Eggs Still High, Even

If No Shipments Made

Although no eggs have been shipped to Eastern markets for a week, no reduction in the retail price has been noted here. Eggs selling for 43 cents a dozen last Thursday still bring that price.

According to the largest jobber in Richmond, this condition is bound to cause a smash when once the embargo is lifted and eggs are shipped east. The prices here are mostly governed by eastern markets, thus when the crash comes at New York the reaction will hit Richmond prices. This dealer announces that he has stopped buying eggs from farmers in this locality, as his warehouse is full and he is unable to ship. His prices have decreased slightly since last week, but he can not make any reduction while the markets are high at eastern points. His supply was mostly purchased at high prices.

Heart Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman and have three small children. I am 23 years of age and have been married four years. My husband is good to me and will get me anything for my pleasure, but he is not affectionate. He has not kissed me for months. When I try to be loving or kind to him he pushes me away and tells me to stop bothering him.

When my girl friends come he is kind and good to them, but makes nothing of me. Do you think he is in love with some other woman, or what is the matter with him?

I love my husband dearly and would love to have him affectionate to me. Will you please tell me how to make him affectionate?

FUNNY MAN'S WIFE. You can judge your husband's loyalty to you by the amount of time he spends at home and the interest he shows in it. There are many cases of men who cease to be affectionate after marriage, but who are loyal to their families and love no other woman.

It is a rather hopeless situation if your husband's nature is not affectionate. Affection is born in people. Try not to grieve over that which has been denied you. You have much for which to be thankful, since your husband is good to you and will get you anything for your pleasure.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Allenru relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed your druggist to guarantee it in every instance.—Advertisement.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

By Phyllis Phillips

June 18.—Well, we did some of the sights today. I had the time of my life. At last I understand what it meant by British control. I razed, though by no means dazzled Cecil through the winding paths that lead to the Stock Exchange this morning, and his first remark after seeing the curb market was that he now knew the reason for the average American man passing out before he is sixty, or fifty. That annoyed me a bit, but I said nothing.

Only once did he condescend to twist his head and look up at the tall buildings. Evidently he felt that it was expected of him, and was determined not to give way to any such vulgar curiosity. He seemed best pleased with Trinity churchyard. Said it was so peaceful—that was before the stenographers began to swarm in with their luncheons! The sight of them planted calmly a-top of the tombstones almost paralyzed him. He said we were an irreverent nation. The girls did not seem to mind it, however. He did seem properly impressed by the whizz up the Woolworth tower, and when we finally landed at the top, and that gaspingly wonderful vista of New York and its harbor burst upon us, I heard the unemotional Cecil give a low whistle of amazement, then he actually pinched my arm, and told me it was a gorgeous view—as fine as he had ever seen.

Patience is its own reward, after all. It was a perfect day for my exhibition, fortunately, and we could see for miles around. Cecil was particularly delighted with the view of Broadway as he looked down, and discovered the Genus Homo put into its proper place, as it were. Man, the great Civilizer, looked like some grotesque ant, crawling along painfully, as he never does in reality, and as for the trolley cars—my! but they looked insignificant. It was a most educational sight, believe me. I tried to explain to Cecil that with all our striving, we mortals, when seen from great heights, are but as worms after all. He half got my involved meaning, I think. Then he got back at me by saying in his quiet way, as he pointed to the distant Statue of Liberty, that our Liberty had dwindled to almost nothing. Pretty good, that! I refrained from smiling, however, for I felt that in spite of everything, there is just as little that our British cousins can show us along this line, as along others.

Cecil chuckled heartily when we descended to the street again and saw the Giants of Finance hurrying by the door, ants no longer—but very energetic and immense factors in the scheme of existence, once more. He said it really did one good to get a perspective on ourselves and important from such a height. And for the first time in aeons, I agreed with him.

We had a merry lunch together and wound up by paying our respects to the Hall of Records—and the Aquarium. And finally landed home tired but highly enlightened by our day of investigation. I'd love to see Cecil's description of our financial district in one of those bulky letters that he is forever writing home, just the same. I bet he laughs at us up his sleeve in spite of all our wonderful sights and sounds. You can never tell just what he is thinking somehow or other, and that is a state of affairs most distressing to one of my frank nature.

Women Voters' League

Following Mrs. O. W. Gaar's discussion of the State Franchise League convention in Indianapolis last week, the local league at a meeting in the art gallery Saturday afternoon will take up the question of the formation of a Woman's League of Voters, and if favored the league will be immediately organized. It is also planned to discuss various political candidates. Several local women will speak in favor of the candidates they are backing.

ECZEMA IS ONLY SKIN DEEP

No internal medicine will cure Eczema. Only by the application of CRANOLENE, the great external remedy, can the eczema microbes be destroyed. Prove this statement for yourself at our expense. Science has discovered that the acid-like juice found under the skin of the common table crabber quickly destroys the tiny skin parasites that cause Eczema, and most other skin troubles. This mild acid has now been combined with soothing, cooling, healing oils. The result is Cranolene—an amazing skin remedy that stamps out the cause of skin diseases, heals the sores and restores the skin to natural health. Eczema, Dermatitis, Itch, and all other skin troubles. Sold in 8c and 25c jars, or direct by mail, postage paid.

Important—If your druggist cannot supply you, write direct to Cranolene Co., Girard, Pa., for free test treatment. Money Positively Returned if Not Satisfied. Sold and Guaranteed by all Druggists.

Gennett Records are more satisfactory because the material used to make them is smoother, consequently the surface noise (or scratching) is reduced to such an extent that the music alone is heard. If you have never tried these records (regardless of the make of machine you have) you are denying yourself of greater pleasure with your phonograph. We gladly demonstrate such records as you may desire to hear.

Blackheads are a confession

Blackheads are caused by excessive oil collecting dirt in the pores of the skin. Their presence is a confession that you are using the wrong method of cleansing for your type of skin.

To cleanse thoroughly skins liable to this disfiguring trouble, use the following special treatment. Apply hot cloths to the face until the skin is reddened. Then with a rough washcloth work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub it into the pores thoroughly, always with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with clear hot water, then with cold—the colder the better. If possible, rub your face for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Dry carefully.

To remove blackheads already formed, substitute a flesh brush for the washcloth in the treatment above. Then protect the fingers with a handkerchief and press out the blackheads.

Keep your skin free of blackheads by the above treatment and gain the clear attractive skin that the regular use of Woodbury's brings.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.
