

GRAND AND PETIT VENIRES ARE DRAWN IN PREBLE COUNTY

EATON, O., April 14.—Venires for the grand and petit juries for the May term of common pleas court were drawn Tuesday afternoon by Judge A. C. Risinger, Sheriff George Jones and Clerk V. O. Rookstool. The grand jury will convene May 3 at 10 a. m. The petit jury will convene at call of the court. Grand jury: Washington township, J. E. Miller, John M. Pence, A. M. Cruse; Jefferson township, Edwin Middaugh; Somers township, D. C. Payne, M. C. Baker; Dixon township, Lewis Johnson, N. E. Stevens; Monroe township, W. S. Guenther, Clarence F. Smith, M. V. Petry; Lanier township, A. L. Dillon; Harrison township, S. D. Smith, Ova Beachler; Dayton township, S. W. Carr. Petit jury: Washington township, Aaron Clark, R. D. Duggins; Twin township, J. B. Myers, Frank Sauer, John Kaster; Jefferson township, A. P. Duffield, E. O. Reid; Jefferson Jones; Harrison township, Charles Holinger; Dayton township, S. W. Carr; Somers township, J. E. Collet; Gratias township, Ray Slough; Jackson township, Lawrence Campbell; Gasper township, Amos Brubaker.

Wants Money for Labor. Miles Wright is suing James Catron in common pleas court for $207.29 alleged to be due him for labor, feed and care of mules, pasture, etc. Wright values his labor at the rate of $4 and $5 a day. One item in his itemized account shows a charge of $10 for hauling two loads of wood from Eaton to Camden.

Wants to Locate Relatives. The Rev. S. L. Morris, D. D., of Atlanta, Ga., is endeavoring to locate descendants of his ancestors who lived in Preble county 100 years ago. Richard Morris came from England to Abbeville, S. C., and later came to Dixon township, Preble county. He was a brother of Samuel Morris, grandfather of the Rev. Morris. The Rev. Morris contemplates coming to this county to see his relatives, if he can locate any of them. He is secretary of the executive committee of Home Missions, Atlanta, Ga.

Fruit Is Not Harmed. Growing fruit in Preble county will not suffer any bad effects from the recent snow and freeze, according to belief of local growers, including Stephen Kuth, of near New Paris, one of the leading orchardists of the county. Growers believe the unseasonable cold weather this spring has retarded growth of fruit to such an extent that no ill effects will result from the late freeze.

What's in a Name

(Copyright)

AMELIA.

Amelia is derived from that remarkable word amal, which has formed the root of so many proper names. It appears in practically every language and means "work." As early as the days of the Vikings, it was incorporated into masculine and feminine names.

The first Amelias was an armorer in the court of King Nielung. Amlung, another of the early versions, appears in the "Book of Heroes," as naming Amlung the Strong, and there was a Duke Amelung recorded in Danish ballad lore.

Amala was the earliest feminine name formed from Amal. It was a favorite in Lombardy, but soon penetrated Germany, where it found vogue as Amalie. Meantime, France and Italy had adopted the Latin Amalia, and through the similarity in sound, the two names were thought to be identical. France compromised the difference between Amalia and Amalie and produced Amelia, the name which has such vogue today.

Amelia is the English version. It has replaced all other forms—even in Germany—the French Amelie alone surviving.

The amethyst is Amelia's talismanic stone. It will guard its wearer from danger and protect her from contagion. According to ancient belief, the amethyst has a sobering effect upon rash or impetuous natures. To dream of it signifies freedom from harm. Saturday is Amelia's lucky day, and 4 is her lucky number. The primrose, signifying simplicity, is her flower.

Legion Will Act On Petition For Auxiliary

The American Legion, Harry Ray Post, No. 65, is expected to act Wednesday night upon the petition of the Ladies' Auxiliary, which it is understood will be presented. The meeting will be held in the Commercial club rooms at 7:30 p. m.

The fact that 30 musicians turned out for the first organization meeting promises that he post will have a band of unusual strength. Roland Nussbaum, who will have charge of the band, is anxious to get in touch with members of the Legion who are musicians, and who have not yet appeared at practice.

It is not known yet just how soon the Legion will be able to move into its new quarters in the K. of P. building.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

By Phyllis Phillips

Yesterday afternoon I took my cousin to a baseball game. He was rather bored, and not at all properly impressed by the value of our national game. In fact, he yawned twice, in a distressing way. I saw two girls in the row in front of us look so amused. Then, too, he showed his ignorance of the game in a way that was most embarrassing. And when I think of how patiently I have let him rave to me about cricket I could kill him.

I did my best to point out to him the good points about baseball, and explain things clearly to him, but only seemed to muddle him up the more. Dear, dear, and mother firmly believes in international alliances, personal as well as national!

I have given up all hope of ever converting Cecil to our ways and pleasures. There's just no use, that's all. Those sparkling eyes of his are not indicative of any sparkle within, that's sure, and it's most disappointing. How awful if I were engaged to him instead of Jack. Think of a long life passed in a round of dull home pleasures and pink teas, plus the British interpretation of maternity. There is no more dreadful reflection to me.

