CHICAGO, May 28.—Beer, light wines and prohibition will not be mentioned in the Republican national convention, if present plans of party leaders are carried out, it was learned here.

Directors of the party's policies have decided that the question has been settled and neither a "wet nor a dry" plank, nor indorsement of any modification of the present "bone dry" rule will be incorporated in the platform, according to Samuel A. Perkins, national committeeman from Washington.

The prohibition question and its possible effect on the forthcoming presidential campaign has been under consideration by party leaders for several months, it is known. The matter was discussed at national committee meetings here as far back as last January.

One member of the national committee who is here said the committeemen believed the "wets" to be in the minority, and that the country as a whole wished prohibition.
