

150 UNION COUNTY CORN GROWERS HEAR PROF. CHRISTIE TALK

By WILLIAM R. SANBORN
One hundred and fifty attended the meeting and banquet of the Union County Corn Growers at Liberty on Thursday night. Professor G. O. Christie was the speaker. He devoted his time to the broader questions effecting the farmer as a citizen, and to the need for national action in the helpful solution of what is not merely the farmer's problem, but the food and prosperity problem of our whole people.

"I don't think," he said, "it is possible that we can long continue doing business as we are today. The peak of the industrial and economic load may have been already reached and the turn in affairs he is sight."

"The biggest men in the country are preparing for it, and one of the best informed men in Washington said to me the other day, 'I fear that within the next three years we may have five millions of men looking for work.'

Interests Not Safeguarded.

"What have we done as a nation for the upbuilding of our agricultural interests in foreign lands? Practically nothing as a government. There isn't a man representing the American Bureau of Agriculture, in any city in Europe or South America, or at any port around the globe."

Mr. Christie stated that "when the farmers of America patriotically accepted $2.20 per bushel, wheat was selling at more than $3.00 in Chicago and flour at more than $17.00 per barrel. Because of this $2.20 price for wheat the country has been saved millions of dollars on its bread, and yet some narrow and thoughtless people have said that, while the men who went to the front needed no advance in pay to make them patriotic, the farmer had demanded a subsidy as price to make him increase his wheat acreage. This talk was a rank injustice to the farmer who has borne his full share of the load."

An enjoyable musical program enlivened the dinner, and for which much credit is due to Miss Kate Husted, soloist; Miss Charlotte Husted, pianist; Miss Mary Rebecca Pigman, violinist, and to Mr. Ralph Kitchell.

John McMahon presided, and the first speaker at the dinner, John A. Driscoll, an old member and a corn medalist, gave an interesting talk on the origin of the Corn Growers' association, which dates in Indiana from March 7, 1900.

Frank W. Boyle, who in 1919 raised 103 bushels to the acre, followed briefly. Of the 15 men entering the acre contest last year, 13 captured medals. Mr. Boyle and Roy Carson received gold medals for producing more than 100 bushels. "It is thought that 25 to 30 men will make the race this year," said county agent Nye, but the list is not yet complete.

There are 440 members of the federation in Union County, which has nearly 900 farmers. A campaign to make these all in will be made this coming fall.

Franklin and New Garden Farmers Purchase Stock

The subscription committees of Franklin and New Garden townships reported signatures for over $14,000 of the proposed elevator stock on Friday. The issue is expected to be at least $20,000, and there is to be a meeting of the farmers at Bethel next Monday evening, when a report on progress is to be made. The elevator is to be at Fountain City, central for both townships.

County Agent Murphy will speak at Bethel on Monday night, and outline

Sobbin' Saxophone Is Most Popular Music, Say Dealers

The jazz craze is given credit for the popularity which the saxophone is now enjoying. Local dealers say that they are receiving more orders for this instrument than any other small musical instrument.

One dealer placed the responsibility for the situation upon the humble ukulele. It was this sinuous instrument that first convinced amateurs that they could produce music of their own.

Orders have been placed with manufacturers for saxophones in lots of 20 and 30, but dealers are able to obtain only one or two instruments at a time.

The other small instruments, such as banjos, mandolins and guitars come in for their share of the lime-light, although they are unable to pry the sobbing saxophone from its se-cure place.

Vacation" of Switchmen Closes Cincinnati Plants

(By Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, April 16.—Cincinnati industry felt the first serious effect of the railroad switchmen's "vacation," when the Proctor and Gamble company suspended operations for lack of materials. Notices were posted at the factory notifying employees that operations would not resume this morning, and that the plant would be shut down until Monday, as all shipments had ceased. Hundreds of employees are affected by the order.

Cincinnati railroad officials refused to confer with a committee of the newly formed yardmen's association, which called to present demands for increased pay. They were informed that the companies could transact business with them only through the recognized unions.

SELLER HEADS GARDEN COMMITTEE FOR CITY

Will Reller was made chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for a general yard cleaning campaign to be followed by a garden making drive which two garden experts will conduct at the Social Service bureau meeting Thursday. Dates for the campaigns have not been set, but it is thought that the yard cleaning work will be started through the schools as soon as possible.

Every effort is to be made to make the school gardens of the city better than ever before this year. Other routine business was taken up.
