What Bonus Do You Consider Just? Stars and Stripes Asks Service Men

The Stars and Stripes has asked The Palladium to take a referendum vote on the bonus question for all ex-service men.

The Palladium presents here the opportunity for every ex-service man in Wayne county to register where and how he stands on the proposed government bonus legislation and what form of bonus, if any, he favors.

Every man and woman who served in the World war is asked to fill out one of the blanks and return to the office of the Palladium. The referendum votes will then be forwarded to the congressman from this district and a compilation of the results will be sent to the Stars and Stripes, Washington, D. C., to be included in a nation-wide tabulation being prepared by that newspaper.

Will you assist the Palladium in securing a complete vote on this question by telling other ex-service men and women about this vote and urging them to give us their votes and opinions on the matter?

Are you for or against a bonus? (Yes or No)..... If for, which do you prefer?

A Cash Bonus? Loan for home or farm?.....

Liberty Bonds? Free tuition or training?.....

Should the bonus be based on: Length of service?.....

Or

The Same for All?.....

What other choice would you include?.....

HOW TO JUDGE A WOMAN BY HER HAIR

There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good shampoo. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthrox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

Fesler for Governor

J. W. FESLER
An Able Republican

A Statement of Facts by His Neighbors

The story of the life of Will Fesler reveals an inspiring picture of the steady upward progress of a Hoosier, endowed with unusual ability, remarkable energy, courage and strength of character. He was born on an Indiana farm. He was educated in Indiana common schools. He worked his way through Indiana University. He obtained funds for his education, as an employee at the Union Stock Yards in Indianapolis. He received his early training in the law from those eminent lawyers and statesmen, Gen. Benjamin Harrison, W. H. Miller and John B. Elam. He began the practice of law in 1890, and in 1899 was admitted as a partner to the firm of Miller, Elam & Fesler. He joined the United States Navy at the age of 34 during the Spanish-American War, and was on the high sea when peace was declared. He became a member of the Board of Trustees of Indiana University in 1902, and for many years served as Vice-President, and now is President of the Board. He was elected President of the Indianapolis Bar Association in 1916. He has been a lifelong Republican, and in 1914 he was drafted to represent the Seventh Congressional District as a member of the Republican State Committee, and served with distinction in that capacity until he resigned to become a candidate for the office of Governor.

He has been forceful, aggressive and courageous as a lawyer and as a citizen, and has commanded and received the respect and confidence of all. His integrity has never been questioned throughout his strenuous life.

He has never been too busy with his own affairs to give time and attention to the full performance of his patriotic and civic duties. He is not the candidate of any official or faction of the Republican party.

His candidacy is the result of urgent appeals made by ourselves and many citizens in all walks of life, who believe that he is the one man in the State of Indiana who can best lead our party to success.

He stands for true Americanism. He stands for the Constitution and laws of the State. He stands for the fundamental institutions of our country. He stands for personal liberty without license, and the rights of property. He stands against every tendency to socialism, soviet government, or radicalism in any form.

He stands for the proposition that the primary duty of the Governor is to enforce the law, and that he should steadfastly decline to encroach upon the prerogatives of the State Legislature.

He believes that the present tax law of Indiana is fundamentally sound, but he stands against the usurpation of power on the part of the State Board of Tax Commissioners, under the guise of public necessity.

He believes that the taxpayer should have a right to be heard, and that such hearing should not depend upon the pleasure or the uncertain courtesy of the taxing official. He believes that the local officials and the taxpayers should have the right to determine their community's needs, and to provide for same without the unwarranted interference of the State Tax Board.

He believes that good roads are essential to the development of the State, and that the money spent should be used in construction, and not in salaries and overhead. He believes that the rural boy or girl is entitled to educational opportunities equal to that of the city teacher.

He believes that immediate steps should be taken to secure to the public school teachers of Indiana adequate salaries. He stands for a full, fair and equal participation in the affairs of government by the women. He stands for a comprehensive blue sky law. He stands for the gospel of patriotism as an antidote for unrest.

He stands for a World's War Memorial worthy of the State of Indiana and worthy of the great cause for which the American soldiers fought and now propose to live.

We Know Fesler

We, the neighbors of Will Fesler, state these facts as true, and we maintain that a man with this history and with these true principles will make a great Governor, who will live up to the best traditions of the State and party.

We know that his armor is flawless, and that his candidacy will never embarrass the Republican party, and will never call for explanations.

We assert that his character, his poise, his integrity, his courage and industry, and his knowledge of governmental affairs, make him the strongest candidate the Republicans of the State can possibly select.

We know that the urgent appeals growing out of the realization of the imperative need for an outstanding candidate who would assure Republican success at the coming election, caused Will Fesler to listen to the call of duty and become a candidate.

Therefore, in consideration of the tremendous personal sacrifice of Will Fesler in answering