Cecil tells me that an English woman settles down irrevocably after her first baby. No wonder we adore our own men, for they, dear creatures, still want their wives to be human even after that all-important milestone has been passed. Why I fully expect to go on being normally interested in life, love and the pursuit of happiness after I have been twice or even three times a mother. Nothing could stop me. Certainly not Jack.

I find myself continually congratulating myself these days. And then mother dares to accuse me of flirting with Cecil. The idea is preposterous. At the best I could only hope to convert him to our sensible point of view—never to really get sentimental with such a self-satisfied young man. I feel sure that if I ever did get serious with him he would write home to one of his sisters and tell her what a funny girl I was, and so on. No, I shall never be Cecil's Joker.

Jack and Cecil have developed an abnormal antipathy for each other, which amuses me. Of course they never would agree about anything. In the first place Jack would despise any man who talked about baseball as though it were a game for babies or idiots, and Cecil has no use for a young man who allows his business to engross him. How they do scrap whenever they meet.

Cecil informed me that the American man is to blame for the American woman. To which I answered, "Yes, indeed, God bless him." He didn't get me, of course.

I have definitely promised to take him to see the wonders of Wall street, and the Woolworth tower tomorrow. I wonder if he will evince any enthusiasm at them? Dollars to doughnuts he will not.

What Church Financial Campaign is

The world survey has given to the Christian bodies of North America a definite knowledge of the needs of the world. Many of the different denominations, seeing this need and also seeing an opportunity, decided to raise great budgets for their own work.

The men at the head of the Inter-church World movement recognized the fact that the individual efforts of the various denominations would necessarily result in a great amount of duplications and a needless waste of time, money and effort.

It was therefore proposed that all the Protestant denominations that desired to raise money for their own needs should concentrate their efforts and conduct all the canvasses during the eight-day period, April 25 to May 2, thereby making it necessary to conduct but one publicity campaign for all the denominations instead of one for each of the thirty denominations that are participating.

To Canvass Own Constituency. Each of these denominations has its own definite amount to raise from its constituency and in its own way. The national budget of each denomination will be apportioned to the various states and by the state to the counties and then to the individual churches.

In addition to the denominational budget it is hoped by the united appeal to reach a large number of people who have not been reached by the denominational appeals. This will constitute a united budget that will be pro-rated among the denominations participating according to the amount each has raised from its own members.

The Organization Explained. Each county has a united county director, who serves without regard to any denominational affiliation, and also a county denominational director for each denomination that has two or more churches in the county.

The united county director, with aid of the local churches is to organize a citizen's committee in each community where there are two or more participating churches. This citizen's committee is to consist of a community director, who serves without regard to any denominational lines, and one lay member from each of the participating churches in the community. The citizen's committee is to be responsible for the canvassing of group "B."

Will List Members. Each participating church will make a list of all its members. This is to be known as group "A" and will be handled by the church in its own regular way, except that it should organize after the general plan that is to be presented by the Community Director. All money raised from group "A" goes to the church as a part of its own budget for missions, education and other benevolent purposes. Group "B" consists of names of people who are friendly to the church, but who have no denominational connection. It will be the duty of the citizen's committee to see that all these friendly citizens are approached by some member of the committee and are given an opportunity to share in this campaign for missions, education and benevolence. The money raised from this source will be pro-rated to the churches. However, a member of group "B" has the privilege of designating any particular church or any phase of the work to which he wishes his money to apply.

It should be kept in mind that the Inter-Church World organization is to derive no financial benefit from this campaign, all the money going to the individual churches.

$175,000,000 Asked

An aggregate total of $175,448,349 is to be raised for universal evangelism. The need of this amount is not based upon a guess nor upon speculation. It is supported by incontrovertible evidence secured from the official boards and societies of the co-operating churches, which represent about 60 per cent of the Protestant membership of North America. (The fact that the other 40 per cent of the Protestant evangelical membership is not associated in the campaign does not indicate any hostility on the part of the bodies containing this membership.)

While the bodies will not all use the same per centages of their money for the different phases of the work, the totals shown by the campaign do indicate a very real and widespread desire to contribute to the work of the church. How to Wave Hair to Appear Naturally Curly

The tight little curls so dear to a woman's heart, the kind that remain in curl under any and all weather conditions, are best acquired by means of the new silmerine method. This simple method enables one to have the prettiest waves and curls imaginable, with all the appearance of "Nature's own." Silmerine is of course perfectly harmless. It leaves no sediment on the hair, nor any sticky or greasy trace. It also serves as a beneficial dressing, imparting a lively lustre and wholesome beauty to the hair. And the hair is fine and fluffy when combed out.

If one will procure a bottle of liquid silmerine from the drugist and follow the easy directions, she will be pleased beyond words with the result—which will be in evidence within three hours, and which will last a long time. The liquid is easily applied with a brush.—Advertisement.

