

RICHMOND PERSONS HONORED AT G. A. R. STATE ENCAMPMENT

Mrs. Nellie J. Myers, of Richmond, was elected member of the executive board of the Women's Relief Corps, an auxiliary to the G. A. R., at the closing session of the state encampment in Bloomington, Thursday. Mrs. Emma Schneider, of Richmond, was elected treasurer of the Ladies of the G. A. R.

R. J. Bosworth of Winchester, was elected a delegate to the national convention at Atlantic City, from the Sons of Veterans. Adella Phenix, of Richmond, was made treasurer of the Sons of Veterans organization.

Colonel Robert W. McBride of Indianapolis, was honored at the closing session by being elected department commander to succeed William F. Medsker of Cambridge City.

The new commander is one of the state's most prominent attorneys. He has served as judge of the circuit and supreme courts and was adjutant general under Commander Sommers. At present he is serving as attorney for the State Life Insurance company of Indianapolis.

In accepting the office, McBride said the honor made him far happier than if he had been elected president of the United States. Mr. Medsker, retiring commander, was presented with a large bouquet of cut flowers from his friends.

The Daughters of Veterans were honored by a visit from their national president, Mrs. Clara G. Yengling, of Cleveland, O., who addressed the meeting. The organization received as a present a beautiful silk flag from the Women's Relief Corps.

PURE CASCARA IS SPLENDID LAXATIVE; EFFICIENCY IS IMPROVED BY SENNA LEAVES

There is probably no better laxative known than pure Cascara, but cascara alone will not always relieve an aggravated case of constipation.

Another well-known remedy is senna leaves, which have been used from time immemorial to relieve a congested condition of the bowels, and never yet has anything been discovered to surpass their effects. But senna leaves alone, like cascara alone, will not always answer the problem. To get best results, senna leaves and cascara should be mixed. A little dose of each is like two small horses pulling together in the same direction, they always out-pull one large horse of equal weight.

To get right proportions of each ingredient requires a chemist's skill, but you can obtain cascara and senna tablets, already prepared, under the name of Pepsin Laxative tablets at any first class drug store.

When constipated, it is a good idea to take Pepsin tonic in connection with Pepsin Laxative tablets. The tablets keep the bowels open while the tonic acts as a general builder, furnishing strength through the liver, stomach and blood.

Sold by all good drug stores everywhere—Advertisement.

WASHINGTON

The secrets of Paris police methods, made famous in French detective stories, are revealed in "L'Apache," the latest Dorothy Dalton picture, which Thomas H. Ince produced for Paramount-Artcraft release. The picture, which is showing at the Washington theatre Friday and Saturday, involves the murder of a prodigal American millionaire in the French capital. Miss Dalton, who has the role of an Apache dancing girl, is suspected of the crime and imprisoned. The police investigation reveals an astonishing tale of deception and adventure that, it is said, will thrill audiences. The picture was directed by Joseph DeGrasse.

RICHMOND

"The frontier is capable of no finer compliment than this utter disregard of one's folded pages. It betokens that highest faith in ones fellow man; the belief that he should be measured by his present deeds, not by his past. It says, translated: 'This is God's free country where is a man, nothing more. Our land is new and pure, our faces are to the front. If you have been square, so much the better; if not, leave behind the taints of artificial things and start again on the level—that's all.' This paragraph gives you an idea of what you will see in 'The Spoilers' to be shown at the Richmond."

MURRAY

The power of hypnotism is shown with telling effect in "Black Shadows," acts comprising the new bill which the new William Fox photo-drama with Peggy Hyland in the stellar role, which opened yesterday at the Murray Theatre.

This is the fascinating story of a girl, who, with self-sacrifice, combats the sinister hypnotist and takes upon herself the blame for thefts to shield a girl friend. Sprightly Peggy Hyland puts the best of her rare histrionic ability into the acting of the rather serious role of a chaperon who saves from disgrace the family of the man she loves.

MURRETTE

Talk about fighting the H. C. of L.—and who isn't talking about it? Constance Binney, the newest star in the Realart constellation of film twinklers, does less talking and more fighting of that selfsame H. C. than most anybody you ever heard about. While some actresses with star honors and salaries brag about the money they spend, Miss Binney brags about the amount she saves by making most of her own hats. Just a yard of this, and a bunch of that, and a pinch of the other, and presto, the nimble fingers of that clever child have fashioned an honest-to-Gawd chapeau that she isn't ashamed to wear right out on the Avenue or the Ritz to tea or anywhere, so you can see for yourself that the Binney millinery is a real economy and not a press agent stunt.

See Miss Binney wear her much talked of hats in "The Stolen Kiss," based on the book, "Little Miss By-the-Day," by Lucille Van Slyke, which is now playing at Murrette Theatre.

DOROTHY DALTON in "L'APACHE"

By ADELE BUFFINGTON—SCENARIO BY R. CECIL SMITH—DIRECTED BY JOSEPH DE GRASSE—A THOMAS H. INCE PRODUCTION

THE LIGHTS OF PARIS HAD LURED HER TOO FAR.

In her reckless quest of pleasure she found it was but a step from the gay haunts of the Boulevards to the murk of the world of the Apaches. This man had shown her "life." Now he was proving how men like him treat women like her.

Apache love, Apache hate, and then the Apache dagger!

"Nothing unusual in this case," said the law. "Just a woman's revenge upon the man who wronged her." And the law was a thousand miles from the truth!

Don't miss Dorothy Dalton in this vivid, intimate story of the "other half" of Paris.
