Indiana has already stated, unofficially, that women have the right to vote on May 4 at the nominating election.

If the women have the right to vote for president on Nov. 2.

Many women ask what the "primary" is.

It is the nominating election in which both parties vote on who they prefer to run as their representatives against the other party's candidate.

Party Chooses Candidate.

On May 4, in Indiana, the Republicans will vote to say who they prefer as Republican candidate to be named at the national Republican convention to be held in Chicago in June.

General Wood, General Lowden of Illinois, Johnson of California, Senator Harding of Ohio, are the Republican candidates whose names will appear on the primary ballot.

Women in Indiana certainly have as much right, as legal voters, to indicate their preference for president as the men.

And to say who they want to run against the Democratic nominee.

Are Legal Voters.

The reason that a woman is being taken is because women in Indiana are legal voters.

Not to get them ready to be voters.

No political poll would be taken under official auspices of a state party organization unless women were legal voters in the state of Indiana.

African Women Are Great Gossips.

The woman of the African tribes is generally compelled to do most of the hard work of the camp, but she has always time to gossip to rest, and take beauty naps. She loves company, she loves to visit. Her guests bring their own food and sleeping mats, and she takes hers when she goes visiting.

FROM FORTY-FIVE TO SIXTY

A Word of Help to Women of Middle Age From Mrs. Raney.

Morse, Okla.—"When I was 45 years old Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carried me through the critical period of the Change of Life in safety. I am over 60 and have raised a family of eight children and am in fine health. My daughter and daughters-in-law recommend your Vegetable Compound and I still take it occasionally myself. You are at liberty to use my name if you wish."—Mrs. ALICE RANEY, Morse, Oklahoma.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. This good old-fashioned root and herb remedy may be relied upon to overcome the distressing symptoms which accompany it and women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