SPRING IS HERE BUT ARE YOU READY TO PARTAKE OF PLEASURES OFFERED?

Trutona is Daily Winning Unstinted Praise From Hundreds for Overcoming Tired, Draggy 'No-Account' Feeling So Prevalent During the Present Season.

Does the coming of Spring with all its pleasures mean anything to YOU? "That all depends," may be your answer and admittedly, "it all depends"—it all depends upon whether or not your system has withstood the exacting siege of winter that leaves its wake so many, many thousands of people with completely run-down systems.

In fact, conspicuously in the minority are those who have completely avoided the ravages of winter maladies. True, there are thousands who were successful in warding off attacks of influenza and still more thousands who escaped pneumonia, but who is there that did not experience at least one heavy winter cold during the past season? Remember, only second in severity to pneumonia and influenza, is the heavy, winter cough or cold.

Like pneumonia and influenza, winter coughs and colds tend to weaken and materially affect almost every vital organ of the body. People who have suffered a heavy winter cough, feel that their systems have been sapped the strain of winter weather, and sadly mistaken. If they could but grasp the facts, they would not wonder why they feel so tired, sluggish, lifeless and generally out-of-fux, when they know they should be full of "pep" and vitality, in perfect harmony with the invigorating breezes and sunshiny weather of Spring.

Thousands of people are now taking Trutona, the Perfect Tonic, to overcome this weakened physical condition so prevalent at the close of winter and hundreds of public statements now being made daily, prove that none has been disappointed in Trutona as a reconstructive agency, system purifier and body invigorant.

Trutona does its work quickly. It speedily attacks the impurities in the blood that might, if left alone, bring serious results. It rebuilds broken-down tissues, strengthens the nerve centers and produces proper digestion and assimilation of food, at the same time throwing off any decayed matter that may have accumulated. In short, Trutona thoroughly and efficiently tones up every organ of the body and gives to your physical being the vigor and vitality, which alone can place within your reach the many pleasures which Spring offers to the healthy man and woman.

Trutona is sold in Richmond at Clem Thistlethwaite's Six Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

UNION COUNTY CORN GROWERS WILL DINE

LIBERTY, Ind., April 14.—The members of the Union County Corn Growers' association will hold a banquet at the coliseum, on Thursday evening. The Clyde club will serve the banquet to about 150 members.

Prof. G. I. Christie, superintendent of the Purdue extension department, and secretary of the Indiana Corn Growers' association has been secured by County Agent M. A. Nye to address the banquet.

The affair promised to be one of the most interesting meetings of the association held this season.

Heart Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman 25 years old. My husband is 21 years my senior. We have been married three years and I don't love him. Life is just a misery with him, and he says he doesn't love me and wishes he had never seen me. I want to work and buy myself some decent clothes, but he won't let me.

I was engaged to marry a man nearer my own age and a misunderstanding arose between us and our engagement was broken, but I dearly love this man. We pass as strangers and never speak and haven't for three years. I am miserable for days after I see him to see what a fool I was to marry a man I didn't love.

I would love to work and then time would pass more quickly. We have no children. His wages are barely sufficient to get what we eat and pay our debts. Neither of us have any decent things to wear. I think I ought to work anyway, whether he wants me to or not. It is only jealousy that he doesn't want me to go where any one will see me.

I admire your husband for not wanting you to work. It is pride rather than jealousy which makes him feel this way. Your only course seems to be divorce. This is not fair to your husband, but since you cannot love him,

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Multisud coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisud coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

It is useless for you to try to live with him; you cheapen yourself and make his life unhappy. Since you have no children your problem is easier because you will only hurt one by leaving.

It is a pitiful thing when either a girl or a man enters into marriage without love. It is the lowest kind of cheating. Be honest to your husband now and ask for your release.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl of 18 and very lonesome. I went with a young man and he went away. I can't hear from him. We always got along well together and I can't find out what was the matter. If I ever hear from him, would it be all right to answer?

Please tell me what to do.

MISS C. S. If the young man writes to you first, it will be all right to answer. Try to interest yourself in study, work, and reading. You are very young and much happiness is ahead of you. Some day you will forget the first young man because another has come along to keep you from being lonely.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 18 years old and have been going with a boy 18. He said he loved me dearly and if I spoke to another boy it made him angry. I have seen him several times with other girls and if I said anything about it he told me they were his cousins. I did not know whether they were or not, but took his word for it.

About four weeks ago he went to another town to work and joined the navy and didn't tell me anything about it. We were engaged. Do you think he could have loved me and acted that way? Should I try to forget him or trust him?

THANK YOU. The young man would not have treated you in the way he did if he had loved you. By all means forget him as quickly as you can.

ANXIOUS.

I admire your husband for not wanting you to work. It is pride rather than jealousy which makes him feel this way. Your only course seems to be divorce. This is not fair to your husband, but since you cannot love him,
